'LONG NEGLECT MUST END'

Battle Begins On Ballot Bill

. . . LINES DRAWN IN SENATE

Washington (AP)—Urged by its leaders to end "a century of neglect" and to override both prejudice and politics, the Senate Thursday began debate on President Johnson's Negro voting rights bill.

Twelve Southern senators organized their forces to argue against the measure. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said they might try to keep the debate going for two months.

U.S. Must Have It

Twelve members of the Senate Judiciary Committee which sent the bill to the floor declared the nation must have "new, strong legislation to protect voting rights."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Congress must act to make sure that all Americans have a voice in their government.

"Bloody strife and a century of history have brought no solution to the problem," the Illinois senator said. "And now, 100 years to the month after civil strife came to an end, we seek a solution which overrides emotion and sentimentality, prejudice and politics and which will provide a fair and equitable solution."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., promptly challenged Dirksen. He charged the bill would condemn without trial the Deep South states it covers.

To Redeem Hopes

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the measure would "redeem the rekindled hope of millions of Americans.

"It is an answer to a century of neglect," Mansfield told the Senate, "neglect by the states of their responsibility to treat all citizens with equality and justice, neglect by the Congress of its responsibility to insist that this be done."

Broadened far beyond the terms Johnson first proposed, the Senate bill would authorize federal registration of voters in five Deep South states and parts of five others. In parts of the South, it would ban voting qualification tests and devices.

It also would outlaw the poll taxes required of voters participating in state and local elections in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Virginia. Dirksen wants that section dropped on grounds it is unconstitutional.

3 Dixie Shifts

Southern foes of the Johnson measure met for an hour, and set up three teams of senators to share the watch on the Senate floor.

"I don't know whether you can call it a filibuster or not," Ellender said, "but it is going to take a long time to explain what's in this bill . . . "It may take three weeks, it may take five weeks, it may take eight weeks."

Judiciary Committee men—Dirksen among them — took their stand in a statement filed with the Senate.

Because of Color

"We all recognize the necessity to eradicate once and for all the chronic system of racial discrimination which has for so long excluded so many citizens from the electorate because of the color of their skins . . ." the 12 committee members declared.

Three Southern committeemen already have advised the Senate that they consider the bill an unconstitutional violation of state powers to set voter qualifications.

Committee members who back the measure skirted, in their joint statement, the poll tax dispute. But 10 of them signed an additional statement insisting that Congress has the constitutional power to rule out poll taxes in state and local elections.

In Congress' Domain

They said the poll tax is "evil in its intent, discriminatory in its effect and fully within the power of Congress to remove. . ."

Mansfield did not deal with that question, either.

". . . I am confident the Senate as a whole shall thoughtfully consider the entire bill and especially the difficult problem of dealing with the poll tax," he said. "The bill we ultimately pass shall then be free of any possible ambiguity or constitutional doubt."

The Democratic leader would not say whether he thinks, as Dirksen does, that the poll tax ban would be unconstitutional.

UNCUT BILLS . . . seized by police in Lincoln.

Lincolnite Charged In Counterfeit Case

A young printer was charged with possession of counterfeit money Thursday after the Secret Service and Lincoln police uncovered what was described as probably the biggest single output of counterfeit money in Nebraska's history.

Larry Gene McGuire, 27 of 3401 Lewis, a night pressman at Boomer's Printing Co., 1514 N, was arrested at his home Wednesday night after Secret Service agents and local police acted on a tip from Lowell Boomer, company owner.

McGuire appeared before U. S. Commissioner C. M. Pierson at 8 Thursday morning and was charged with possession of counterfeit money.

Preliminary

In Omaha, U.S. Atty. Theodore Richling said the charge was a preliminary one.

McGuire waived a preliminary hearing and was committed to the custody of a U.S. marshal. Bond was set at $5,000.

He is being held in a federal prisoner's cell at the Lincoln city jail until the bond is met.

Assistant U S Atty Duane Nelson said that McGuire appeared calm at his appearance before the commissioner, but he asked about the seriousness of the charge.

Nelson said that a person convicted of the charge could be sentenced to a maximum of 15 years in prison, fined $5,000, or both.

The next step is for McGuire to choose between waiving indictment or having the case presented to a federal grand jury for possible indictment

If indictment by grand jury is waived, he will be arraigned before a U.S. district judge to enter his plea to the federal charges.

Package Spotted

According to Boomer a foreman in one of the departments at Boomer's plant spotted a package left by McGuire which contained negatives and plates for the counterfeit bills. The foreman alerted Boomer who contacted authorities.

Police are holding two cars belonging to McGuire, in which approximately $14,000 in counterfeit $10 bills were hidden. These bills were ready to be passed, according to the Secret Service. Another $15,000 to $20,000 in uncut bills was confiscated.

Richard A. Roth, agent in charge of the Omaha Secret Service office, said that the bogus bills were printed on several types of paper, mostly heavy typing paper. Some of the bills were printed, two to a sheet, on letterhead paper.

Roth said that the bills were imperfect, but not sufficiently so that the average person would have readily noticed. The biggest defect was a treasury seal that was reversed and printed in the wrong color ink.

Missouri Native

McGuire, a native of Bethany, Mo., was arrested in 1958 in connection with a burglary of a Lincoln theatre, according to police. Records at the State Penal Complex show that he served approximately 20 months of a two to five year sentence at the State Reformatory in connection with that burglary before being paroled.

McGuire, who is married but has no children, was employed at the Boomer plant for about six months.

New York Times To Raise Rates Of Sunday Issue

New York (AP)—The price of the New York Times Sunday edition will rise from 40 to 50 cents on May 2 in the area 50 miles beyond the city, a company spokesman said Thursday.

Ivan Veit, vice president in charge of promotion and circulation, cited rising costs, chiefly transportation and a new labor contract, as the reasons for the increase.

He said the 50-cent price is the same as that now in effect for areas beyond a 200-mile radius.

County Board Pay Hike Bill Advanced, 5-0

A bill increasing the salary of Lancaster County commissioners from $6,000 to $8,000 per year was approved 5-0 Thursday by the Legislature's Salaries and Claims Committee

As drawn, the measure, LB879, would have provided similar increases also for Douglas County commissioners, but the Douglss County provision was eliminated by amendment.

The measure drew no opposition at its hearing but there have been published reports that some Douglas County commissioners opposed the pay raise for themselves.

The bill was introduced by the committee.

Also sent to the floor 5-0 was LB878, a committee bill designed to provide some registration relief for tow trucks.

Keith Andresen of the Nebraska New Car Dealers Association said the Motor Vehicles Department on the advice of the attorney general has been requiring tow trucks to be registered at a weight which would cover also the weight of any disabled registered vehicle being towed.

LB878 would permit registration at the empty weight of the tow truck and permit towing of other registered vehicles without violating the weight limit.

Reaction Mixed On Budget Plan

The first—and major—appropriations package recommended by the Legislature's Budget Committee hit the floor Thursday and bumped into mixed reaction.

Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings described the package in philosophical terms as a typical budget reflecting "the uniform distribution of dissatisfaction."

UNWRAP FIRST BUDGET PLANS

See Pages 5, 6 and 7.

The big $192.4 million bill, labeled LB889, was accepted by the Legislature and bracketed on general file for one week awaiting printing.

One Dissenter

The measure reached the floor on a 7-1 committee decision, with Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha casting a dissenting vote. Batchelder said he will file a minority report.

Next to come will be the committee's recommendations for capital construction during the 1965-67 biennium.

A capital construction bill was advanced to the floor on a 6-1 vote late Thursday, and will be presented to the lawmakers Friday afternoon.

Tight Budget

The education-welfare-institutions package won plaudits from Budget Vice Chairman George Gerdes of Alliance as "a tight budget," but Batchelder suggested that it is "way too high."

Several senators thought the knife could be sharply applied to the recommendations. Others revealed that they are preparing amendments to increase appropriations for some programs, including instruction at the University of Nebraska.

Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver said he hopes the budget package "can be taken apart and reduced another $10 million" so the state property tax won't have to be increased.

'Cut This Budget'

"I think it is mandatory we cut this budget considerably," said Sen. Ira Paine of Grand Island. "I think we must cut the spending of some of these agencies, particularly the University of Nebraska and the Welfare Department."

The chairman of the Revenue Committee, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, said that if the Legislature goes along with the Budget Committee's requests, the state property tax will have to be increased at least two mills or the Legislature will have to adopt a broadened tax base.

Legislative Speaker Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud said there is a "big chance" the Legislature will not accept the budget committee's recommendations.

Extremely Erratic

"This legislature has been extremely erratic in the field of finance," said Sen. Bowen. "We've got to develop some kind of uniform policy on these budget increases."

Another Budget Committee member, Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, said she is preparing a statement on the budget recommendations for the University of Nebraska. She thinks the university should receive more money.

Officials Non-Commital On Recommended Cuts

State department heads and the University of Nebraska officials were largely non-committal on the Budget Committee's recommendations for 1965-67 spending for education and welfare.

Detailed comment was withheld until the various departments could study committee-recommended figures which were less than requested.

Dr. Floyd Miller, head of the Department of Education, said he would be "reluctant" to comment on the Budget Committee's recommendations until he has had an opportunity to see the breakdown of figures.

Necessary

Regarding cuts in most areas, he said the department had felt its proposed budget was necessary to do the job "we should do."

He said the committee's $538,662 cut in special education school aid would undoubtedly result in a shortage again.

"Our predictions last year were accurate and we were short funds, so I feel confident this cut will result in a shortage again," he said.

Analyze Figures

State Colleges Coordinator F. B. Decker said he would "defer comment" on the committee's recommendations "until we can anlayze the figures."

The $14.9 million recommended for the four state colleges at Peru, Wayne, Kearney and Chadron was $3.7 million under requested but $4 million over last biennium.

Dr. Decker said he felt "the budget submitted for the colleges was very realistic."

Comparatively Small

On the recommended $41.7 million budget for the state institutions, State Institutions Director George Morris said, "The committee-recommended increases over last biennium's appropriations are comparatively small."

"We can't tell at this time how far it will go until we study the figures," he added.

"We will do as much as we can with the money the Legislature gives us, and then shut off the services at that point."

The committee-recommended $41.7 million was $8.4 million under the department's requests and $1.2 million under the governor's recommendation.

Substantially Met

State Welfare Director John Gage said, "It sounds as if our request was substantially met."

He noted that he felt his department had justified its needs to the committee and the committee had recognized that these needs must be met in order to carry out the functions of the welfare department.

While substantial cuts were made for the Home for Children, Gage said he was not prepared to coment until he had studied the details.

Vice Chancellor A. C. Breckinridge said he had no comment to make on the budget recommendations for the University by the Legislative Budget Committee.

"Until the data has been analyzed and presented to the Board of Regents, I have no comment to make," he said.

Out Of Town

Chancellor Clifford Hardin, out of town for a conference in Detroit, Mich., was not available for comment.

Gov. Frank Morrison, due back at his desk Friday from the same conference in Detroit, is expected to comment on the Budget Committee's recommendations after he has had an opportunity to examine them.

According to his administrative assistant, Gene Budig, Gov. Morrison has been informed briefly of the recommendations of the committee, but will want to examine them carefully before making any comment

Bill Creating State Rights Body Held

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A bill creating a state civil rights commission was held by the Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee after the measure met stiff opposition in public hearing Thursday.

Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha, chief introducer of LB660, said the commission and its scope is patterned after 1964 federal legislation.

Under the measure, the seven-member commission with a full-time director and an assigned assistant attorney general would appraise state laws and policy for discrimination, investigate complaints from individuals regarding discrimination because of race, color or religion, and have capacity to seek injunctive relief in courts against discriminatory practices.

'A Monstrosity'

Lester H. Anderson of Lincoln, a former state senator, called the measure "a monstrosity."

"I'm not against civil rights, but how many commissions do we need," he said. "Everytime we get a little problem, someone wants a commission. Once you create one, you can never get rid of it."

Also opposing the bill was the Associated Industries of Nebraska.

Lewis E. Harris of Lincoln, its spokesman, said two bills for fair housing and employment practices are under consideration and LB660 would be a duplication.

"It would create a commission with dangerously broad powers and with no opportunity for (judicial) appeal," he said.

Powers Rapped

Butler Shaffer, attorney for the Midwest Employers Council, rapped the broad powers of the proposed commission and urged the state not create a labyrinth of commissions like the federal government.

He said there are sufficient governmental and private agencies under which an aggrieved individual can seek help under existing and proposed laws.

Sen. Danner requested the committee hold his bill pending outcome of LB656, proposing a state fair employment practices act which would also create a commission.

"All the state civil rights legislation being proposed is to implement at the state level what Congress has said should be the law," he said. "Omaha is the state ghetto for the Negroes in Nebraska. All we want are laws so people will feel free to go wherever they can qualify."

Must Give Notice

In other action, the committee advanced LB632 after amending the measure to provide that a proposed sanitary improvement district must give notice to a primary city if it would be located in or partially in the city's three-mile zoning limit.

Also amended and advanced was LB609, designating the Kennard House at 1629 H as the Nebraska Statehood Memorial and authorizing its restoration by the State Historical Society on the basis of 50% state and 50% local funds. Estimated restoration cost is $110,000.

Council Limits Outlying Districts To 3 Liquor And 3 Beer Licenses

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council has decided to allow no more than three package liquor licenses and three off-sale beer licenses to operate in each of the eight approved outlying commercial centers.

Meeting in an informal session Thursday afternoon, the council unofficially approved the limitation and redefined the No. 27th area to include only that portion of 27th between the north side of Vine to the south side of Holdrege.

Council members said that the decision to limit the number of licenses in a given area is an effort to work out a reasonable policy that will be sustained by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission and the courts, while at the same time allowing the council some measure of control over the liquor and beer situation.

Advisory Only

Council action on transfers of existing licenses or change of ownership of licenses is advisory only. Licensing of liquor and beer dealers is regulated by the state.

Mrs. Arlyss Brown of the city legal department told the council that she felt the proposed three and three limitation had a good chance of being sustained by the courts citing a Nebraska Supreme Court decision upholding a limitation on the total number of licenses available in one city.

Councilman John Mason said that Thursday's decision to amend the current liquor policy resolution will be presented at public hearing and for official council approval possibly by Monday.

Mason, the only council member to vote against the three and three limitation, said he favors no limitations, allowing supply and demand to solve any problems.

A move to set a policy allowing any number of existing licenses to move into any of the approved areas died on a 3-3 tie vote.

Reasonable Limit

The consensus of the council expressed by most members, was to attempt to set a reasonable limit, disregarding the size of the commercial area, its stage of development or the size of the trade area it serves.

The eight approved areas, not including downtown, and the number of package liquor and off-sale beer licenses already located or approved to locate there are:

— West O from the US 6 intersection to Burlington Ave.: one beer license

— Havelock, between 60th and 65th: three beer (including two accompanying on-sale licenses), two liquor.

— South St., 10th to 17th, one beer, two liquor. One beer license under consideration

— No. 27th, Vine to Holdrege, one beer, one liquor under consideration.

— High St., 10th to 14th, between High and Calvert, one beer, no liquor.

— Gateway in the vicinity of Cotner and O between 56th and 63rd, one beer, one liquor

— No. 48th, O to Vine, and O, 46th to 56th, one beer, two liquor. One beer under consideration

— Cornhusker Highway, all area within the city limits, zoned H-2 highway commercial extending from 11th to 73rd: five beer (all with on-sale licenses also), no liquor

The council said that the limits would not apply to Cornhusker Highway licensees having a license issued under the Nebraska Liquor Control Act so long as the license remains at its present location and under its present ownership

. . . LINES DRAWN IN SENATE

Washington (AP)—Urged by its leaders to end "a century of neglect" and to override both prejudice and politics, the Senate Thursday began debate on President Johnson's Negro voting rights bill.

Twelve Southern senators organized their forces to argue against the measure. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said they might try to keep the debate going for two months.

U.S. Must Have It

Twelve members of the Senate Judiciary Committee which sent the bill to the floor declared the nation must have "new, strong legislation to protect voting rights."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Congress must act to make sure that all Americans have a voice in their government.

"Bloody strife and a century of history have brought no solution to the problem," the Illinois senator said. "And now, 100 years to the month after civil strife came to an end, we seek a solution which overrides emotion and sentimentality, prejudice and politics and which will provide a fair and equitable solution."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., promptly challenged Dirksen. He charged the bill would condemn without trial the Deep South states it covers.

To Redeem Hopes

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the measure would "redeem the rekindled hope of millions of Americans.

"It is an answer to a century of neglect," Mansfield told the Senate, "neglect by the states of their responsibility to treat all citizens with equality and justice, neglect by the Congress of its responsibility to insist that this be done."

Broadened far beyond the terms Johnson first proposed, the Senate bill would authorize federal registration of voters in five Deep South states and parts of five others. In parts of the South, it would ban voting qualification tests and devices.

It also would outlaw the poll taxes required of voters participating in state and local elections in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Virginia. Dirksen wants that section dropped on grounds it is unconstitutional.

3 Dixie Shifts

Southern foes of the Johnson measure met for an hour, and set up three teams of senators to share the watch on the Senate floor.

"I don't know whether you can call it a filibuster or not," Ellender said, "but it is going to take a long time to explain what's in this bill . . .

"It may take three weeks, it may take five weeks, it may take eight weeks."

Judiciary Committee men—Dirksen among them — took their stand in a statement filed with the Senate.

Because of Color

"We all recognize the necessity to eradicate once and for all the chronic system of racial discrimination which has for so long excluded so many citizens from the electorate because of the color of their skins . . ." the 12 committee members declared.

Three Southern committeemen already have advised the Senate that they consider the bill an unconstitutional violation of state powers to set voter qualifications.

Committee members who back the measure skirted, in their joint statement, the poll tax dispute. But 10 of them signed an additional statement insisting that Congress has the constitutional power to rule out poll taxes in state and local elections.

In Congress' Domain

They said the poll tax is "evil in its intent, discriminatory in its effect and fully within the power of Congress to remove. . ."

Mansfield did not deal with that question, either.

". . . I am confident the Senate as a whole shall thoughtfully consider the entire bill and especially the difficult problem of dealing with the poll tax," he said. "The bill we ultimately pass shall then be free of any possible ambiguity or constitutional doubt."

The Democratic leader would not say whether he thinks, as Dirksen does, that the poll tax ban would be unconstitutional.

Council Limits Outlying Districts To 3 Liquor And 3 Beer Licenses

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council has decided to allow no more than three package liquor licenses and three off-sale beer licenses to operate in each of the eight approved outlying commercial centers.

Meeting in an informal session Thursday afternoon, the council unofficially approved the limitation and redefined the No. 27th area to include only that portion of 27th between the north side of Vine to the south side of Holdrege.

Council members said that the decision to limit the number of licenses in a given area is an effort to work out a reasonable policy that will be sustained by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission and the courts, while at the same time allowing the council some measure of control over the liquor and beer situation.

Advisory Only

Council action on transfers of existing licenses or change of ownership of licenses is advisory only. Licensing of liquor and beer dealers is regulated by the state.

Mrs. Arlyss Brown of the city legal department told the council that she felt the proposed three and three limitation had a good chance of being sustained by the courts, citing a Nebraska Supreme Court decision upholding a limitation on the total number of licenses available in one city.

Councilman John Mason said that Thursday's decision to amend the current liquor policy resolution will be presented at public hearing and for official council approval possibly by Monday.

Mason, the only council member to vote against the three and three limitation, said he favors no limitations, allowing supply and demand to solve any problems.

A move to set a policy allowing any number of existing licenses to move into any of the approved areas died on a 3-3 tie vote.

Reasonable Limit

The consensus of the council, expressed by most members, was to attempt to set a reasonable limit, disregarding the size of the commercial area, its stage of development or the size of the trade area it serves.

The eight approved areas, not including downtown, and the number of package liquor and off-sale beer licenses already located or approved to locate there are:

— West O from the U.S. 6 intersection to Burlington Ave.; one beer license.
— Havelock, between 60th and 65th; three beer (including two accompanying on-sale licenses), two liquor.
— South St., 10th to 17th; one beer, two liquor. One beer license under consideration.
— No. 27th, Vine to Holdrege; one beer, one liquor under consideration.
— High St., 10th to 14th, between High and Calvert; one beer, no liquor.
— Gateway, in the vicinity of Cotner and O, between 56th and 63rd; one beer, one liquor.
—No. 48th, O to Vine, and O, 46th to 56th; one beer, two liquor. One beer under consideration.
— Cornhusker Highway, all area within the city limits, zoned H-2 highway commercial extending from 14th to 73rd; five beer (all with on-sale licenses also), no liquor.

The council said that the limits would not apply to Cornhusker Highway licensees having a license issued under the Nebraska Liquor Control Act so long as the license remains at its present location and under its present ownership.

Flowers Hits Gov. Wallace

WANTS JOINT PROBE OF KLAN, 'WORSE THAN GESTAPO, REDS'

Tuscaloosa, Ala. (UPI)— Alabama Atty Gen Richmond Flowers denounced Gov. George C Wallace's leadership in racial affairs Thursday and challenged Wallace to join him in a "full scale" investigation of the Ku Klux Klan

"We must face the fact that Alabama leadership and Alabama's defiant attitude is painting us into a corner." Flowers told a Civic Club luncheon in this west Alabama town where Robert Shelton, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, makes his home.

Flowers an old political foe of Wallace told the gathering

'If you will just look about you and examine the actions of the leadership of Georgia the leadership of Mississippi. the leadership of Arkansas . . . the leadership of every state in this nation except our own, you must decide that everybody else in this country is wrong and we are right. and all you have to do is to hate long enough and hate hard enough and all this will disappear and we will return to the days of complete segregation that our Southland once knew."

'Sheer Demagoguery'

The attorney general accused Wallace of "sheer demagoguery" in dealing with the state's racial problems

He said that "halting the initial (civil rights) march from Selma to Montgomery on a Sunday afternoon with tear gas and clubs not only caused the most unnecessary and abortive debacle our state has ever experienced, but assured the immediate passage of a strong voter rights bill in Congress.

". . . The governor's stand in the school house door at the University of Alabama was sheer demagoguery and accomplished nothing. and ringing Tuskegee High School with state troopers achieved nothing except the closing of every white school in the entire county." Flowers said

Declaring he was a strong Southern segregationist" he also lashed out at Dr Martin Luther King Jr

Barbs

Flowers said the Klan 'would have you believe that the federal government is some monster that would destroy you and me just because we desire segregation

'This group would ask us to accept lawlessness as justification for our dislike of Martin Luther King and what he stands for

"This group would ride in the darkness of night and bomb and shoot and kill in the good name of the 'Old South.'

'. . . Nothing in the Gestapo under Hitler nothing behind the Iron Curtain of communism was, or is. as ruthless as the secret meetings and night rides of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama" Flowers said.

Mile-Long Dubuque Commercial Area Flooded

Dubuque. Iowa (AP)—Flood water of the rampaging Mississippi River, far out of banks along a 400-mile stretch, posed new threats today to communities in a four-state area

With approaching crests still one or more days away, the river's wildly churning waters pounded near the tops of makeshift dikes from Prairie du Chien, Wis., to Louisiana, Mo.

In Washington, President Johnson designated Iowa a disaster area eligible for federal aid, the third state so defined as a result of Mississippi River flooding. The others are Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Tons Poured In

The presidential action came as volunteers manning improvised dikes in Dubuque, a city of 57.000, poured tons of dirt into a break that threatened to inundate a residential area in the city's northwestern section A mile-long section of Dubuque's business and industrial area along the river already is flooded

Across the river from Dubuque, National Guardsmen and volunteers reinforced dikes protecting East Dubuque, Ill., where more than 700 residents already have been evacuated to higher ground.

Cresting of the Mississippi at Dubuque and East Dubuque is expected late Saturday.

Upstream at Prairie du Chien. Wis.. where the crest was expected earlier, the river was rising rapidly, and the city's more than 5 000 residents were prepared for the worst.

Farther north, the Mississippi remained at a crest of 17.7 feet at La Crosse, Wis., 7.7 feet above flood stage, and was expected to hold there through Saturday before receding. Officials said they were confident the city's bolstered dikes would hold.

Along the river in Missouri thousands of acres of farmland from Hannibal to Louisiana were under water as the river continued to climb

The peak of the flood, however, is not expected in Missouri for another week.

Steel Strike Sanctioned

Pittsburgh (AP)—Warning "no contract--no work," the United Steelworkers Union Thursday sanctioned a strike against the steel industry unless an agreement can be reached by May 1.

Steelworkers absolutely will refuse to work beyond May 1 without a contract boost of 17.9 cents an hour, said USW President David J. McDonald. He said the union is willing to continue talks.

Federal mediator William E. Simkin, who has been in town the past few days trying to work out a peaceful settlement immediately scheduled separate meetings with both sides Friday.

425,000 Workers

The union directed its locals to start preparation for a shutdown. If a walkout comes, it would idle 425,000 workers. The union last struck in 1959 for 116 days.

Strike sanction was voted unanimously by the union's rank-and-file wage policy committee, acting on a recommendation by the executive board.

The committee issued a policy statement saying steel profits are high and steelworkers deserve part of them

"Production reached record levels in 1964 and is continuing at that level in 1965," the statement said.

'Profits Up Steadily'

"Profits have been steadily moving upward. In 1964 they showed a gain of 25% over 1963 and a gain of 75% over 1962 Profits in 1965 are even higher"

At the same time, "industry figures . . . show that it took only 13.3 man-hours to produce a ton of finished steel in 1964 compared to 15.6 man-hours in 1961, a rise in productivity of 5.4 per year," the statement added.

The committee said 11 major steel producers have offered a contract improvement of only two per cent, equal to about 5 cents an hour

No negotiations were held Thursday None has been scheduled for the immediate future

States' Future To Be Scrutinized

Washington (UPI) — State and local governments are growing and their growth has posed the question of their future roles within the federal system

Just what the future does hold for the statehouses will be the subject of a $280,000 study sponsored by two foundations. It will look into the demands for new services and the resistance to new taxes

Another project announced by the Ford Motor Co's civic affairs division calls for recruiting spokesmen for private groups in a citizens conference on state legislatures'

Pay Hike Booster

It will try to promote public support for more pay and better tools for state legislators Its preliminary steering committee explains

'Today state and local government is feeling the pressure of population growth and the demand for increased services Like the federal government, it is big government It employs six million people and budgets over $70 billion a year and has been growing faster than the federal government

"We cannot permit an understandable preoccupation with nuclear age international affairs and national domestic policy to detract from citizen attention to state and local government"

According to this approach improvement in state and local government calls first for improving the performance of the legislatures In many cases this may mean higher salaries office space staff help and other services for the members

Former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina will direct the project to study the future role of the states from a headquarters at Duke University. The Ford Foundation offered a grant of $215,000 for this study, and the Carnegie Foundation added $65,000.

A strong central government is a necessity in this troubled world" Sanford said Rather I believe we should try to strengthen the states I do not believe in cloaking inactivity insensitivity or injustice in the tattered blanket of states' rights' Rather I believe the states should accept the responsibilities of broader service"

Little Criticism

The Ford Foundation said state governments had received little critical attention

"The tendency has been to dismiss them as being obsolete and unmanageable and to seek solutions to our problems at the national level," it said

However nobody has suggested that we do away with state governments and even a casual look shows that they play a role in almost every aspect of our lives"

Boxcar Shortage Worst Ever In State's History

. . . Senate Subcommittee Informed At Hearing

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha—A Senate Subcommittee taking testimony on the freight car shortage were informed here Thursday that the critical lack of boxcars in Nebraska is the worst it has been in the history of the state.

Grain spokesmen reported that railroads have not been able to supply 50% of the needs for boxcars over the past three years.

Clarence Jacobson, president of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Association, told subcommittee member Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., that the firm he represents, Morrison and Quirk of Hastings, had orders for 2,300 carloads of wheat export last fall and that presently seven months later one-third of this grain is still unshipped

Gordon Ganka, director of transportation Lincoln Grain, Inc., warned that unless a solution is found to the boxcar shortage it will destroy the grain industry in Nebraska and have an adverse effect upon the economic growth of the state.

Ganka echoed the testimony of many grainmen attending the subcommittee hearing when he said, "We are no better than the railroad that serves our industry, if the railroad is not supplied with empty boxcars and we cannot move grain from our facilities, we are out of business."

Ganka related the following average performance of the carriers serving Lincoln Grain, Inc. 22 million bushel storage in Lincoln:

"We show 37.3% of our need for empty boxcars furnished during the last three months of 1963, for 1964 the carrier's performance showed 40.6% of our need, and for the first three months in 1965 the carriers performance shows 24.7% of our needs were supplied."

H. C. Van Houten, general manager of the Lincoln Grain Exchange, testified that during the first three months of 1964 6,394 cars of grain were loaded out of Lincoln, while the corresponding period in 1965 has recorded only 2,899 cars loaded.

"The inability of the Lincoln market to secure boxcars for loading out Commodity Credit Corporation grain, has caused the CCC to bypass the Lincoln market on inbound shipments," said Van Houten.

Senator Pearson in his opening statement told grainmen the total number of freight cars in the nation has fallen by 200,000 or a loss of 11% since 1956.

"The nation's shippers have lost four million tons in freight car capacity during the past nine years, while the nation's output has increased by 30%," said Pearson.

He warned that if a national emergency should strike a serious condition would confront the transportation of materials in view of the current situation.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., who has a measure before the Senate designed to relieve the boxcar shortage, repeatedly pointed out that with grainmen forced to pile grain on the ground, and to lock their doors because they couldn't move their product it meant the loss was being transfered to the farmer who produced the grain and many people lost because of the boxcar situation.

Aldo A. Holtmeier, traffic manager for Crete Mills, said, "When a boxcar returns empty, it is usually in such a sad shape that repairs are needed before another load is put in the boxcar."

Strong support by those testifying was given to the support of S-1098, which is co-sponsored by 34 senators, that would increase the per diem rental rates on the use of freight cars which would encourage railroads to build cars rather than renting them, or to return them to origin at an earlier date.

Different proposals were made to solve the problem spokesmen termed "deplorable" with such suggestions as:

—Allow a fast write-off or depreciation on tax schedules to spur boxcar building.

—Establish an effective agency under ICC control to keep an eye on transportation with unrestricted authority to exert immediate distribution orders to prevent boxcar shortage.

—Direct the Commodity Credit Corporation to regulate shipments of grain in storage to off-peak shipping periods.

Plant Trying To Cover Up Its Mistakes

. . . Union Charges

Omaha (AP)—A union spokesman charged Thursday that the Cudahy Packing Company is attempting to cover up managerial mistakes and inadequacies in the operation of its Omaha plant by making charges against the employes.

This comment came from Anton Armenta, president of local 60 of the Union Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers, after Edward Cudahy, 3rd, president and chairman of the board of the meat packing firm, announced the board had authorized him to close the Omaha plant if lower labor costs cannot be negotiated with the union. Cudahy said the company is seeking greater productivity without lowering wage rates or benefits.

Cudahy said the highly automated Omaha plant has lost money almost since the day it opened in October, 1961. The plant has been idled since April 7 in a dispute which stemmed from a plant-wide efficiency program.

Subsequently the company, terming the work stoppage an illegal strike, discharged most of the workers represented by the union.

Armenta said that since 1961 employment in Omaha has been cut "by at least 400 people, many of them by agreement with the union."

He declared the union is "prepared to talk and negotiate with the company on any question that either party wishes to talk about without any conditions or reservations of any kind."

Tractor Mishap Claims Life Of Lincoln Child, 6

Surviving in addition to his parents and grandparents are two sisters, Sheri and Shelley; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Powell of Weissert, and three great grandparents.

Detroiters Hear Talk By Morrison

Detroit (AP) — Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison told a group of Michigan businessmen Thursday his state is attractive to industry because it has a government that is limited and people who believe in a hard day's work.

Morrison made his remarks at a "NEBRASKAland" luncheon attended by some 70 business executives from Michigan and a Nebraska delegation of about the same number.

The governor's brief speech was aimed at selling Nebraska as a place where the business climate should appeal to most industries seeking a place to expand or build new plants.

Among the Cornhusker State's attractions, Morrison said, is the fact that it has less government than most other states and a cooperative, work-willing labor force

Morrison said he had invited Michigan Gov. George Romney to visit Nebraska, but Romeny declined, writing that since Morrison was coming to Detroit to "steal some of our industry, I'm going to Europe to get some business to fill the gap," Morrison told the group.

Romney left Michigan Thursday, heading a contingent of Michigan businessmen on a 10-day tour of a half-dozen countries.

Morrison told a reporter the Nebraska delegation was not on a "pillaging" mission to get Michigan industries to move farther west but to interest them in expanding into Nebraska.

Cairo (AP)—An African labor ministers conference called for Cairo April 26 by the Egyptian labor ministry has been transferred to Geneva and postponed until May 31.

2 Civil Rights Resolutions Adopted

McCook (AP)—The Nebraska Conference of the United Church of Christ concluded its 109th annual meeting Thursday noon after adoption of two civil rights resolutions and one opposing extension of school bus transportation to private and parochial schools.

One resolution called for enactment by the state legislature of fair housing legislation as proposed by the governor's commission on human rights

The second urged churches in the conference "to take every available step to place several Negro clergy families in our conference."

A third resolution supported the Nebraska Council of Churches "in its stand against (LB382) school bus transportation to any elementary and secondary school."

LB382 calls for a submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment which would permit public school bus transportation to be provided to parochial and private school children.

Mrs. Stafford J. Flowers Jr., Omaha, was named moderator for the 1965-1966 term Other officers Hugh Wilkins, Geneva, assistant moderator; the Rev. Verne A. Spindell, Lincoln, secretary; Laurence T Tyler, Lincoln, treasurer; and Mrs Warren C. Johnson, Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors

The Rev. Francis E. Turpin, Cambridge, was named to the commission on church in town and country and Charles Wright of McCook was named to the commission on lay life and work

Boxcar Shortage Worst Ever In State's History

. . . Senate Subcommittee Informed At Hearing

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha—A Senate Subcommittee taking testimony on the freight car shortage were informed here Thursday that the critical lack of boxcars in Nebraska is the worst it has been in the history of the state.

Grain spokesmen reported that railroads have not been able to supply 50% of the needs for boxcars over the past three years.

Clarence Jacobson, president of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Association, told subcommittee member Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., that the firm he represents, Morrison and Quirk of Hastings, had orders for 2,300 carloads of wheat export last fall and that presently seven months later one-third of this grain is still unshipped.

Gordon Ganka, director of transportation Lincoln Grain, Inc., warned that unless a solution is found to the boxcar shortage it will destroy the grain industry in Nebraska and have an adverse effect upon the economic growth of the state.

Ganka echoed the testimony of many grainmen attending the subcommittee hearing when he said, "We are no better than the railroad that serves our industry, if the railroad is not supplied with empty boxcars and we cannot move grain from our facilities, we are out of business."

Ganka related the following average performance of the carriers serving Lincoln Grain, Inc. 22 million bushel storage in Lincoln:

"We show 37.3% of our need for empty boxcars furnished during the last three months of 1963, for 1964 the carrier's performance showed 40.6% of our need, and for the first three months in 1965 the carriers performance shows 24.7% of our needs were supplied."

H. C. Van Houten, general manager of the Lincoln Grain Exchange, testified that during the first three months of 1964 6,394 cars of grain were loaded out of Lincoln, while the corresponding period in 1965 has recorded only 2,899 cars loaded.

"The inability of the Lincoln market to secure boxcars for loading out Commodity Credit Corporation grain, has caused the CCC to bypass the Lincoln market on inbound shipments," said Van Houten.

Senator Pearson in his opening statement told grainmen the total number of freight cars in the nation has fallen by 200,000 or a loss of 11% since 1956.

"The nation's shippers have lost four million tons in freight car capacity during the past nine years, while the nation's output has increased by 30%," said Pearson.

He warned that if a national emergency should strike a serious condition would confront the transportation of materials in view of the current situation.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., who has a measure before the Senate designed to relieve the boxcar shortage, repeatedly pointed out that with grainmen forced to pile grain on the ground, and to lock their doors because they couldn't move their product it meant the loss was being transfered to the farmer who produced the grain and many people lost because of the boxcar situation.

Aldo A. Holtmeier, traffic manager for Crete Mills, said, "When a boxcar returns empty, it is usually in such a sad shape that repairs are needed before another load is put in the boxcar."

Strong support by those testifying was given to the support of S-1098, which is cosponsored by 34 senators, that would increase the per diem rental rates on the use of freight cars which would encourage railroads to build cars rather than renting them, or to return them to origin at an earlier date.

Different proposals were made to solve the problem spokesmen termed "deplorable" with such suggestions as:

—Allow a fast write-off or depreciation on tax schedules to spur boxcar building.

—Establish an effective agency under ICC control to keep an eye on transportation with unrestricted authority to exert immediate distribution orders to prevent boxcar shortage.

—Direct the Commodity Credit Corporation to regulate shipments of grain in storage to off-peak shipping periods.

Cairo (AP)—An African labor ministers conference called for Cairo April 26 by the Egyptian labor ministry has been transferred to Geneva and postponed until May 31.

2 Civil Rights Resolutions Adopted

McCook (AP)—The Nebraska Conference of the United Church of Christ concluded its 109th annual meeting Thursday noon after adoption of two civil rights resolutions and one opposing extension of school bus transportation to private and parochial schools.

One resolution called for enactment by the state legislature of fair housing legislation as proposed by the governor's commission on human rights.

The second urged churches in the conference "to take every available step to place several Negro clergy families in our conference."

A third resolution supported the Nebraska Council of Churches "in its stand against (LB382) school bus transportation to any elementary and secondary school."

LB382 calls for a submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment which would permit public school bus transportation to be provided to parochial and private school children.

Mrs. Stafford J. Flowers Jr., Omaha, was named moderator for the 1965-1966 term. Other officers: Hugh Wilkins, Geneva, assistant moderator; the Rev. Verne A. Spindell, Lincoln, secretary; Laurence T. Tyler, Lincoln, treasurer; and Mrs. Warren C. Johnson, Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors.

The Rev. Francis E. Turpin, Cambridge, was named to the commission on church in town and country; and Charles Wright of McCook was named to the commission on lay life and work.

Western CPPD Manager Dies

Scottsbluff (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the First Christian Church for C. E. A. Johnson, 64, western district manager for Consumers Public Power District.

Mr. Johnson began a 47-year career in the power field in 1918 at Newman Grove and was at Beatrice in 1928-46 as assistant district manager for the old Nebraska Gas and Electric Co. and for its successor, the Consumers Public Power District.

He was transferred by Consumers in late 1947 as Scottsbluff local manager, then was district manager at O'Neill in 1952-55 before returning to Scottsbluff as western district chief.

This is Agrico 1-2-3.

Questions Of Need

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Not much public argument will be heard on action taken by the Public Works Committee of the Legislature in regard to a proposed bill requiring photographs on drivers licenses. The committee held its hearing and held the bill, for final disposition at a later date. On this measure, it is hard to work up much enthusiasm, despite the testimony in favor of it

It was supported as a law-enforcement tool and as an aid to businesses where identification of the customer is important. For those purposes, the measure would undoubtedly have some benefit but we seem to be getting along quite nicely as things now are. To place photos on licenses would add thousands of dollars to the cost of state government and make car ownership just that much more of a burden. Sen. Terry Carpenter, who sponsored the photo bill, has argued against a tax appropriation for the Centennial Commission.

Sponsored By Terry

When it comes to money, Carpenter argued, the Centennial Commission ought to come last. Other things, he said, are greatly more important. Maybe some people wouldn't argue much about that, either, but if the choice were between the centennial and the license photos, we would much prefer the centennial.

The issue would seem to get down to every individual's own sense of values. Private business and individuals, as well as government, often face this question of values. The Lincoln city government, for instance, sometimes faces it with great difficulty in the matter of special assessments.

Specials are utility items—paving, water, sewer and ornamental lighting. These things have been a headache to government ever since they became a part of modern community development. They are things to which the average individual doesn't give much thought—if he has them. If he doesn't have them, they can be matters of considerable thought. They can become a headache when the time comes for their installation. The big problem with city installation of utilities is that there are often times when some of the people in an area to be served do not want the service. They might not want it for a number of reasons.

If it is sewers you are talking about, some people might have their own septic tanks. If it is water, some people might have their own deep wells. If it is paving, they might have what they think is an adequate gravel road. If it is lights, they just might not think they need any. Or, they might not want to make the investment required by utilities. They could have a wide variety of reasons. The problem comes when a single area is mixed with people asking for these utility services and people opposing them. On paving, the city has a pretty simple guideline. If more than 50 percent of the property owners involved want paving, it goes in under a majority rule and with everybody in the district sharing the cost according to benefit. For the fellow who thought the gravel was good enough, it is just tough luck.

For water, sewers and ornamental lighting, the situation is different. In these cases, the majority rule principle is not applied, at least not in any absolute or routine fashion. Also, in these utilities, the city has always recognized the value of existing utility service, something not done in the case of gravel roads.

Thus, if you have a septic tank, the city has considered that you don't benefit from a new sewer line in the same way as other property along the line which has no means at all of sewage disposal. The same thing applies if you have your own water well.

On the other hand, the city does not like to let a few property owners with their own services hold up modern development of large sections of the city, which they could do if they were permitted to block all community improvement efforts. So, the city is considering a system of deferred assessments in these cases. Under that plan, water and sewer lines could go in and property owners not pay for them until they hooked onto them. This, however, isn't as easy as it might seem, either. The city issues 20-year bonds to pay for these services and pays the bonds off out of property owner assessment payments. Bond issues, where there are heavy deferred assessments, can get pretty sticky.

Assessments Deferred

Also, deferred assessments require a lot of bookkeeping and constant record checking on the part of many city officials as new areas of the city are developed. When all is said and done, you are left wondering if there is any kind of system that is fair to all concerned. And who, for that matter, can define for sure just what is fair and what is unfair?

Call To Reason

The nation feels that it is on the verge of an economic crisis as the news reveals that the steel union bargainers and the steel company operators are currently getting nowhere.

Indeed any strike or cessation of production in a basic material field would have a depressing effect on the national economy. One cannot throw hundreds of thousands of wage earners out of work either in the production of steel and in the industries that use steel, without a bad effect on the country's prosperity. And for this reason both the bargainers for the companies and for the workers should feel the weight of responsibility for the national interest when they confront each other. We hope that the rigidity of mind on both sides melts sufficiently to bring off this present bargaining in the general interest.

But it is also a time to reflect that the country no longer depends upon contentment in the steel industry for its total well being. That may have been a fact of the past, but it is a fiction of the present.

There was a time, for a long time, that the economic guidelines of the nation depended upon coal and steel. Coal has already lost its influence due to the availability of other fuels. Similarly, much of today's production depends upon other materials than steel. John L. Lewis, the leader of the coal miners, can no longer make the country tremble by glaring at it.

We have not brought our thinking up to date. Plastics and the lighter metals have been doing to steel what petroleum and natural gas did to coal.

A steel strike today can injure the national economy, but it can't wreck it. But there is no reason why high headed bargainers should play with such dynamite. So let them all get back to the table and come up with something reasonable.

Is It So Complicated?

You wonder now and then just how complicated is the issue of church-state relationships. There are times when you toy with the thought of people making much more out of the question than is really warranted.

In Lincoln for a meeting of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, National Congress President Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins called for public funds to be used for public schools. Thus, she obviously does not favor government aid to private schools. Presumably, she does not favor the new federal aid to education bill which includes assistance to the pupils of private schools.

And at another point in her address, she explained the policy of her organization as one of "concern for all children. No child is excluded from our caring." Should she not have added, "no child except those in private schools?"

Tremendous constitutional battles can be joined over this question and terrible consequences seen in the crumbling of "the wall" between church and state. But how truly applicable are they?

When all the debate is finished, what is the damage to the nation from a child in a private school having the advantage of a little better education through government assistance than would otherwise have been the case? And what is the ultimate benefit to the nation of a policy dictating a disadvantage to some children simply because they attend a private school? Is it really law and logic that haunt us in this matter or something more akin to fear, misunderstanding or prejudice?

The Wrong Enemy

The students in Korea are on the march again.

A few years ago they turned out in large numbers in protest against the behaviour of Syngman Rhee and it was one of the prime factors that caused the Korean president to retire.

This time a smaller number of students are protesting their government's policy of patching up relations with Japan.

Korea is full of memories, most of them bad. And one of them was the almost total absorbtion of the country in the years after World War I by Japan. The Koreans always fear that any relations with the island power will not remain equal very long, and sooner or later the native population will be sent to the bottom of the economic heap.

During the earlier years of occupation the Japanese introduced a good deal of industry in north Korea and provided electric power centers. These ultimately fell into the hands of the communists who have been living on the fruits of that undertaking ever since.

It is a different Japan today, an even more productive country. But it too has a memory—the memory of an empire building war that didn't work. It has the memory of a dread enemy in the U.S. who has now become a helpful friend. The Japanese experience should serve to temper its attitude toward its lesser neighbors. Now Japan needs more trade and South Korea needs a better economy. The present conversations with Japan are in a totally different tone and could result in the mutual improvement of both nations.

The students in this instance are a little wrong. It is not Japanese empire they have to fear, but rather further trouble with the Red Chinese who are still poised above the truce line, own a nuclear bomb, and have more provocation than ever to reopen hostilities in Korea should the situation in Viet Nam get sufficiently aggravated.

Middleman Does Well With Food

WASHINGTON — One of the ironies of today's market basket, now being studied by the President's National Commission on Food Marketing at hearings in Fort Worth, Texas, is the amazing disparity between what the farmer receives and what the housewife pays for the food she puts on the table.

One of the dangers is that this could lead to further mergers in our economy. At Fort Worth you hear such terms as "backward integration," that is, the ownership of packing houses by big chain stores. This has helped to force down the farm price of beef on the hoof and has some beef producers on the verge of bankruptcy.

You also hear the term "forward integration." This is the opposite technique being contemplated by some farm groups, such as the Ohio Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union, which have considered taking over food chains to market their own products—as a means of self-protection.

Of six major food items studied by the Department of Agriculture, all have risen considerably in retail price since 1947, while the price the farmer gets for the same items, in an unprocessed state, has dropped considerably. Only three products—pork, milk, and eggs—have varied from this trend.

Retail cuts of pork have dropped 11.2 per cent, to the housewife, since 1947, while the farmer also has received less for pork, by 37.9 per cent. A bottle of milk costs 27.5 per cent more at retail, while the dairy farmer gets 0.9 per cent more. Eggs are down 26.7 per cent to the housewife, down 36.3 per cent to the farmer

Here is the topsy-turvy history (since 1947) of the other food items studies by the department: choice lamb roast, up 24.4 per cent to consumer, down 16.5 per cent to farmer; choice beef, up 26 per cent to consumer, down 13.8 per cent to farmer; white bread, up 63.6 per cent to consumer, down 26.2 per cent to farmer; corn flakes, up 67.1 per cent to consumer, down 41.9 per cent to farmer; potatoes, up 28.9 per cent to consumer, down 44.7 per cent to farmer; salad dressing, up 5.2 per cent to consumer, down 43.1 per cent to farmer.

Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., bitter over his rebuff from House Democrats and sour over events in Mississippi, lit into Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach. Williams aired his grievances, then demanded the FBI file on Dr. Martin Luther King, the civil rights leader

"There is no file on King," bristled Katzenbach.

"Now don't try and kid me," shot back Williams. "Both you and I know there is a file."

Katzenbach and the President remained silent.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Consumer Friend Quitting The FPC

WASHINGTON—By a turn of events he could hardly have foreseen a short time ago President Johnson has been taken off a singularly embarrassing hook.

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler has informed the White House that he does not seek reappointment to that office when his term on the Federal Power Commission expires on June 22. Swidler, a strong consumer-minded commissioner, had already become the center of furious tugging and hauling within the powerful gas and oil industry. Not only his decisions but his forthright speeches had angered the moguls of the big corporations.

The President had just been through the same kind of struggle that promised to build up over Swidler. The target of the gas companies was Charles R. Ross whose term on the FPC expired 10 months ago and who had been serving pending White House action. Many of Mr. Johnson's long-time friends in the oil industry importuned him to supplant Ross, a Republican and a Vermonter who has the strong support of Sen. George Aiken of that state.

But, defying these pressures from close to home, the President reappointed Ross to another five-year term. He twinned this with the appointment of Carl E. Bagge, a Chicago railroad attorney, to the FPC. Bagge, a Republican, one of the candidates on a list submitted by Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, is acceptable to the industry.

At the time he made the announcement the President said with some irritation that he wanted judges, men who were neutral, rather than advocates for either the consumer or the producers and distributors of electric power and gas. Those familiar with the history of the FPC insist this is contrary to the concept behind its origin under Theodore Roosevelt. TR saw the FPC as standing guard for consumers who had no powerful lobby in Washington to protect them.

In his last year in the White House President Eisenhower got embroiled in a sharp controversy over this very question. He had announced he would not reappoint William R. Connole to the commission. Connole had been a strong supporter of the consumer.

Protests came from 27 states and most large cities in the north where, since 1945, natural gas has become the predominant fuel. Eisenhower nominated to the commission a man who had no previous experience in utility regulation or rate-making. He said he was not interested in whether the individual was on the side of consumers or of industry but merely whether he was able.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Sharing Of The Palms

By MONA B. PARKER

Newsman J. C. Crosland is positive that spring has returned to Mullen. There are sure signs, not to be disputed. The birds, the southern sojourners, have returned. But an even more definite indication is to be seen on all sides. The flies, also, have returned.

Marlin Waechter of Stanton is not so sure. The up-and down temperament of the thermometer has him baffled . . .

"We'd like to get fishin' fever, but weather is too cold to allow the fever to rise. Anybody for checkers around the stove?"

Cold or not, it's still spring cleaning time, declares the Garden County News. And small or not, the town can make itself shine in the estimation and eyes of all who observe . . .

"Oshkosh may not be the biggest town, the fastest growing or the most modern, but it can be the cleanest."

As the posies struggle to burst forth from the chilly earth, the ladies have burst forth in season finery. The usual masculine reaction to some of the feminine concoctions remains typical from season to season . . .

The comment from one Hastings man, upon viewing his wife's Easter bonnet: "Although men are supposed to dictate women's fashions, I just don't believe they should be held responsible for such a waste of time and material."

There was a Palm Sunday story out of Atkinson that the Graphic retold with more than a touch of local pride, and well it might, although it probably is quite typical of small-town America . . .

Late on Saturday afternoon preceding Palm Sunday, the pastor of one church received a call from a member of another to see if he had any extra palms for the next day. Since he had run short last year, he had doubled his order so was sure he would have more than enough. Asked if he would sell some, he said he would be happy only to give them.

So about five o'clock that afternoon, two large fresh bundles of palms were picked up at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, put in vases and delivered to the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The Jim Denton farm near Oakland has been turning up some pieces from civilizations that date back a year or two . . .

A rock which seemed to be the head of a war tomahawk was found last spring during discing and sent East for appraisal. The experts pegged it as from an archaic period of Indians dating from 3,000 to 1,000 B.C.

Kearney's City Council has learned, sadly, that all good things don't always come to those who wait.

Planned resurfacing of the north-south runway at the airport had first been estimated to cost $120,000, was raised later to $140,000. However, when federal approval and funds were applied for, it was found that the estimates were on two-inch surfacing while Uncle Sam says it has to be three inches. Cost is currently figured at $168,000.

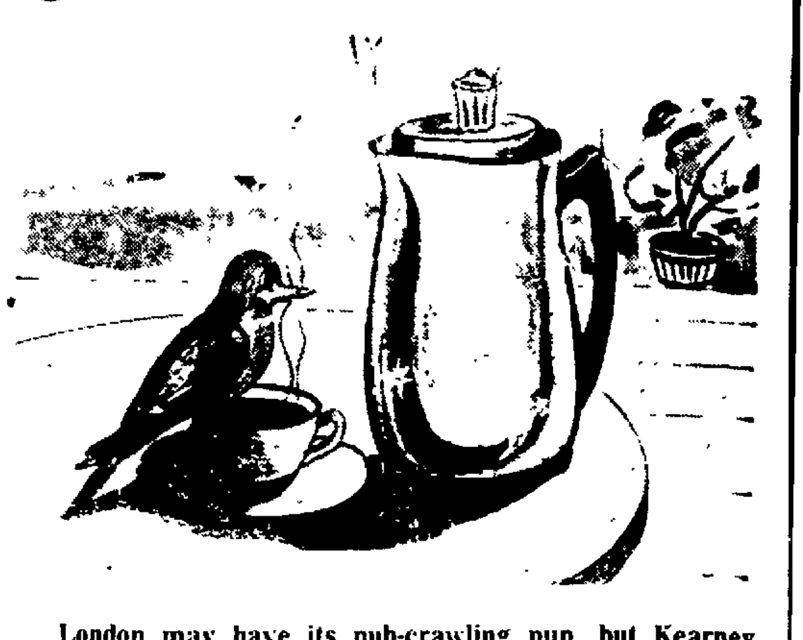
Art Brown, in the Friend Sentinel: "While we have a few screamers and Beatle chasers, we have millions who enjoy better music . . . Just recently, 12,000 youngsters filled the arena to attend the first morning concert of the Omaha Symphony Orchestra . . . So it looks as if the country will survive and grow greater."



London may have its pub-crawling pup, but Kearney has its own variety of wildlife with not quite so much emphasis on wild life to equal it. A gardener there who likes to have a cup of coffee handy while he is working in his yard noticed it first. A caffein-fancying robin took advantage of the fact that he was occupied with his tasks to sip daintily of the invigorating beverage. The approving chirp pronounced it good to the last drop, mellower by the beakful and altogether to the taste of the now famous "Robbing Robin."

The Economy Cruise, By Freighter

MOBILE Ala. — This vacation freighters are weighing anchor again at every seasport around the country's coastline, and the bargain-hunting tourists are aboard.

All through the spring, summer and fall the seagoing trade will continue to be terrific. Thousands of vacationing tourists will sail to strange islands, exotic ports and distant lands—and they won't always know where they're going until they're there.

Mostly they'll ship out by the dozen.

That's about the average passenger accommodation of a freighter. Twelve people. Some of the more recently-launched ships—particularly those of American flag—can carry as high as 40 or 50, but they're the exceptions. They're also usually more luxurious and, consequently, more expensive.

But when you deal with the old-time freighters, and especially those of foreign flag, it's strictly cheaper by the dozen.

You can literally go abroad for as little as $10 a day, which includes everything except liquor. If you like a libation, you'll have to bring your own or pay extra—unless the captain happens to be in an extremely hospitable mood.

And vacationers, particularly those along the Gulf Coast, are coming to realize that you can't travel by car across the country for less than twice that price—even by practicing every possible economy.

You can spend two weeks in the Caribbean for about $250 — not counting, of course, whatever you may have to buy in the various ports of call. That's if you sail from a Gulf port. If you sail from New York or one of the other East Coast ports, it's slightly more

Sailing out of New York, you can take a round trip of a month to a month and a half to Europe, with time out for sightseeing in various ports, for less than $600. And quicker trips cut the price more than in half.

Accommodations are almost always excellent. Cabins are topside and all on the outside, so that the sea breezes can blow in through the portholes, and some of the modern freighters have air-conditioned suites. But they cost more, and the oldtimers among the freighter travelers say that if you want to go that route, why bother to leave home?

Almost everyone praises the food, especially those who have traveled on North European ships. How much of this opinion is due to the cuisine itself, and how much to the salt air's stimulation of appetites is, of course, a question

But there is no questioning the economy. You can get the same suntan, the same rest and relaxation, and see faraway places for an average of less than half what it would cost you to sit in one spot at some vacation resort.

Time, however, is a factor. These are primarily cargo ships, and a radio message at sea can change the routing to a new port to pick up a shipment. So a little flexibility should be allowed in the number of days you can be away.

But even if it takes longer, it doesn't cost you any more. You pay by the cruise, not by the day, in almost every case.

What kind of people take these cruises? Shipping company spokesmen from Galveston to Key West say that schoolteachers and similar professional people represent their biggest single category. The reason? By and large, they have a more flexible vacation time—and less money!

For them, a few days or weeks on a freighter provides a chance to rest and relax and recover their energies—at a price they can afford

Pull up the ladder, mate. I'm aboard!

Why did they build a new veterans hospital in Omaha? Seems the Lincoln hospital was and still is in good working order and everybody was happy. Why did they build it within 100 miles if they needed another one? Seems to me politics were just working for Omaha.

Our Nebraska governor and his helpers at that time should know the reason. Let them speak up and give us their reasons.

When all is said and done, you are left wondering if there is any kind of system that is fair to all concerned. And who, for that matter, can define for sure just what is fair and what is unfair?

Call To Reason

The nation feels that it is on the verge of an economic crisis as the news reveals that the steel union bargainers and the steel company operators are currently getting nowhere.

Indeed any strike or cessation of production in a basic material field would have a depressing effect on the national economy. One cannot throw hundreds of thousands of wage earners out of work either in the production of steel and in the industries that use steel, without a bad effect on the country's prosperity. And for this reason both the bargainers for the companies and for the workers should feel the weight of responsibility for the national interest when they confront each other. We hope that the rigidity of mind on both sides melts sufficiently to bring off this present bargaining in the general interest.

But it is also a time to reflect that the country no longer depends upon contentment in the steel industry for its total well being. That may have been a fact of the past, but it is a fiction of the present.

There was a time, for a long time, that the economic guidelines of the nation depended upon coal and steel. Coal has already lost its influence due to the availability of other fuels. Similarly, much of today's production depends upon other materials than steel. John L. Lewis, the leader of the coal miners, can no longer make the country tremble by glaring at it.

We have not brought our thinking up to date. Plastics and the lighter metals have been doing to steel what petroleum and natural gas did to coal.

A steel strike today can injure the national economy, but it can't wreck it. But there is no reason why high headed bargainers should play with such dynamite. So let them all get back to the table and come up with something reasonable.

Is It So Complicated?

You wonder now and then just how complicated is the issue of church-state relationships. There are times when you toy with the thought of people making much more out of the question than is really warranted.

In Lincoln for a meeting of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, National Congress President Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins called for public funds to be used for public schools. Thus, she obviously does not favor government aid to private schools. Presumably, she does not favor the new federal aid to education bill which includes assistance to the pupils of private schools.

And at another point in her address, she explained the policy of her organization as one of "concern for all children. No child is excluded from our caring." Should she not have added, "no child except those in private schools?"

Tremendous constitutional battles can be joined over this question and terrible consequences seen in the crumbling of "the wall" between church and state. But how truly applicable are they?

When all the debate is finished, what is the damage to the nation from a child in a private school having the advantage of a little better education through government assistance than would otherwise have been the case? And what is the ultimate benefit to the nation of a policy dictating a disadvantage to some children simply because they attend a private school? Is it really law and logic that haunt us in this matter or something more akin to fear, misunderstanding or prejudice?

The Wrong Enemy

The students in Korea are on the march again.

A few years ago they turned out in large numbers in protest against the behaviour of Syngman Rhee and it was one of the prime factors that caused the Korean president to retire.

This time a smaller number of students are protesting their government's policy of patching up relations with Japan.

Korea is full of memories, most of them bad. And one of them was the almost total absorbtion of the country in the years after World War I by Japan. The Koreans always fear that any relations with the island power will not remain equal very long, and sooner or later the native population will be sent to the bottom of the economic heap.

During the earlier years of occupation the Japanese introduced a good deal of industry in north Korea and provided electric power centers. These ultimately fell into the hands of the communists who have been living on the fruits of that undertaking ever since.

It is a different Japan today, an even more productive country. But it too has a memory—the memory of an empire building war that didn't work. It has the memory of a dread enemy in the U.S. who has now become a helpful friend. The Japanese experience should serve to temper its attitude toward its lesser neighbors. Now Japan needs more trade and South Korea needs a better economy. The present conversations with Japan are in a totally different tone and could result in the mutual improvement of both nations.

The students in this instance are a little wrong. It is not Japanese empire they have to fear, but rather further trouble with the Red Chinese who are still poised above the truce line, own a nuclear bomb, and have more provocation than ever to reopen hostilities in Korea should the situation in Viet Nam get sufficiently aggravated.

Middleman Does Well With Food

WASHINGTON — One of the ironies of today's market basket, now being studied by the President's National Commission on Food Marketing at hearings in Fort Worth, Texas, is the amazing disparity between what the farmer receives and what the housewife pays for the food she puts on the table.

One of the dangers is that this could lead to further mergers in our economy. At Fort Worth you hear such terms as "backward integration," that is, the ownership of packing houses by big chain stores. This has helped to force down the farm price of beef on the hoof and has some beef producers on the verge of bankruptcy.

You also hear the term "forward integration." This is the opposite technique being contemplated by some farm groups, such as the Ohio Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union, which have considered taking over food chains to market their own products—as a means of self-protection.

Of six major food items studied by the Department of Agriculture, all have risen considerably in retail price since 1947, while the price the farmer gets for the same items, in an unprocessed state, has dropped considerably. Only three products—pork, milk, and eggs—have varied from this trend.

Retail cuts of pork have dropped 11.2 per cent, to the housewife, since 1947, while the farmer also has received less for pork, by 37.9 per cent. A bottle of milk costs 27.5 per cent more at retail, while the dairy farmer gets 0.9 per cent more. Eggs are down 26.7 per cent to the housewife, down 36.3 per cent to the farmer.

Here is the topsy-turvy history (since 1947) of the other food items studies by the department: choice lamb roast, up 24.4 per cent to consumer, down 16.5 per cent to farmer; choice beef, up 26 per cent to consumer, down 13.8 per cent to farmer; white bread, up 63.6 per cent to consumer, down 26.2 per cent to farmer; corn flakes, up 67.1 per cent to consumer, down 41.9 per cent to farmer; potatoes, up 28.9 per cent to consumer, down 44.7 per cent to farmer; salad dressing, up 5.2 per cent to consumer, down 43.1 per cent to farmer.

Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., bitter over his rebuff from House Democrats and sour over events in Mississippi, lit into Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach. Williams aired his grievances, then demanded the FBI file on Dr. Martin Luther King, the civil rights leader.

"There is no file on King," bristled Katzenbach.

"Now don't try and kid me," shot back Williams. "Both you and I know there is a file."

Katzenbach and the President remained silent.

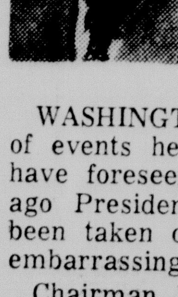
MARQUIS CHILDS



Consumer Friend Quitting The FPC

WASHINGTON—By a turn of events he could hardly have foreseen a short time ago President Johnson has been taken off a singularly embarrassing hook.

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler has informed the White House that he does not seek reappointment to that office when his term on the Federal Power Commission expires on June 22. Swidler, a strong consumer-minded commissioner, had already become the center of furious tugging and hauling within the powerful gas and oil industry. Not only his decisions but his forthright speeches had angered the moguls of the big corporations.

The President had just been through the same kind of struggle that promised to build up over Swidler. The target of the gas companies was Charles R. Ross whose term on the FPC expired 10 months ago and who had been serving pending White House action. Many of Mr. Johnson's long-time friends in the oil industry importuned him to supplant Ross, a Republican and a Vermonter who has the strong support of Sen. George Aiken of that state.

But, defying these pressures from close to home, the President reappointed Ross to another five-year term. He twinned this with the appointment of Carl E. Bagge, a Chicago railroad attorney, to the FPC. Bagge, a Republican, one of the candidates on a list submitted by Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, is acceptable to the industry.

At the time he made the announcement the President said with some irritation that he wanted judges, men who were neutral, rather than advocates for either the consumer or the producers and distributors of electric power and gas. Those familiar with the history of the FPC insist this is contrary to the concept behind its origin under Theodore Roosevelt. TR saw the FPC as standing guard for consumers who had no powerful lobby in Washington to protect them.

In his last year in the White House President Eisenhower got embroiled in a sharp controversy over this very question. He had announced he would not reappoint William R. Connole to the commission. Connole had been a strong supporter of the consumer.

Protests came from 27 states and most large cities in the north where, since 1945, natural gas has become the predominant fuel. Eisenhower nominated to the commission a man who had no previous experience in utility regulation or rate-making. He said he was not interested in whether the individual was on the side of consumers or of industry but merely whether he was able.

London may have its pub-crawling pup, but Kearney has its own variety of wildlife with not quite so much emphasis on wild life to equal it. A gardener there who likes to have a cup of coffee handy while he is working in his yard noticed it first. A caffein-fancying robin took advantage of the fact that he was occupied with his tasks to sip daintily of the invigorating beverage. The approving chirp pronounced it good to the last drop, mellower by the beakful and altogether to the taste of the now famous "Robbing Robin."

There was a Palm Sunday story out of Atkinson that the Graphic retold with more than a touch of local pride, and well it might, although it probably is quite typical of small-town America . . .

Late on Saturday afternoon preceding Palm Sunday, the pastor of one church received a call from a member of another to see if he had any extra palms for the next day. Since he had run short last year, he had doubled his order so was sure he would have more than enough. Asked if he would sell some, he said he would be happy only to give them.

So about five o'clock that afternoon, two large fresh bundles of palms were picked up at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, put in vases and delivered to the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Kearney's City Council has learned, sadly, that all good things don't always come to those who wait.

Planned resurfacing of the north-south runway at the airport had first been estimated to cost $120,000, was raised later to $140,000. However, when federal approval and funds were applied for, it was found that the estimates were on two-inch surfacing while Uncle Sam says it has to be three inches. Cost is currently figured at $168,000.

The Economy Cruise, By Freighter

MOBILE, Ala. — This vacation freighters are weighing anchor again at every seasport around the country's coastline, and the bargain-hunting tourists are aboard.

All through the spring, summer and fall the seagoing trade will continue to be terrific. Thousands of vacationing tourists will sail to strange islands, exotic ports and distant lands—and they won't always know where they're going until they're there.

Mostly they'll ship out by the dozen.

That's about the average passenger accommodation of a freighter. Twelve people. Some of the more recently-launched ships—particularly those of American flag—can carry as high as 40 or 50, but they're the exceptions. They're also usually more luxurious and, consequently, more expensive.

But when you deal with the old-time freighters, and especially those of foreign flag, it's strictly cheaper by the dozen.

You can literally go abroad for as little as $10 a day, which includes everything except liquor. If you like a libation, you'll have to bring your own or pay extra—unless the captain happens to be in an extremely hospitable mood.

And vacationers, particularly those along the Gulf Coast, are coming to realize that you can't travel by car across the country for less than twice that price—even by practicing every possible economy.

You can spend two weeks in the Caribbean for about $250 — not counting, of course, whatever you may have to buy in the various ports of call. That's if you sail from a Gulf port. If you sail from New York or one of the other East Coast ports, it's slightly more.

Sailing out of New York, you can take a round trip of a month to a month and a half to Europe, with time out for sightseeing in various ports, for less than $600. And quicker trips cut the price more than in half.

Accommodations are almost always excellent. Cabins are topside and all on the outside, so that the sea breezes can blow in through the portholes, and some of the modern freighters have air-conditioned suites. But they cost more, and the old-timers among the freighter travelers say that if you want to go that route, why bother to leave home?

Almost everyone praises the food, especially those who have traveled on North European ships. How much of this opinion is due to the cuisine itself, and how much to the salt air's stimulation of appetites is, of course, a question.

But there is no questioning the economy. You can get the same suntan, the same rest and relaxation, and see faraway places for an average of less than half what it would cost you to sit in one spot at some vacation resort.

Time, however, is a factor. These are primarily cargo ships, and a radio message at sea can change the routing to a new port to pick up a shipment. So a little flexibility should be allowed in the number of days you can be away.

But even if it takes longer, it doesn't cost you any more. You pay by the cruise, not by the day, in almost every case.

What kind of people take these cruises? Shipping company spokesmen from Galveston to Key West say that schoolteachers and similar professional people repreent their biggest single category. The reason? By and large, they have a more flexible vacation time—and less money!

For them, a few days or weeks on a freighter provides a chance to rest and relax and recover their energies—at a price they can afford.

Pull up the ladder, mate. I'm aboard!

. . . EDUCATION, WELFARE, INSTITUTIONS INCREASES COULD CAUSE NEARLY 2-MILL PROPERTY TAX JUMP

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Budget Committee Thursday recommended a 19% increase in 1965-67 appropriations for education, welfare and public institutions.

Total increased spending from all funds would amount to $30,649,012, including a $14,313,612 boost in appropriations from the general fund.

The proposed hike in general fund spending could trigger an increase of about two mills in the state property tax levy. One mill raises about $72 million a biennium.

Nearly half of the general fund has in the recent past been supported by state property tax returns, the remainder funded by cash receipts, license fees and a number of excise taxes, including levies on cigarettes, beer, liquor, insurance premiums and pari-mutuel horse race betting

Some $6 million in additional revenue which will be raised from an increase in the cigarette tax was earmarked outside the general fund. Boosts in the levies on beer and pari-mutuel betting will add an estimated additional $1.8 million to the fund.

(Due to the newly-authorized consolidation in the general fund of revenue from counties for care of mental patients in state hospitals, the general fund increase which will have an effect on taxes actually amounts to about $13 334,350, according to the committee report)

Total recommendations are about $3.6 million below those proposed by Gov. Frank Morrison, and almost $19 million below appropriations requested by state agencies charged with responsibility in the three fields.

While the committee's recommended general fund expenditures are almost 16% above 1963-65 appropriations, they are approximately $6.9 million below the governor.

First Package

Included in the committee's first — and major — budget package are recommendations from the University of Nebraska, the state colleges and Normal Board, the Department of Education, the Department of Public Welfare and the Department of Public Institutions

Together, the five agencies spend about 80% of general fund appropriations.

The University's total recommended appropriation of $57.5 million is $4 8 million below the institution's request and $2 4 million below the governor's recommendations, but $8 million more than the estimated 1963-65 expenditures

State colleges would receive nearly $15 million, some $3 8 million below their request and $1 million below the governor, but some $4 million above the current biennium.

$21 Million To Ed Dept.

The committee recommended a $21 1 million appropriation for the Department of Education, nearly $1.6 million below its request, only $77,000 below the governor, and $5 2 million over 1963-65 figures

The Department of Public Welfare would receive nearly $57 million, only $107,000 below its request, some $1.1 million above the amount recommended by the governor, and more than $9.5 million more than the current biennium.

The million dollar boost over the governor's recommendations comes almost entirely in the category of public assistance and represents, according to the committee, "more realistic" figures reflecting the increased costs of hospital care and vendor payments triggered by two bills enacted by the 1963 Legislature

The Department of Public Institutions would receive about $41.8 million, nearly $8 5 million less than it requested and almost $1.3 million under the governor's recommendations, but nearly $3.8 million over the 1963-65 biennium.

Total $192 Million

Grand total figures for all five agencies would amount to $192.4 million, some $18 8 million less than requested. General fund requests were trimmed by nearly $24.1 million.

Among the five, the greatest percentage in spending increase — some 37% — would come at the state colleges. University spending would be hiked 16%.

Others: Education, 33%; Welfare, 20%; Institutions, 10%

Still to come are recommendations for capital construction for the departments involved

Also forthcoming at a later date will be the committee's recommended appropriations for the dozens of remaining state agencies Largest of the group is the Department of Roads, but its budget involves no state property tax funds

Vitogro

Vitogro The Rich One

gives your lawn more nutrients for the money than any other high-quality lawn food, and your lawn will show it

This year, spread Vitogro, The Rich One, and see how it fattens thin, pale grass into thick, springy, green turf.

You won't be disappointed. Vitogro is the richest lawn food you can buy for your money. So rich, in fact, it can grow grass even without soil. (See below.) Yet rich as it is, it can't burn, even if you put on a double amount.

Vitogro is also one of the easiest lawn foods to use. You apply Vitogro only once a year to keep your lawn green from spring to fall.

Each Vitogro granule works like a little time capsule, releasing its rich nourishment slowly. So you get a healthy, green lawn all summer.

Does The Rich One cost more than ordinary lawn foods? Yes, a few cents extra. But you'll be glad you spent them when you see the difference in your lawn.

So rich in nutrients...

Vitogro grows grass even without soil

Using only sun, rain, and Vitogro for nourishment, you can grow a stand of grass on sterile fiberglas.

Grand total figures for all five agencies would amount to $192.4 million, some $18.8 million less than requested. General fund requests were trimmed by nearly $24.1 million.

Among the five, the greatest percentage in spending increase -- some 37% — would come at the state colleges. University spending would be hiked 16% .

Others: Education, 33%; Welfare, 20%; Institutions, 10% .

Still to come are recommendations for capital construction for the departments involved.

Also forthcoming at a later date will be the committee's recommended appropriations for the dozens of remaining state agencies. Largest of the group is the Department of Roads, but its budget involves no state property tax funds.

Vitogro
The Rich One

gives your lawn more nutrients for the money than any other high-quality lawn food, and your lawn will show it

This year, spread Vitogro, The Rich One, and see how it fattens thin, pale grass into thick, springy, green turf.

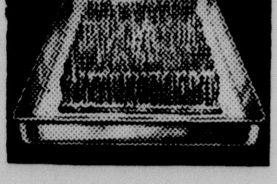
You won't be disappointed. Vitogro is the richest lawn food you can buy for your money. So rich, in fact, it can grow grass even without soil. (See below.) Yet rich as it is, it can't burn, even if you put on a double amount.

Vitogro is also one of the easiest lawn foods to use. You apply Vitogro only once a year to keep your lawn green from spring to fall.

Each Vitogro granule works like a little time capsule, releasing its rich nourishment slowly. So you get a healthy, green lawn all summer.

Does The Rich One cost more than ordinary lawn foods? Yes, a few cents extra. But you'll be glad you spent them when you see the difference in your lawn.

So rich in nutrients...
Vitogro grows grass even without soil



Using only sun, rain, and Vitogro for nourishment, you can grow a stand of grass on sterile fiberglas.

5% NU Faculty Pay Hike Recommended

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Budget Committee's recommended 1965-67 appropriations for the University of Nebraska envision a 5% annual salary increase for faculty members and addition of 106 full-time equivalent faculty members at an average annual salary of $9 000

Salary increases were scaled down from the University's requested boost of 7% per year over the biennium.

But the committee alloted the institution more additional faculty members than it had requested. The University's request would total about 75 full-time equivalents, legislative fiscal analyst John Quigley estimated.

During committee hearings on the University's budget NU officials admitted that they had underestimated needs for additional faculty.

State Colleges 4½%

The proposed budget for state colleges at Chadron, Peru, Wayne and Kearney envisions a 4½% annual salary increase for faculty members.

Proposed tuition increases at the institutions, previously recommended by the committee, are reflected in budget figures released Thursday.

If adopted, as recommended, they would produce $2.6 million in revenue for the University and $600.000 for the four state colleges.

An additional $700,000 in proposed budget funds for the University are reflected in upward adjustments in estimated cash funds. Quigley noted.

Major cuts in the University's budget requests include a $1.3 million slice in the instructional budget and $1.2 million in funds for agricultural experiment stations However, the instructional budget is $3 6 million higher than the 1963-65 figures.

Other Budget Stories —Pages 1, 5, 7

Requests for the Medical College in Omaha were reduced by about $940.000 but recommended appropriations are $1 2 million higher than the current biennium.

Among the state colleges, Chadron's proposed figure of $2.4 million is $700.000 higher than the current budget, but $1 5 million below the request.

Kearney would be appropriated $6 million for the coming biennium, some $2 million more than current figures, but nearly $950.000 below its request.

Peru would receive $2 2 million, some $412.000 above 1963-65 but $496.000 below its request Wayne would be budgeted $3 8 million $926.000 above 1963-65, but $932 000 below its request

Budget Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings noted that the committee has recommended "appreciable amounts" of money to upgrade library programs at the institutions, and hopes thereby to bring state college libraries up to American Library Association standards within six years.

The proposed budget package would generally increase salaries of technical state personnel by 4% per year, Marvel said.

Administrative salaries would be boosted 3% per year, 4% for some administrators at NU Non-classified, non-professional employes in all agencies would receive 2% annual salary hikes.

Recommended 1965-67 appropriations for the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford are $2 million, $177.000 above the governor's recoommendations, but $117,000 below the amount requested.

Marvel noted that the budget bill also proposes the addition of several new vocational educational positions within the Department of Education

The committee will seek to earmark funds for plant maintenance and repair at NU and the state colleges, Marvel said, and to hold at their current levels salaries of the commissioner of education, his deputy and the assistant commissioner for instruction.

Usable Missouri Upstream Water To Surpass '64

Omaha (AP)—Experts predict usable water from the Missouri River basin above Sioux City will be greater this year than last.

Based on mountain snow cover and other precipitation factors, the upper basin water supply is expected to range from 25 million acre-feet to 30 million. Last year's supply was 24 million acre-feet.

The estimates came from the Co-ordinating Committee on Missouri River Main Stem Reservoir Operations which met in Omaha.

The group said indications are that power, navigation, water supply and other functions served by the Missouri River reservoirs will be adequately maintained through the year

Canaday Plant Sets A Record

Holdrege (AP)—Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District said its Canaday Steam Plant sold a record 65.259.518 kilowatt hours of electricity in March.

Central engineers said that much electricity would operate a town of 6.000 for three years.

The utility said it also set a record low cost per kilowatt of electrical production —4 66 mills—during the first three months of 1965.

Central's power is sold to Nebraska Public Power System which distributes it

Administrators Urged For Mental Hospital

The Budget Committee is recommending hiring of an administrator for each of the state mental hospitals at Lincoln Norfolk and Hastings to free superintendents for professional duties

The committee proposes to earmark funds for salaries for the three positions at about $15 000 annually, according to Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings.

A staffing pattern for the institutions designed to meet American Psychiatric Association standards "amended to the Nebraska situation" has also been proposed, Marvel said.

The staffing pattern, a sort of table of organization, has been agreed to by State Institutions Director George Morris and officials of the three hospitals, he pointed out

The committee recommended budget increases of $2 million for the three hospitals, nearly $4 7 million less than they had requested.

Other than the three hospitals, the largest cut in the Department of Institutions' budget requests was a $1.7 million slice in proposed appropriations for the Beatrice State Home.

Largest increases over 1963-65 were $1.2 million for the Lincoln State Hospital, $701,000 for the Beatrice State Home and $614,000 for the Hastings State Hospital

Largest boost in the Department of Public Welfare's budget is a proposed $6 1 million hike in public assistance funds

Enactment of two bills in 1963 increasing hospital payments and vendor payments will cost more than $4 million over the coming biennium, Marvel noted.

4,000 NU Students Protest Tuition Hike

A bound volume of petitions carrying the signatures of 4,003 University of Nebraska students, protesting any tuition increase, was delivered to the Legislature Thursday

"We the students of the University of Nebraska," said the petition preamble, "believing in equal educational opportunity, do hereby appeal to the Legislature and the people of Nebraska to reject any proposal which would increase tuition rates, thereby restricting student enrollment."

Two student leaders, John Lydick, 23, of Lincoln, president of the student council, and Mike Barton 21 also of Lincoln, delivered the petitions.

The petitions came in only a few minutes after the Budget Committee had introduced its first appropriation bill package into which is built a presumption that sharp tuition increases will be adopted at the University of Nebraska, with lesser hikes at the four state colleges

Lydick and Barton said signatures represented about 40 per cent of the undergraduate student body. They were obtained in three weeks and more would have been obtained except for the fact some 5,000 students live off campus they said

Lydick said many students have advised him 'they won't be back next year if the tuition goes up."

Administrators Urged For Mental Hospital

The Budget Committee is recommending hiring of an administrator for each of the state mental hospitals at Lincoln, Norfolk and Hastings to free superintendents for professional duties.

The committee proposes to earmark funds for salaries for the three positions at about $15,000 annually, according to Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings.

A staffing pattern for the institutions designed to meet American Psychiatric Association standards "amended to the Nebraska situation" has also been proposed, Marvel said.

The staffing pattern, a sort of table of organization, has been agreed to by State Institutions Director George Morris and officials of the three hospitals, he pointed out.

The committee recommended budget increases of $2 million for the three hospitals, nearly $4.7 million less than they had requested.

Other than the three hospitals, the largest cut in the Department of Institutions' budget requests was a $1.7 million slice in proposed appropriations for the Beatrice State Home.

Largest increases over 1963-65 were $1.2 million for the Lincoln State Hospital, $701,000 for the Beatrice State Home and $614,000 for the Hastings State Hospital.

Other Budget Stories —Pages 1, 5, 6

Largest boost in the Department of Public Welfare's budget is a proposed $6.1 million hike in public assistance funds.

Enactment of two bills in 1963 increasing hospital payments and vendor payments will cost more than $4 million over the coming biennium, Marvel noted.

Grass Roots Opinions Differ

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

Put your ear to the ground in Nebraska these days and what do you hear?

Nebraska legislators who had a chance to take grass roots soundings over the Easter recess are not altogether agreed.

"What I found out from my people," said Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, "was that if this Legislature has any chance of being considered a success, it had better kill any sales or income tax."

He said about 100 persons made personal visits to his office during the six-day vacation—the first major break in legislative routine since the start of the session in January—with others telephoning.

He said he found constituents "upset and worried," and in some cases "awfully angry."

"The thing uppermost in their minds was this—that we'd better not bring them back a sales or income tax," he said.

In contrast, Sen. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt said she found her southeast Nebraska constituents "becoming more and more enamoured of LB797, Sen. Hal Bauer's income tax bill and want it enacted right now."

She said most people in her district are agricultural and there's widespread belief that an income tax would relieve farmers of some of their property tax burden.

Sen. Hughes said these persons would like the income tax to take effect at once and she was forced to explain that taxing officials advise the bill if passed should not take effect until 1967.

Sen. H. C. Crandall of Curtis reported also that "people in my territory are very much in favor of a broadened tax base." Most seem to favor the income tax approach "although there is some division on that," he said.

Senators disagreed also over the amount of public interest in lawmaking activity.

Sen. Klaver said that in his 11 terms he has never found interest higher.

But Sen. Ira Paine of Grand Island said he fielded few calls while at home during the recess "so they must not be too concerned."

And a fellow townsman of Sen. Klaver, Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, said he gets the feeling that people are not much interested, that they are too busy with their own affairs to care, or feel that state legislative developments are overshadowed by what is happening elsewhere, in Viet Nam, for instance.

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington said he made a point during the Easter recess of checking retailer reaction to installment sales and credit bills which the Legislature tentatively has approved and found "very little complaint." Sen. Kjar heads the Banking Committee which gave public hearing to the bills.

In contrast, Sen. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt said she found her southeast Nebraska constituents "becoming more and more enamoured of LB797, Sen. Hal Bauer's income tax bill, and want it enacted right now."

She said most people in her district are agricultural and there's widespread belief that an income tax would relieve farmers of some of their property tax burden.

Sen. Hughes said these persons would like the income tax to take effect at once and she was forced to explain that taxing officials advise the bill if passed should not take effect until 1967.

Sen. H. C. Crandall of Curtis reported also that "people in my territory are very much in favor of a broadened tax base." Most seem to favor the income tax approach "although there is some division on that," he said.

Senators disagreed also over the amount of public interest in lawmaking activity.

Sen. Klaver said that in his 11 terms, he has never found interest higher.

But Sen. Ira Paine of Grand Island said he fielded few calls while at home during the recess "so they must not be too concerned."

And a fellow townsman of Sen. Klaver, Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, said he gets the feeling that people are not much interested, that they are too busy with their own affairs to care, or feel that state legislative developments are overshadowed by what is happening elsewhere, in Viet Nam, for instance.

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington said he made a point during the Easter recess of checking retailer reaction to installment sales and credit bills which the Legislature tentatively has approved and found "very little complaint." Sen. Kjar heads the Banking Committee which gave public hearing to the bills.

Bill Eliminating Local Commercial License Classification Heard, Held

The Legislature's Public Works Committee Thursday heard testimony on, then held, a bill to eliminate the local commercial license as a classification of motor vehicle registration.

The cost of a local commercial license is 25% of the cost of a commercial license, which is based on gross weight.

If LB389 is passed, holders of local licenses would purchase commercial licenses.

George Richardson, of the Omaha City Finance Office, said the bill would mean $70,990 more a year to Omaha.

'One of Equity'

Richardson said, "We believe our position is one of equity. We believe that users of the streets should pay their fair share."

The bill was opposed by several representatives of motor carrier associations.

Paul Halpine, representing the Nebraska Motor Carriers Association, said the local commercial plate serves a fair purpose.

Halpine said that if the bill is passed, many old trucks would be taken off the road and no plate bought for them, resulting in lost revenue.

The committee also held another bill, LB713, which would allow trucks hauling unpackaged and unbaled livestock feed to carry loads in excess of eight feet in width.

Introducer of the bill, Sen. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, said the bill is intended to allow the movement of haystacks by truck.

Done With Tractors

Lysinger said this is now being done with tractors, and that allowing trucks to do this would permit faster and safer movement of stacks.

The committee was told rural areas in the western two-thirds of the state need the bill badly.

A third bill was held by the committee.

LB727 would allow owners of buses to pay their registration fees and obtain license plates from county treasurers, instead of from the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Some $58.000 a year would than be distributed in the same manner as other registration fees, instead of going to the state highway fund.

Sen. William Wylie of Elgin said the bill is needed because of the backload orders that pile up in the state office every year.

Carrier Boys Leave Today For Granada

Torremolinos, Spain (UPI) —The group of 93 American newsboys touring Spain on an eight-day visit sponsored by "Parade" magazine, leave Friday for the Moorish Andalucian town of Granada.

Thursday, the carrier boys had a relaxing day, swimming at the beach known as the Spanish Riviera. In the evening they traveled to nearby Malaga on a shopping and sightseeing trip.

In Granada, the boys will see the cathedral, the royal chapel of the Catholic kings, and the Carthusian monastery with its impressive sacristy. Then they proceed to the Sacromonte, the gypsy quarter.

Nebraskans Don Mowry of Beatrice and Ron Strong of Aurora, carriers for The Sunday Journal and Star, are also making the trip.

County Boards Can Determine Museum Levy

It's up to the county board to determine the tax levy to support a county museum, the State Justice Department held Thursday.

A department opinion said that a tax of up to two mills of all tangible property in the county may be levied to support a county museum.

"It seems clear that the amount of the tax levy is a matter which is within the authority of the county board," according to the opinion, which noted that under Nebraska statutes the museum board is an agent of the county.

The opinion was requested by Hall County Atty. Richard L. De Backer, in connection with the new Stuhr Museum that is being built near Grand Island.

Solons Rebel Against Pay Hikes For Top State Officials

Nebraska's Legislature rebelled Thursday at increasing the salaries of the governor and other top elected state officials.

The measure at issue, LB619, failed by three votes to pass on final reading.

Twenty - five affirmative votes were needed for passage of Red Cloud Sen. Kenneth Bowen's bill.

The initial tally was 22-20, but Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff changed his vote from "aye" to "nay" in order that he could move later for reconsideration of the action. A senator must have voted on the prevailing side to be in position to make such a move. Carpenter's switch made the count 21-21.

LB619 called for increasing the governor's salary from $18,000 to $21,000 per year.

Governor Opposed

Gov. Frank Morrison has stated his opposition to that increase.

The bill also provided a $3,000 boost—to $13,500 per year—in salaries of the state auditor, treasurer and secretary of state. It called for a $1,000 pay raise to $6,000 for the lieutenant governor, and a $2,000 boost to $17,000 in the salary of the attorney general.

In all cases, the new pay levels would not have taken effect until the start of the next term of office.

The Legislature previously had rejected on final reading a bill to exempt household goods and personal effects from taxation.

Another bill, increasing the salary of the state health director, failed initially on final reading but was reconsidered and passed later.

It's unusual for a bill to cross hurdles to final reading and then stumble on that last hurdle.

Although LB619 hit a snag, several other salary type bills sailed through their final reading test without major trouble at the same sitting Thursday.

These included bills hiking the pay of judges of the Workmen's Compensation Court, increasing per diem and expenses paid members of the Board of Examiners in Medicine and Surgery, and increasing the fees collected by sheriffs for various services.

Senators voting for LB619 (21)—Batchelder, Bowen, Brauer, Budd, Burbach, Craft, Danner, Hughes, Knight, Kremer, Lysinger, Mahoney, Matzke, Moulton, Moylan, Paxton, Payne, Stromer, Syas, Warner and Whitney.

Absent or not voting—Bauer, Fleming, Klaver, Marvel, Proud, R. Rasmussen, Skarda.

Senior Recital Set

Chadron—Seniors Karen Fitzpatrick of Imperial and Norman Martin, Chadron, will present their senior recital at Chadron State College on Sunday, at 4 p.m. Miss Fitzpatrick, a soprano, will sing some contemporary numbers as well as selections from opera. Tenor Martin will accompany himself on the guitar during one of his numbers.

Road Study Resolution Adopted By Legislature

A resolution calling for a comprehensive statewide study of needs, classification and financing of all public roads, streets and highways was adopted Thursday on a 36-8 vote of the State Legislature.

Recommendations growing out of the interim study would be delivered to the 1967 Legislature.

Resolution No. 3 principally introduced by Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, carries an appropriation of $10,000 to pay expenses and was handled in the manner of a regular bill.

Voting against the study, which would cost a total $300,000, were Sens. Adamson, Batchelder, Craft, Paxton, Pedersen, Ruhnke, Syas and Wallwey.

It joined 14 bills which received final reading approval Thursday.

The list of bills passed (E-emergency clause):

LB133—Providing for the registration, licensing and regulation of abstractors, and creating an abstractors board of examiners. (Gerdes, Bauer, Moylan, Kjar) (34-12).

LB203—Redefining boundaries of the Niobrara River Game Refuge in Boyd and Holt County area. (Nelson) (E) (45-0).

LB391—Setting a $10 motor vehicle registration fee for buses used exclusively to carry children to and from school. (Ruhnke, Hasebroock, Carstens) (43-1).

LB577—Authorizing the diversion of water from storage reservoirs for irrigation of lands upstream. (Whitney, Gerdes) (46-0).

LB410—Permitting all owners of land in the district, instead of only resident landowners, to vote on formation of ground water conservation districts, eliminating the bonding of directors but requiring bonding of treasurer. (Matzke) (E) (46-0).

LB335—Increasing from $15 to $50 the per diem paid members of the Board of Examiners for Medicine and Surgery, and providing payment of travel and hotel expenses in discharge of their duties. (Orme, Stromer, Knight, Brauer) (43-0).

LB669—Appropriating money deposited in the Nebraska soil and water conservation funds. (Skarda, Payne, Mahoney) (E) (44-0).

LB337—Increasing the rates for publishing legal notices, from 13 to 16 cents a line for first insertion, and 11 to 12 cents a line for subsequent insertions. (Payne, Fleming, Gerdes) (45-0).

LB363—Adopting the uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act as amended in 1958. (Stromer, Burbach, R. Rasmussen) (43-0).

LB437—Increasing fees collected by sheriffs for various services, including fees for boarding of prisoners. (Stromer, Ruhnke, Payne) (E) (43-2).

LB296—Increasing from $1,000 to $13,000 the salary of judges of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court. (Skarda, Bauer) (30-16).

LB319—Increasing from $[illegible] to $[illegible] per day the charge for services of the state surveyor and deputies. (Craft) ([illegible]).

LB512—Requiring annual audits of the books of reclamation districts. (Carpenter) (46-0).

LB548—Requiring concurrence of the State Game Commission secretary in the designation of state recreation roads. (Craft, Fleming) (46-0).

Resolution No 3—Calling for a statewide study of needs, classification and financing of all public roads, streets and highways, with resulting recommendations to be made to the 1967 Legislature, and appropriating $10,000 to defray expenses (Mahoney, Carpenter, Marvel, Stromer, R. Rasmussen) (36-8).

Senators Request Permission To Withdraw 3 Bills

Requests to withdraw three bills, including a measure to establish a state civil service system, were filed with the Legislature Thursday.

Action was deferred for one day under unicameral rules.

Beatrice Sen. Fred W. Carstens asked permission to dismiss LB840, the Civil Service bill, and LB640, which would redefine a legal newspaper.

Sen. Hal W. Bauer of Lincoln asked to withdraw LB463, which would rebate to cities and villages all county road taxes. Bauer said the bill was unnecessary in view of legislative approval of the gas tax increase bill carrying funds for urban and rural road improvements.

Solons Rebel Against Pay Hikes For Top State Officials

Nebraska's Legislature rebelled Thursday at increasing the salaries of the governor and other top elected state officials.

The measure at issue, LB619, failed by three votes to pass on final reading.

Twenty-five affirmative votes were needed for passage of Red Cloud Sen. Kenneth Bowen's bill.

The initial tally was 22-20, but Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff changed his vote from "aye" to "nay" in order that he could move later for reconsideration of the action. A senator must have voted on the prevailing side to be in position to make such a move. Carpenter's switch made the count 21-21.

LB619 called for increasing the governor's salary from $18,000 to $21,000 per year.

Governor Opposed

Gov. Frank Morrison has stated his opposition to that increase.

The bill also provided a $3,000 boost—to $13,500 per year—in salaries of the state auditor, treasurer and secretary of state. It called for a $1,000 pay raise to $6,000 for the lieutenant governor, and a $2,000 boost to $17,000 in the salary of the attorney general.

In all cases, the new pay levels would not have taken effect until the start of the next term of office.

The Legislature previously had rejected on final reading a bill to exempt household goods and personal effects from taxation.

Another bill, increasing the salary of the state health director, failed initially on final reading but was reconsidered and passed later.

It's unusual for a bill to cross hurdles to final reading and then stumble on that last hurdle.

Although LB619 hit a snag, several other salary type bills sailed through their final reading test without major trouble at the same sitting Thursday.

These included bills hiking the pay of judges of the Workmen's Compensation Court, increasing per diem and expenses paid members of the Board of Examiners in Medicine and Surgery, and increasing the fees collected by sheriffs for various services.

Senators voting for LB619 (21)—Batchelder, Bowen, Brauer, Budd, Burbach, Craft, Danner, Hughes, Knight, Kremer, Lysinger, Mahoney, Matzke, Moulton, Moylan, Paxton, Payne, Stromer, Syas, Warner and Whitney.

Absent or not voting—Bauer, Fleming, Klaver, Marvel, Proud, R. Rasmussen, Skarda.

Senior Recital Set

Chadron—Seniors Karen Fitzpatrick of Imperial and Norman Martin, Chadron, will present their senior recital at Chadron State College on Sunday, at 4 p.m. Miss Fitzpatrick, a soprano, will sing some contemporary numbers as well as selections from opera. Tenor Martin will accompany himself on the guitar during one of his numbers.

Road Study Resolution Adopted By Legislature

A resolution calling for a comprehensive statewide study of needs, classification and financing of all public roads, streets and highways was adopted Thursday on a 36-8 vote of the State Legislature.

Recommendations growing out of the interim study would be delivered to the 1967 Legislature.

Resolution No. 3 principally introduced by Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, carries an appropriation of $10,000 to pay expenses and was handled in the manner of a regular bill.

Voting against the study, which would cost a total $300,000, were Sens. Adamson, Batchelder, Craft, Paxton, Pedersen, Ruhnke, Syas and Wallwey.

It joined 14 bills which received final reading approval Thursday.

The list of bills passed (E-emergency clause):

LB133—Providing for the registration, licensing and regulation of abstractors, and creating an abstractors board of examiners. (Gerdes, Bauer, Moylan, Kjar) (34-12).

LB203—Redefining boundaries of the Niobrara River Game Refuge in Boyd and Holt County area. (Nelson) (E) (45-0).

LB391—Setting a $10 motor vehicle registration fee for buses used exclusively to carry children to and from school. (Ruhnke, Hasebroock, Carstens) (43-1).

LB577—Authorizing the diversion of water from storage reservoirs for irrigation of lands upstream. (Whitney, Gerdes) (46-0).

LB410—Permitting all owners of land in the district, instead of only resident landowners, to vote on formation of ground water conservation districts, eliminating the bonding of directors but requiring bonding of treasurer. (Matzke) (E) (46-0).

LB335—Increasing from $15 to $50 the per diem paid members of the Board of Examiners for Medicine and Surgery, and providing payment of travel and hotel expenses in discharge of their duties. (Orme, Stromer, Knight, Brauer) (43-0).

LB669—Appropriating money deposited in the Nebraska soil and water conservation funds. (Skarda, Payne, Mahoney) (E) (44-0).

LB337—Increasingg the rates for publishing legal notices, from 13 to 16 cents a line for first insertion, and 11 to 12 cents a line for subsequent insertions. (Payne, Fleming, Gerdes) (45-0).

LB363—Adopting the uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act as amended in 1958. (Stromer, Burbach, R. Rasmussen) (43-0).

LB437—Increasing fees collected by sheriffs for various services, including fees for boarding of prisoners. (Stromer, Ruhnke, Payne) (E) (43-2).

LB298—Increasing from $1,000 to $13,000 the salary of judges of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court. (Skarda, Bauer) (30-16).

LB319—Increasing from $32 to $48 per day the charge for services of the state surveyor and deputies. (Craft) (41-3).

LB492—Requiring annual audits of the books of reclamation districts. (Carpenter) (46-0).

LB548—Requiring concurrence of the State Game Commission secretary in the designation of state recreaiton roads. (Craft, Fleming) (46-0).

Resolution No 3—Calling for a statewide study of needs, classification and financing of all public roads, streets and highways, with resulting recommendations to be made to the 1967 Legislature, and appropriating $10,000 to defray expenses (Mahoney, Carpenter, Marvel, Stromer, R. Rasmussen) (36-8).

Senators Request Permission To Withdraw 3 Bills

Requests to withdraw three bills, including a measure to establish a state civil service system, were filed with the Legislature Thursday.

Action was deferred for one day under unicameral rules.

Beatrice Sen. Fred W. Carstens asked permission to dismiss LB840, the Civil Service bill, and LB640, which would redefine a legal newspaper.

Sen. Hal W. Bauer of Lincoln asked to withdraw LB463, which would rebate to cities and villages all county road taxes. Bauer said the bill was unnecessary in view of legislative approval of the gas tax increase bill carrying funds for urban and rural road improvements.

School Boards Need To Seek Help From Citizens, Omahan Tells State PTA Congress

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

More strength is required for boards of education to work with the public rather than apart from it, a member of the Omaha school board told a workshop here Thursday during the second day of the Nebraska Congress for Parents and Teachers convention

Mrs. Maurice Frank of the Omaha board, participating in a panel discussion on "Clarifying the Responsibilities for Educational Decision-Making," said, "School boards should seek the aid of citizens." She noted that the Omaha board had taken the initiative to create its own Citizens Advisory Council.

Lincoln School Board member J Arthur Danielson told the PTA delegates officers and members that "all official business of school boards must be transacted in open meetings—however, that doesn't mean the discussions"

The school administrative viewpoint about decision-making was expressed by Darryl G Irish, superintendent of the Albion Public Schools who said If things are taking place in the school system which are not justified by written policies, they really shouldn't be happening"

Other Panels

In addition to the educational decision-making workshop, panel discussions also were conducted on apathy, disadvantaged children, health and safety hazards, and peace.

Convention delegates had started off the morning Thursday with a report on the state's educational television network They had the opportunity to view broadcasts about American literature and fifth grade arithmetic.

Jack McBride, manager of the Nebraska ETV Commission, discussed present status and plans for the implementation of a statewide system of ETV, expected to be completed by 1967. In addition to public school use, "as the network is completed, it will serve all 21 colleges in the state" and even nursing classes, he said.

Luncheon speaker Dr. Rosalie Farley of the University of Nebraska said Thursday, "The educational programs offered in the majority of Nebraska schools during the last 50 years cannot adequately meet the needs of the next 50 years even with a maximum amount of school reorganization and school aid"

Discussing the needs for and merits of comprehensive balanced educational programs, the NU professor said that the state should better utilize its physical plants and plan stronger programs for both remedial and enrichment purposes

Balance between academic and applied subjects" is also essential, she advised

Awards given during the convention included the President's Trophy, originated by Mrs. Ralph Beechner in a previous term in office to the Mason School PTA of Omaha for its Block Plan project Each block in the area has a designated house at which children may stop if they need help before they reach their own home. Mrs. Beechner explained

Magazine subscription awards for the highest number of sales went to Benson West in Omaha for units with a membership over 250 and to Schuyler in the group of units with a membership under 250.

The regional director of aerospace education Harold P Plumer addressed the Nebraska Congress Thursday evening The U S Air Force representative narrated colored slides which traced the scientific eras and periods of creativity, stressing the magnitude of educational responsibilities involved in preparation for the future

* * * *

MRS. NICHOL ELECTED

Mrs. William Nichol Jr. of Scottsbluff was elected president of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers Thursday by delegates at the group's 43rd annual convention here

She succeeds Mrs Ralph Beechner of Lincoln

Statement On Rights Act OK

The State Education Department learned Thursday that its statement of compliance with the federal civil rights act has been approved, according to Dr Floyd Miller state education commissioner

Miller said federal acceptance of the statement should mean quick approval of the Nebraska plan for new programs under the vocational education act of 1963

Nebraska's allocation for this fiscal year under the vocational training act is $860 000

But Miller said delays in acceptance of the Nebraska plan probably will preclude the use of some of the allocation He noted that the fiscal year ends June 30 and that the money can't be carried over into the next fiscal period

The Nebraska plan was turned into the federal government last January.

Informal Change In Time Illegal?

A planned "informal" time change by three counties in southwest Nebraska may put them at odds with state law.

The counties plan to switch to Central Standard Time Sunday, although state law puts the area in the Mountain Standard Time zone

State Deputy Atty Gen Gerald Vitamvas said responsibility for enforcing the law rests with local county attornies

The counties in which the switch is planned are Dundy, Perkins and Chase They contend Colorado's switch to daylight savings time has made the counties "an island" that is one hour behind residents living on either side.

Increase Reported In Lobbyist Total

One hundred and ninety-seven lobbyists the highest total since the session began in January were registered with the secretary of state's office for April, a report of the secretary of state showed Thursday

The report also showed that 81 lobbyists and organizations failed to file monthly expense statements for March as required by law, also a session high.

More strength is required for boards of education to work with the public rather than apart from it, a member of the Omaha school board told a workshop here Thursday during the second day of the Nebraska Congress for Parents and Teachers convention.

Mrs. Maurice Frank of the Omaha board, participating in a panel discussion on "Clarifying the Responsibilities for Educational Decision-Making," said, "School boards should seek the aid of citizens." She noted that the Omaha board had taken the initiative to create its own Citizens Advisory Council.

Lincoln School Board member J. Arthur Danielson told the PTA delegates, officers and members that "all official business of school boards must be transacted in open meetings—however, that doesn't mean the discussions."

The school administrative viewpoint about decision-making was expressed by Darryl G. Irish, superintendent of the Albion Public Schools, who said, "If things are taking place in the school system which are not justified by written policies, they really shouldn't be happening."

Other Panels

In addition to the educational decision-making workshop, panel discussions also were conducted on apathy, disadvantaged children, health and safety hazards, and peace.

Convention delegates had started off the morning Thursday with a report on the state's educational television network. They had the opportunity to view broadcasts about American literature and fifth grade arithmetic.

Jack McBride, manager of the Nebraska ETV Commission, discussed present status and plans for the implementation of a statewide system of ETV, expected to be completed by 1967. In addition to public school use, "as the network is completed, it will serve all 21 colleges in the state" and even nursing classes, he said.

Luncheon speaker Dr. Rosalie Farley of the University of Nebraska said Thursday, "The educational programs offered in the majority of Nebraska schools during the last 50 years cannot adequately meet the needs of the next 50 years even with a maximum amount of school reorganization and school aid."

Discussing the needs for and merits of comprehensive, balanced educational programs, the NU professor said that the state should better utilize its physical plants and plan stronger programs for both remedial and enrichment purposes.

"Balance between academic and applied subjects" is also essential, she advised.

Awards given during the convention included the President's Trophy, originated by Mrs. Ralph Beechner in a previous term in office, to the Mason School PTA of Omaha for its Block Plan project. Each block in the area has a designated house at which children may stop if they need help before they reach their own home, Mrs. Beechner explained.

Magazine subscription awards for the highest number of sales went to Benson West in Omaha for units with a membership over 250 and to Schuyler in the group of units with a membership under 250.

The regional director of aerospace education, Harold P. Pluimer, addressed the Nebraska Congress Thursday evening. The U.S. Air Force representative narrated colored slides which traced the scientific eras and periods of creativity, stressing the magnitude of educational responsibilities involved in preparation for the future.

MRS. NICHOL ELECTED

Mrs. William Nichol Jr. of Scottsbluff was elected president of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers Thursday by delegates at the group's 43rd annual convention here.

She succeeds Mrs. Ralph Beechner of Lincoln.

Mrs. Harold H. Thompson of Lincoln was elected first vice president.

District directors chosen included District II, Mrs. Edwin L. Ingraham of Omaha; District IX, Mrs. Gene Ransom of Kearney; District XIII, Mrs. Frank D. Medsker of Kimball; and District XV, Mrs. Gilbert Mohr of Scribner.

Statement On Rights Act OK

The State Education Department learned Thursday that its statement of compliance with the federal civil rights act has been approved, according to Dr. Floyd Miller, state education commissioner.

Miller said federal acceptance of the statement should mean quick approval of the Nebraska plan for new programs under the vocational education act of 1963.

Nebraska's allocation for this fiscal year under the vocational training act is $860,000.

But Miller said delays in acceptance of the Nebraska plan probably will preclude the use of some of the allocation. He noted that the fiscal year ends June 30, and that the money can't be carried over into the next fiscal period.

The Nebraska plan was turned into the federal government last January.

Informal Change In Time Illegal?

A planned "informal" time change by three counties in southwest Nebraska may put them at odds with state law.

The counties plan to switch to Central Standard Time Sunday, although state law puts the area in the Mountain Standard Time zone.

State Deputy Atty. Gen. Gerald Vitamvas said responsibility for enforcing the law rests with local county attornies.

The counties in which the switch is planned are Dundy, Perkins and Chase. They contend Colorado's switch to daylight savings time has made the counties "an island" that is one hour behind residents living on either side.

Increase Reported In Lobbyist Total

One hundred and ninety-seven lobbyists, the highest total since the session began in January were registered with the secretary of state's office for April, a report of the secretary of state showed Thursday.

The report also showed that 81 lobbyists and organizations failed to file monthly expense statements for March as required by law, also a session high.

Yugoslavia ranks fourth among European countries in consumption of alcoholic drinks, with an average of nine liters per person per year.

We don't get much sports in this department I can't get in the depths of despair when outfielder McToosieroll pulls a muscle

I have a neck myself that battles medical science But nobody writes about it I just put on a felt collar and take an aspirin

Even so, it seems to be baseball season. So, to press

The most important thing about baseball is the hot dog. There are several stories about its origin. You can't tell the players without a program; and you can't tell the true story of hot dogs without a lie detector.

One story goes like this.

"Charles Feltman brought the frankfurter from his Native Bavaria in 1871 and featured it at his famous Coney Island restaurant introducing the hot dog to the U.S."

Here's another:

"It was at the St. Louis Louisiana Exposition in 1904. A concessionaire loaned white gloves to his patrons so they could hold the piping-hot wieners.

"He found people didn't returned the glove. So he turned to his brother, a baker, and had a bun made to fit the sausage. Thus inventing the hot dog."

This should add to your enjoyment of the national pastime invented by Abner Doubleday

A little history spread on the chin along with the mustard.

I used to get background on the hot dog from Irving Hoffman, the New York historian

Hoffman was press agent for Coney Island hot dogs. His stationery carried the message: "When a man bites a dog, that's news."

Once the King of England visited the U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt gave him a hot dog. Shown in all the photos.

The President announced that it was "a genuine Coney Island red hot."

I don't know where the story of tS. Louis and the white gloves comes from.

The story that Charles Feltman brought the hot dog to Coney Island comes from the archives of the august National Geographic. (Though I wonder if this wasn't planted by Irving Hoffman, too.)

I favor this version. When I was a baseball fan, hanging on the exploits of "Shoeless Joe" Jackson and worrying about "Red" Faber's arm, hot dogs were sold as "Coney Island red hots."

That is my contact with the sporting world—the hot dog. Oh, once I tried to be a sports writer. I wrote "Snively hit a home run."

The sports editor was aghast. He said: "He wafted the spheroid over the pickets! Can't you write English?"

I had to admit I couldn't. Not sports English. So they put me back on pistol-packing mamas. Talking dogs and club luncheons. I made a living out of it.

A JUNE bride-elect was party honoree

Among the June brides-elect is Miss Jean Morrison, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Frank Morrison, whose marriage to William Bennett Galloway of Rockford, Ill., will take place on June 12.

Miss Morrison, home from Hinsdale, Ill., for the spring holiday was paid prenuptial courtesy on Wednesday evening when Mrs. Don Bergquist, Jr., was a hostess at her home. Thirty guests were invited to the party, and the bride-elect was presented with a personal shower.

Town Talk

We're pretty well caught up on the weekend—but for an addition to the guest list.

William B. Galloway arrives this evening from Rockford, Ill., to join his fiancee, Miss Jean Morrison, at the Governor's Mansion for a Friday-to-Sunday stay. Mr. Galloway will leave on Sunday to return to Rockford, and Miss Morrison also will be leaving on Sunday to return to Hinsdale, Ill.

We've already mentioned that the 100 Club is having a 'garden party' on Saturday evening at the Lincoln Country Club. And since the theme for the dinner dance is 'garden party' we suspect that much of the decor planning fell on the shoulders of one committee member — Irv Rosewell.

But this morning we have the 100 Club guest list, and it includes Mr. and Mrs. George Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie, Mr. and Mrs. John Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Van Ashmun.

Wedding Plans

Revealing plans this morning for an early summer wedding is Miss Valeria Ann Nelson of Lincoln, who has chosen a June date for her marriage to Capt. William Lee Hiner of Waynesboro, Va.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Nelson of Norfolk, has announced that the wedding will take place on Sunday, June 27, in the chapel of Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Her maid of honor and only attendant for the 2:30 o'clock service will be her sister, Miss Karen Nelson of Lincoln.

Charles Alan Hiner of Waynesboro, will serve his brother as best man.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Hiner of Waynesboro, Capt. Hiner is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., and recently was stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Election Planned

Planning a 12:30 o'clock luncheon on Saturday at the Hotel Cornhusker are the members of the Zonta Club of Lincoln, who will hold their annual business meeting and election of officers.

Next Monday evening, the club members will go to Omaha where they will join with members of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Zonta Clubs for a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Sheraton-Fontenelle.

Following the dinner, new officers and boards of directors of each club will be formally installed by Mrs. Esther Westman of St. Paul, Minn., governor of the international organization's District VII.

Current officers of the Lincoln club are Mrs. Willis Hecht, president; Mrs. William Grossman, vice president; Mrs. Carl Dietrich, secretary; Mrs. Robert B. Sutter, treasurer: Mrs. Jack K. Sittner and Mrs. E. G. Dittmer, directors.

Mothers Club

The April meeting of the Pershing Mothers Club will be held next Tuesday in the school auditorium. The 1:30 o'clock program will include a fashion show and annual election of officers.

NEWS of the suburban areas

Warm days usher in mouth watering thoughts of picnic tables and succulent charcoal broiled steaks. It's no secret when someone in the neighborhood sets up the rotisserie in the back yard—because the tantalizing aroma from the grill travels way to the end of the street.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Mitchell ushered in the patio season with what must have been the first cookout of the neighborhood last Thursday night—and the neighbors on W. Rio Road got the message in the wind.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and their sons, Phil and Neil, were entertaining Mr. Mitchell's brother and sister-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Phil Mitchell, and their children Dana, Drew, and Donald Graham. In fact, the two families were together for more than one evening. Capt. Mitchell and his family were house guests of his brother and sister-in-law for three days prior to leaving for Sherman, Tex., on Friday morning.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Spring is the time to move to greener pastures—to establish new roots. Anyway, people in Lincoln move from place to place on occasion for one reason or another. Country Club Terrace lost some residents last week—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Parrish.

CLIFFORD PLACE

Easter Sunday is over, but we aren't through telling you about what went on that day. It was such a pleasant day for driving out of town to have dinner at "Grandma's house," that Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Dickey took Bryan, Ricky, and Sherry to Milford to dine at the home of Mrs. Dickey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heinz who, of course, are Bryan's grandparents.

BETHANY PARK HEIGHTS

You know too that the Easter rabbit left his eggs scattered here, there, and everywhere—in public parks, family homes, and even back yards. There aren't enough Easter baskets to go around; and anyway, it must be a terrific rush for him on Easter morning.

There were eggs in the back yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Manglitz. They hunted them in the evening, after dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Manglitz had plenty of help from their children, Ruth Ann, Harry, Paul, and Mary. Also the Rev. and Mrs. William Hall, of the Trinity United Church of Christ, and their sons Daniel and Jeffery, and Miss Gertrude Ulrich, formerly a missionary in Turkey, joined in the search.

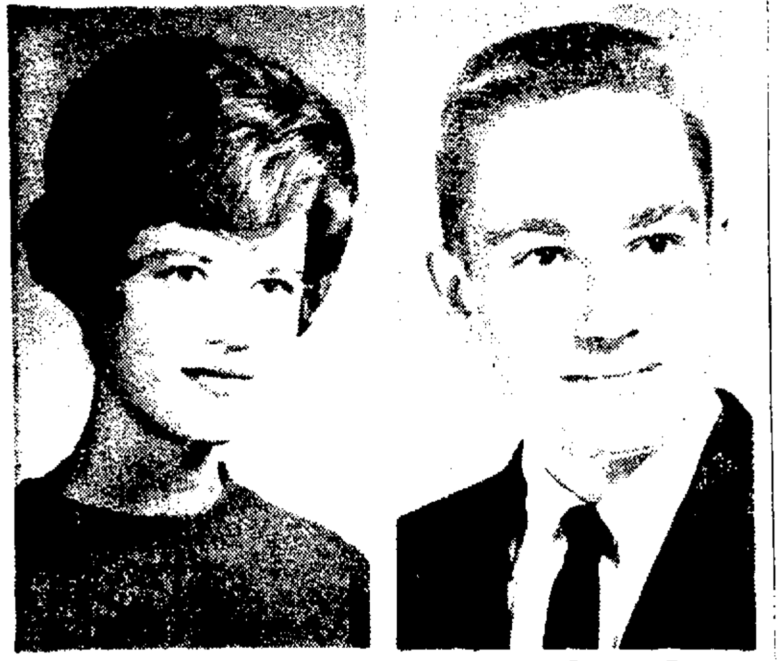
Mr. and Mrs. Manglitz, Ruth Ann, and Harry, delighted in seeing the Easter pageant at the Bethany Christian Church on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Manglitz "highly recommended it" to us, and we think it's worth passing on to you, as a possibility for next year.

EASTRIDGE

Ladies of the neighborhood shuffled over to the home of Mrs. Everett E. Peterson last week in order to shuffle their cards at a bridge game.

The bridge players were Mrs. Howard Ottoson, Mrs. Eldon Kreimer, Mrs. Harold Hetherington, Mrs. Vale Van Boskirk, Mrs. Dale McCracken, Mrs. Edward Schmacher, and Mrs. Stanley Krause.

WIN HONORS



Miss Nancy Coufal of Seward, and James Benton, Northeast High School senior, have been named the winner and runnerup, respectively, in the Youth Citizenship Award contest of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln.

The nation-wide program is sponsored by individual clubs and is conducted on regional and federation levels. Cash awards are presented at each level and regional winners compete for an award of $2,500.

The two finalists and their parents will be honored next Wednesday evening at a recognition dinner given by the club at the Hotel Cornhusker. Program speaker will be Asa A. Christiensen, attorney.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Coufal of Seward, who, incidentally were the award-winning 1962 Farm Family of the Year, Nancy most recently served as the Nebraska Junior Miss and participated in the national pageant at which she received the top scholastic trophy.

She also is the recipient of a national 4-H scholarship and numerous awards in sewing, debate and livestock judging, and plans to enter the University of Nebraska in the fall.

Planning a career in the medical profession, James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Benton. An Eagle Scout, he has served as a Scout counselor and coach of a Little Chief baseball team.

BRIDE

The marriage of Miss Morgan Larkin, daughter of Mrs. John Francis Larkin of Beverly Hills, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, to James Lee Rankin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Rankin, New York City, former Lincoln residents, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, April 17, in the home of the bride's mother. The lines of the service were read by Dr. Samuel Allison, minister of the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian Church, in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, and the wedding music was played by Wilbur Chenoweth, Beverly Hills, formerly of Lincoln.

Frocked in petal pink silk were Miss Bourke Larkin, who was her twin sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sara Rankin of Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Barbara Clark, port Washington, N.Y.

Roger Rankin, Ogallala, served his brother as best man, and the ushers were the bridegroom's cousin, Bruce Russell, San Diego, Calif.; and David Yoder, San Francisco.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white peau de soie. The snug bodice was designed with elbow sleeves and a shell neckline, edged with seed pearls, and the skirt was shirred into controlled fullness. She wore a mantilla of Spanish lace.

A graduate of the Marlborough School for Girls, Los Angeles, the bride studied in Paris and was graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. Mr. Rankin is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Princeton University, and will receive his law degree in June from the University of California at Berkeley.

ABBY
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Cookie and I have been married for six years. We have no children. This is the second time around for both of us. I work nights and Cookie works a split shift. Something went wrong with the equipment at the plant and they had to shut down and send everyone home until they could get a replacement for the big machine. When I got home no one was there, but the bedroom smelled like someone had been smoking cigars in there. Cookie doesn't smoke and I smoke cigarettes. When I went into the bathroom, I saw my razor on the sink. It was still wet. The wife doesn't shave. Should I ask some questions?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If you ask a foolish question, you'll get a foolish answer. It looks like somebody had a pretty close shave.

WHY Grow Old?
it's questions, answers day
Josephine Lowman

Q. How can I lose weight where I want to? I have already lost 10 pounds (doctor's orders) but I lose practically none in my waist and hips and that's where I am out of proportion.

A. When you lose weight you lose all over, but you can speed the loss in special measurements with special exercises.

Q. Is cooked breakfast cereal fattening? I cannot use milk in any form so I pour a small amount of maple syrup over the cereal. Please advise me. I must lose weight!

A. It is the sugar and cream many folks load on the cereal which makes it a high calorie item. Actually, little less than a cup of cereal has between 90 and 100 calories.

Q. I have used hair coloring for some time. I used a rather dark shade to ensure covering the gray. It doesn't look natural. Should a woman choose a lighter or darker shade as she grows older? Also will the lighter shades really cover gray hair? What can I use between colorings when the gray begins to show?

A. Yes, the light shades will cover gray. A woman should select a color a shade lighter than her natural color in younger years. Use a rinse in between color jobs. There are some splendid ones.

Q. How should I select a skin specialist? I have large pores and want to get rid of them. I don't know how to be sure that I have a good doctor.

A. Ask your family physician to recommend one, or call your best hospital and ask for the name of a dermatologist on their staff. You may even call your local county medical society.

BRIDGE
B. JAY BECKER

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♣	Pass	Pass	?

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ6 ♥752 ♦KJ84 ♣AJ9
2. ♠KQ3 ♥A74 ♦A95 ♣KQ83
3. ♠K85 ♥KJ742 ♦J863 ♣6
4. ♠AQ4 ♥6 ♦K82 ♣QJ9742
5. ♠8 ♥AQJ983 ♦AKJ4 ♣95

1. One notrump. The ordinary rules of bidding do not apply whenever unusual circumstances exist. Thus, in this case, it would be clearly improper to overcall with a notrump if your right-hand opponent opened the bidding, but the situation is quite different when your left-hand opponent opens the bidding and the next two players pass.

If you were to pass, that would close the bidding; it followed that if you decide to compete rather than give up, you cannot be held strictly accountable for having the values usually expected.

A notrump bid, a suit overcall, or even a double are all suspect when a player is in what is called the balancing seat. The balancer has a right to count on at least those values in his partner's hand which the willingness of the opponents to play at a low contract clearly indicates. The notrump bid in this sequence ordinarily is based on from 10 to 14 poists.

2. Double. The double is simply a further illustration of what was said above. It would be wrong to bid one notrump at this point, since partner would play us for only a protective hand rather than a solid 18-point hand. The intention is to bid one notrump if partner responds to the double with one of any suit. Such a sequence shows genuine, not merely protective, values.

3. One heart. This isn't much of a hand, as hands go, but it justifies a balancing bid of one heart. It is hardly likely that a game can be made, but the battle for the part score is still worth while.

4. Pass. When you've got the opponents where you'd like to have them, it's better not to rock the boat. The odds are that declarer will go down a few vulnerable and that your side cannot make a game. If you were to bid now, you might wind up in a worse position. The hand is much more promising on defesse than offense.

5. Two hearts. It would be wrong to bid only one heart which would imply a much weaker hand in the balancing position, or to double, which is undesirable in view of the spade shortage. The jump in hearts shows a good hand, but one with limited flexibility. The jump is not forcing and partner may pass with a poor hand.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin clear and fair and your hair brilliant you need the natural cleansing and bleaching tonic of lemons. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon jelvyn, the latest lemon-type skin freshener that beautiful women are now using. Lemon jelvyn bleaches yellowness of the hands and neck, beautifies the complexion as it melts out plugged pores and closes them to a beautifully fine texture. Lemon jelvyn is excellent for a quick cleanse or to quell a greasy nose. A little lemon jelvyn brushed on the hair after your shampoo will give it the glamour of sparkling diamonds. This is a luxury skin freshener and cleanser.

BRIDE

The marriage of Miss Morgan Larkin, daughter of Mrs. John Francis Larkin of Beverly Hills, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, to James Lee Rankin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Rankin, New York City, former Lincoln residents, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, April 17, in the home of the bride's mother. The lines of the service were read by Dr. Samuel Allison, minister of the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian Church, in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, and the wedding music was played by Wilbur Chenoweth, Beverly Hills, formerly of Lincoln.

Frocked in petal pink silk were Miss Bourke Larkin, who was her twin sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sara Rankin of Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Barbara Clark, port Washington, N.Y.

Roger Rankin, Ogallala, served his brother as best man, and the ushers were the bridegroom's cousin, Bruce Russell, San Diego, Calif.; and David Yoder, San Francisco.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white peau de soie. The snug bodice was designed with elbow sleeves and a shell neckline, edged with seed pearls, and the skirt was shirred into controlled fullness. She wore a mantilla of Spanish lace.

A graduate of the Marlborough School for Girls, Los Angeles, the bride studied in Paris and was graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. Mr. Rankin is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Princeton University, and will receive his law degree in June from the University of California at Berkeley.

WHY Grow Old?

it's questions, answers day

Josephine Lowman

Q. How can I lose weight where I want to? I have already lost 10 pounds (doctor's orders) but I lose practically none in my waist and hips and that's where I am out of proportion.

A. When you lose weight you lose all over, but you can speed the loss in special measurements with special exercises.

Q. Is cooked breakfast cereal fattening? I cannot use milk in any form so I pour a small amount of maple syrup over the cereal. Please advise me. I must lose weight!

A. It is the sugar and cream many folks load on the cereal which makes it a high calorie item. Actually, little less than a cup of cereal has between 90 and 100 calories.

Q. I have used hair coloring for some time. I used a rather dark shade to ensure covering the gray. It doesn't look natural. Should a woman choose a lighter or darker shade as she grows older? Also will the lighter shades really cover gray hair? What can I use between colorings when the gray begins to show?

A. Yes, the light shades will cover gray. A woman should select a color a shade lighter than her natural color in younger years. Use a rinse in between color jobs. There are some splendid ones.

Q. How should I select a skin specialist? I have large pores and want to get rid of them. I don't know how to be sure that I have a good doctor.

A. Ask your family physician to recommend one, or call your best hospital and ask for the name of a dermatologist on their staff. You may even call your local county medical society.

BRIDGE

B. JAY BECKER

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♣	Pass	Pass	?

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ6 ♥752 ♦KJ84 ♣AJ9
2. ♠KQ3 ♥A74 ♦A95 ♣KQ83
3. ♠K85 ♥KJ742 ♦J863 ♣6
4. ♠AQ4 ♥6 ♦K82 ♣QJ9742
5. ♠8 ♥AQJ983 ♦AKJ4 ♣95

1. One notrump. The ordinary rules of bidding do not apply whenever unusual circumstances exist. Thus, in this case, it would be clearly improper to overcall with a notrump if your right-hand opponent opened the bidding, but the situation is quite different when your left-hand opponent opens the bidding and the next two players pass.

If you were to pass, that would close the bidding; it followed that if you decide to compete rather than give up, you cannot be held strictly accountable for having the values usually expected.

A notrump bid, a suit overcall, or even a double are all suspect when a player is in what is called the balancing seat. The balancer has a right to count on at least those values in his partner's hand which the willingness of the opponents to play at a low contract clearly indicates. The notrump bid in this sequence ordinarily is based on from 10 to 14 poists.

2. Double. The double is simply a further illustration of what was said above. It would be wrong to bid one notrump at this point, since partner would play us for only a protective hand rather than a solid 18-point hand. The intention is to bid one notrump if partner responds to the double with one of any suit. Such a sequence shows genuine, not merely protective, values.

3. One heart. This isn't much of a hand, as hands go, but it justifies a balancing bid of one heart. It is hardly likely that a game can be made, but the battle for the part score is still worth while.

4. Pass. When you've got the opponents where you'd like to have them, it's better not to rock the boat. The odds are that declarer will go down a few vulnerable and that your side cannot make a game. If you were to bid now, you might wind up in a worse position. The hand is much more promising on defesse than offense.

5. Two hearts. It would be wrong to bid only one heart which would imply a much weaker hand in the balancing position, or to double, which is undesirable in view of the spade shortage. The jump in hearts shows a good hand, but one with limited flexibility. The jump is not forcing and partner may pass with a poor hand.

ABBY

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Cookie and I have been married for six years. We have no children. This is the second time around for both of us. I work nights and Cookie works a split shift. Something went wrong with the equipment at the plant and they had to shut down and send everyone home until they could get a replacement for the big machine. When I got home no one was there, but the bedroom smelled like someone had been smoking cigars in there. Cookie doesn't smoke and I smoke cigarettes. When I went into the bathroom, I saw my razor on the sink. It was still wet. The wife doesn't shave. Should I ask some questions?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If you ask a foolish question, you'll get a foolish answer. It looks like somebody had a pretty close shave.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin clear and fair and your hair brilliant you need the natural cleansing and bleaching tonic of lemons. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon jelvyn, the latest lemon-type skin freshener that beautiful women are now using. Lemon jelvyn bleaches yellowness of the hands and neck, beautifies the complexion as it melts out plugged pores and closes them to a beautifully fine texture. Lemon jelvyn is excellent for a quick cleanse or to quell a greasy nose. A little lemon jelvyn brushed on the hair after your shampoo will give it the glamour of sparkling diamonds. This is a luxury skin freshener and cleanser.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Some states try to prevent collisions with "one-eyed" cars by issuing reflective front license plates.

Cancer, which claims the lives of about 300,000 Americans a year, is the nation's second largest killer.

According to ancient Roman superstition, rats could be used to foretell the future. To see a white rat meant good fortune.

In the 1961 fiscal year, the U.S. Mint used 114 million ounces of silver. Yet the U.S. produces only 10 million ounces a year. The U.S. Treasury's entire supply of silver is 1,550,000,000 ounces.

In the 1960 census there were 139 Chinese males in the United States to every 100 Chinese females and 172 Filipino males to every 100 Filipino females.

Heart disease and strokes claimed the lives of about one million Americans a year.

Scramblers His Meat

"It's going to take more than a flood of quarterbacks in the National Football League like Fran Tarkenton, Don Meredith and George Mira to convince Bill George that the scrambling type quarterback is the future key to success in the NFL.

In fact, the way George looks at it, the more the merrier. As a defensive linebacker for the Chicago Bears, George notes that he prefers the scrambler.

"I am like Y. A. Tittle in that respect," George pointed out on a recent trip to Lincoln as a representative for S&H Green Stamps. "Any time that quarterback gets to running around out there, if he runs around long enough, some big lineman is going to fall on him."

As a linebacker who thrives on knocking ball carriers down, George figures a scrambling quarterback gives him one more target in the backfield.

"I like to see them scramble," he points out. "The passer is somewhat protected by the rules when he goes back to pass, but the minute he starts to scramble, then he becomes just another ball carrier and he's fair game.

"Generally a team is built around a quarterback and if he gets hurt, it weakens the team's effectiveness that day because they have built their game plans around him," George continues.

Using the Minnesota Vikings' Tarkenton as an example, George notes, "Ron VanderKelen is a fine quarterback (Minnesota's alternate signal-caller), but they are used to playing with Tarkenton.

"Some one lowered the boom on Tarkenton in one of their games and they weren't nearly as effective with VanderKelen in there the rest of the game.

"That's not saying that any lineman deliberately tries to hurt anyone," he explains. "But it just stands to reason that a scrambler is going to get hit more often than the drop back passer and is thus more subject to injury."

Shaw An Example

To illustrate his point on scrambling quarterbacks, George goes back a few years to a Bears game with Baltimore.

"Baltimore had a rookie quarterback named Shaw who was a scrambler," George recalls. "He ruined us in the first game we played against him.

"This guy hit 17 of 18 passes and ran all over the place. But then he suffered a knee injury which reduced his quickness and elusiveness.

"This reduced him to the role of a drop back passer and he soon faded from the scene."

Yet To Prove Themselves

The Chicago linebacker, who has put his share of quarterbacks on the sidelines, also feels the scrambling quarterback has yet to prove himself.

"A championship team has yet to be quarterbacked by a scrambling quarterback," he points out. "It's still the guy who drops back into the pocket and picks out his receivers that counts."

George brings up another problem of the scrambling quarterback. "He fumbles a lot more," the defensive standout notes. "Tarkenton is the best scrambling quarterback in pro football, but he is also the best fumbler."

As long as the Tarkentons, Miras and Meredithes continue to scramble, George will be happy chasing them.

NU 440 TEAM SEEKS SWEEP

Enter Drake Relays

. . . HEADLEY KEY

Des Moines — Nebraska's 440-yard relay team will go for a sweep of the three big midwest Relays at the Drake Relays here this weekend.

The Husker quartet—Tom Millsap, Dave Crook, Lynn Headley and Charlie Greene—won at the Texas Relays and last weekend's Kansas Relays with :40.5s.

The key to the group is Headley—the third runner. Greene, who anchors, calls Lynn "the best No. 3 man in the country. He is also one of the best curve runners and before the race I know I will either have a lead or little ground to make up."

And with Big Eight and NCAA Indoor 60-yard dash champion Greene running last, any lead is a substantial one.

At Lawrence Headley, a Jamican Olympian, handed Greene the baton with a four-stride lead and Charlie breezed in.

Greene, only a sophomore, will also enter the open 100-yard dash. It will be the first time he has run it this season.

Coach Frank Sevigne will also put up the mile relay team, 880 relay unit and Preston Love in the high hurdles among the running events.

Field event men will be:

—High jumper Jack Cramer, who cleared 6-6 against Houston and Wisconsin last Tuesday.

—Pole vaulter Ron Fecht, who did 14-4 in his first and only competition of the outdoor season.

Kent Tarbutton, a 200-1 javelin thrower in Tuesday's triangular.

The mile relay unit of Dennis Walker, Jim Wendt, Dick Strand and Crook went 3:09.3 at KU but was edged out by Southern Illinois. Anchor man Crook gave the Relays a dramatic close by bringing the Huskers from 15 yards behind to the close second on a brilliant :45.5 lap.

Nebraska won it at Drake last year in 3:09 2.

Reserved Tickets Available For Big Eight Track Meet

For the first time reserved tickets are being offered for the Big Eight Track and Field Championships, May 14-15, at NU's Memorial Stadium.

Some 3,000 seats have been set aside near the finish line, available for Saturday's finals only. The tickets are now available at the NU Ticket Office in the Coliseum.

Also available are All-Sports Day tickets. Those May 8 festivities include the Missouri v. Nebraska dual track meet and a Nebraska varsity intrasquad football game. A baseball game is also slated against Oklahoma in the morning.

Wesleyan Loses Twin Bill; No-Hit Victim In 2nd Game

. . . BUENA VISTA SCORES CONQUEST

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Wild pitching, strategic errors and a no-hitter caused Nebraska Wesleyan to drop a doubleheader to Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Iowa, Thursday at Sherman Field by the scores of 7-2 and 5-1.

Buena Vista pitchers Dan Southard and Dennis Anderson teamed up in the second game to throw a no-hitter at the Plainsmen.

Southard, who pitched the first five innings, handcuffed the Wesleyan hitters with a big motion fast ball and a troublesome let-up curve. In his five innings, he struck out 10 Plainsmen batters while walking only two.

Wesleyan's only run in the 5-1 setback came while Buena Vista coach Jay Beeckman was arguing with plate umpire George Binger.

With Jim Roark on third, Wesleyan's Dale Pelz took what Buena Vista claimed was a third strike. While Beeckman disputed the point with Binger, Roark' raced across the plate when Beeckman failed to call time out.

Buena Vista scored enough runs to ice the game in the next inning with a four-run five-hit barrage.

Wildness hurt Wesleyan pitcher Jerry Schmutte in the first game. Schmutte walked three and hit three with pitched balls. Buena Vista converted the brief wild spells into four runs in the 7-2 victory.

Schmutte walked lead-off batter Dan Monzon. Monzon stole second and advanced to third when Roark bobbled the ball. He scored on a sacrifice fly.

Dave Wolfe also walked and scored on a double by Arnold Zediker. Zediker crossed the plate on a single by Tom Selim.

Monzon scored again after being hit by a pitch in the fourth. The other three Buena Vista runs in the first game were scored in the third on two hits, another hit batsmen and an error.

The first of Wesleyan's two runs in the first game came in the fourth inning when lead-off hitter Steve Carlson poked a fly into left field and stretched it into a double. He advanced to third on a ground ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Roark.

The other run came in the fifth when Buena Vista shortstop Monzon muffed a ground ball which allowed Ron Wood to reach second. Wood went to third on a grounder and scored on a passed ball by catcher Selim.

Huskers Face Kansas State

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska plays host to Kansas State in a three-game baseball series at the NU diamond today and Saturday with its future in the Big Eight championship race hanging in the balance.

The Huskers, who got off to a strong start with a twin win over Missouri two weeks ago, stumbled and lost two at Colorado last weekend.

The double setback at Boulder left the Huskers with a 3-2 conference mark, tying them for third place with defending champion Missouri. The Tigers meet league-leading Oklahoma State at Stillwater today and Saturday.

Nebraska and Kansas State will play two this afternoon at 1:30 and a single game Saturday at 1 p.m.

A three-game sweep would put coach Tony Sharp's club in a strong challenging position should Missouri and Oklahoma State split their series. However, more than one loss would drop the Huskers into a tough position from which to make a bid for the Big Eight crown.

Mental errors were mainly responsible for the NU difficulties at Colorado and Sharpe hopes these same mistakes won't crop up again this season.

"We made a lot of mental errors running," Sharpe groaned in recalling the Colorado series. "We had runners getting thrown out because they rounded the bases too far. We even had kids falling down."

But the Huskers did get good hitting against the Buffs and the pitching continued to stand up. NU put 29 men on base, but had trouble getting them to touch all four corners.

"We beat ourselves," Sharpe pointed out. "Our hitting was good. The defense and pitching were good. But we made just too many mental mistakes."

Bahnsen is the staff's ERA leader, allowing only 2.08 runs per nine innings. He blanked Missouri in the opening Big Eight series, breaking a 20-game conference win string of the Tigers.

The right-hander from Council Bluffs, Iowa, was effective against the Buffs in the 3-2 loss except for a two-run fifth inning.

Hergenrader, who gained one of the wins against Missouri, picked up his second victory of the campaign with a 4-2 win over Colorado, striking out 10 and giving up only three hits.

Kansas State with a 2-4 record is in a sixth place tie with Colorado in the Big Eight race.

Devaney Splits NU Gridders Into Units

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney Thursday broke his squad into new teams for the resumption of spring practice.

The 12-man first offensive unit, which includes both Bob Churchich and Wayne Weber at quarterback, boasts nine lettermen from last year's Big Eight champions. The only newcomers are squadman Kelly Petersen at center and sophomore-to-be Wayne Maylen at right guard.

Three members of last year's freshman team, quarterback Ernie Sigler, right halfback Ben Gregory and right end Dennis Richnafsky, were placed on the second team.

There are 11 lettermen on a first defensive team which includes 14 players. Halfback Dennis Thorell is the only non-letterman holding down a spot by himself, while Roger Kudrna is battling veteran Mike Kennedy at a guard position and Carel Stith is competing with returning regular Richard Czap for a tackle berth.

Scramblers His Meat

"It's going to take more than a flood of quarterbacks in the National Football League like Fran Tarkenton, Don Meredith and George Mira to convince Bill George that the scrambling type quarterback is the future key to success in the NFL.

In fact, the way George looks at it, the more the merrier. As a defensive linebacker for the Chicago Bears. George notes that he prefers the scrambler.

"I am like Y. A. Tittle in that respect," George pointed out on a recent trip to Lincoln as a representative for S&H Green Stamps. "Any time that quarterback gets to running around out there, if he runs around long enough, some big lineman is going to fall on him."

As a linebacker who thrives on knocking ball carriers down, George figures a scrambling quarterback gives him one more target in the backfield.

"I like to see them scramble," he points out. "The passer is somewhat protected by the rules when he goes back to pass, but the minute he starts to scramble, then he becomes just another ball carrier and he's fair game.

"Generally a team is built around a quarterback and if he gets hurt, it weakens the team's effectiveness that day because they have built their game plans around him," George continues.

Using the Minnesota Vikings' Tarkenton as an example, George notes, "Ron VanderKelen is a fine quarterback (Minnesota's alternate signal-caller), but they are used to playing with Tarkenton.

"Some one lowered the boom on Tarkenton in one of their games and they weren't nearly as effective with VanderKelen in there the rest of the game.

"That's not saying that any lineman deliberately tries to hurt anyone," he explains. "But it just stands to reason that a scrambler is going to get hit more often than the drop back passer and is thus more subject to injury."

Shaw An Example

To illustrate his point on scrambling quarterbacks, George goes back a few years to a Bears game with Baltimore.

"Baltimore had a rookie quarterback named Shaw who was a scrambler," George recalls. "He ruined us in the first game we played against him.

"This guy hit 17 of 18 passes and ran all over the place. But then he suffered a knee injury which reduced his quickness and elusiveness.

"This reduced him to the role of a drop back passer and he soon faded from the scene."

Yet To Prove Themselves

The Chicago linebacker, who has put his share of quarterbacks on the sidelines, also feels the scrambling quarterback has yet to prove himself.

"A championship team has yet to be quarterbacked by a scrambling quarterback," he points out. "It's still the guy who drops back into the pocket and picks out his receivers that counts."

George brings up another problem of the scrambling quarterback. "He fumbles a lot more," the defensive standout notes. "Tarkenton is the best scrambling quarterback in pro football, but he is also the best fumbler."

As long as the Tarkentons, Miras and Meredithes continue to scramble, George will be happy chasing them.

. . . HEADLEY KEY

Des Moines — Nebraska's 440-yard relay team will go for a sweep of the three big midwest Relays at the Drake Relays here this weekend.

The Husker quartet—Tom Millsap, Dave Crook, Lynn Headley and Charlie Greene—won at the Texas Relays and last weekend's Kansas Relays with :40.5s.

The key to the group is Headley—the third runner. Greene, who anchors, calls Lynn "the best No. 3 man in the country. He is also one of the best curve runners and before the race I know I will either have a lead or little ground to make up."

And with Big Eight and NCAA Indoor 60-yard dash champion Greene running last, any lead is a substantial one.

At Lawrence Headley, a Jamican Olympian, handed Greene the baton with a four-stride lead and Charlie breezed in.

Greene, only a sophomore, will also enter the open 100-yard dash. It will be the first time he has run it this season.

Coach Frank Sevigne will also put up the mile relay team, 880 relay unit and Preston Love in the high hurdles among the running events.

Field event men will be:

—High jumper Jack Cramer, who cleared 6-6 against Houston and Wisconsin last Tuesday.

—Pole vaulter Ron Fecht, who did 14-4 in his first and only competition of the outdoor season.

Kent Tarbutton, a 200-1 javelin thrower in Tuesday's triangular.

The mile relay unit of Dennis Walker, Jim Wendt, Dick Strand and Crook went 3:09.3 at KU but was edged out by Southern Illinois. Anchor man Crook gave the Relays a dramatic close by bringing the Huskers from 15 yards behind to the close second on a brilliant :45.5 lap.

Nebraska won it at Drake last year in 3:09.2.

Reserved Tickets Available For Big Eight Track Meet

For the first time reserved tickets are being offered for the Big Eight Track and Field Championships, May 14-15, at NU's Memorial Stadium.

Some 3,000 seats have been set aside near the finish line, available for Saturday's finals only. The tickets are now available at the NU Ticket Office in the Coliseum.

Also available are All-Sports Day tickets. Those May 8 festivities include the Missouri v. Nebraska dual track meet and a Nebraska varsity intrasquad football game. A baseball game is also slated against Oklahoma in the morning.

Wesleyan Loses Twin Bill; No-Hit Victim In 2nd Game

. . . BUENA VISTA SCORES CONQUEST

Star Sports Writer

Wild pitching, strategic errors and a no-hitter caused Nebraska Wesleyan to drop a doubleheader to Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Iowa, Thursday at Sherman Field by the scores of 7-2 and 5-1.

Buena Vista pitchers Dan Southard and Dennis Anderson teamed up in the second game to throw a no-hitter at the Plainsmen.

Southard, who pitched the first five innings, handcuffed the Wesleyan hitters with a big motion fast ball and a troublesome let-up curve. In his five innings, he struck out 10 Plainsmen batters while walking only two.

Wesleyan's only run in the 5-1 setback came while Buena Vista coach Jay Beeckman was arguing with plate umire George Binger.

With Jim Roark on third, Wesleyan's Dale Pelz took what Buena Vista claimed was a third strike. While Beeckman disputed the point with Binger, Roark' raced across the plate when Beeckman failed to call time out.

Buena Vista scored enough runs to ice the game in the next inning with a four-run five-hit barrage.

Wildness hurt Wesleyan pitcher Jerry Schmutte in the first game. Schmutte walked three and hit three with pitched balls. Buena Vista converted the brief wild spells into four runs in the 7-2 victory.

Schmutte walked lead-off batter Dan Monzon. Monzon stole second and advanced to third when Roark bobbled the ball. He scored on a sacrifice fly.

Dave Wolfe also walked and scored on a double by Arnold Zediker. Zediker crossed the plate on a single by Tom Selim.

Monzon scored again after being hit by a pitch in the fourth. The other three Buena Vista runs in the first game were scored in the third on two hits, another hit batsmen and an error.

The first of Wesleyan's two runs in the first game came in the fourth inning when lead-off hitter Steve Carlson poked a fly into left field and stretched it into a double. He advanced to third on a ground ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Roark.

The other run came in the fifth when Buena Vista shortstop Monzon muffed a ground ball which allowed Ron Wood to reach second. Wood went to third on a grounder and scored on a passed ball by catcher Selim.

Huskers Face Kansas State

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska plays host to Kansas State in a three-game baseball series at the NU diamond today and Saturday with its future in the Big Eight championship race hanging in the balance.

The Huskers, who got off to a strong start with a twin win over Missouri two weeks ago, stumbled and lost two at Colorado last weekend.

The double setback at Boulder left the Huskers with a 3-2 conference mark, tying them for third place with defending champion Missouri. The Tigers meet league-leading Oklahoma State at Stillwater today and Saturday.

Nebraska and Kansas State will play two this afternoon at 1:30 and a single game Saturday at 1 p.m.

A three-game sweep would put coach Tony Sharp's club in a strong challenging position should Missouri and Oklahoma State split their series. However, more than one loss would drop the Huskers into a tough position from which to make a bid for the Big Eight crown.

Mental errors were mainly responsible for the NU difficulties at Colorado and Sharpe hopes these same mistakes won't crop up again this season.

"We made a lot of mental errors running," Sharpe groaned in recalling the Colorado series. "We had runners getting thrown out because they rounded the bases too far. We even had kids falling down."

But the Huskers did get good hitting against the Buffs and the pitching continued to stand up. NU put 29 men on base, but had trouble getting them to touch all four corners.

"We beat ourselves." Sharpe pointed out. "Our hitting was good. The defense and pitching were good. But we made just too many mental mistakes."

Bahnsen is the staff's ERA leader, allowing only 2.08 runs per nine innings. He blanked Missouri in the opening Big Eight series, breaking a 20-game conference win string of the Tigers.

The right-hander from Council Bluffs, Iowa, was effective against the Buffs in the 3-2 loss except for a two-run fifth inning.

Hergenrader, who gained one of the wins against Missouri, picked up his second victory of the campaign with a 4-2 win over Colorado, striking out 10 and giving up only three hits.

Kansas State with a 2-4 record is in a sixth place tie with Colorado in the Big Eight race.

Kearney Ends GI Streak At Three

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Hastings — Kearney ended Grand Island's three-year domination of the Central Nebraska Invitational Track Meet Thursday as it outscored the Islanders, 77½ to 70, in a tight two-team battle for Class A honors.

Imperial captured the Class B crown, Grant ran away with Class C and Axtell won the Class D championship.

The meet was split into two divisions for the first time in the history of the 52-year-old event. But the small schools performers showed that they could have fared well against the Class A and B entries this year.

Two of the six new records established on the hot, still afternoon were chalked up by the Class C and D competitors.

The first of these was established by Grant's Cliff Colglazier, a sophomore who set all the pace and won by a huge margin as he toured the mile in 4:31.3.

It was nearly three seconds faster than the previous record held by Maywood's Warren Christensen, the state record holder in the mile run.

Culbertson's Edd Case became the first Cornhusker prep to dip under two minutes in the 880 as he posted a 1:59.8 in erasing the 15-year-old record owned by Clayton Scott of Grand Island.

Pushing Case, seeking his fourth trip to the state meet, to the record was Edgar's Dave Shuck, who trailed Case by about a yard at the finish and was clocked in 1:59.9.

Bill Daiss, winner of both dashes in the Class C state meet last year, had times of :10.3 and :22.9 in the sprints Thursday, matching the winning marks in the A and B divisions.

Kearney's top performance came from its mile relay quartet of Randy Schroer, Dick Huffman, Ernie Cary and Tom Heinz. The Bearcat foursome turned in a 3:27.9, fastest time reported in the state this year in defeating Grand Island, clocked at 3:30.3.

Other record breakers included Grand Island's Terry Medjo who broke teammate Dennis Schuyler's pole vault record by soaring 12-7; McCook's Bob Best who won the 440 in a state-leading time of :50.5 and Grand Island's Stan Thorpe who logged a :19.7 flight of low hurdles, the fastest mark around a curve reported this season.

Another state leading effort was produced by Hastings which came up with an 8:22.2 two-mile relay mark.

The Hastings runners were Dennis Oelschlager, John Ochsner, Ron Bockerman and Charles Williams. The Tigers led Kearney (8:29.4) and Grand Island (8:34.6) in one of the better distance relay races run thus far.

Imperial's Mike McNair handled the Class A weight men easily, winning the shot put and discus to boost his team to the Class B championship.

KU Thinclads Rap Firing Of Easton

. . . PROTESTS PILE UP

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Kansas University's track team jumped to the defense Thursday of Coach Bill Easton, fired this week after 18 years in the job, as protests also reached Gov. Bill Avery and the State Board of Regents.

In Des Moines, on arriving with the Kansas traveling track squad, Easton said he is willing to negotiate his differences with Wade Stinson, the Kansas athletic director who fired him Tuesday.

"I am here trying to do a job for Kansas at the Drake Relays as I have always tried to do in the past," Easton said. He said he is aware that some Kansas followers plan to make a presentation in his behalf before the regents meeting Friday at Hays.

All 40 members on the track team, including the ones who traveled to Des Moines, signed a statement to news media.

"He was only trying to stand up for us," it said. "We on the inside feel that we are well qualified to make a judgment on this matter. We fear that if Coach Easton goes, so will go the tradition of excellence he has built up..

"He was simply striving to obtain a reasonable budget with which to buy our equipment, pay our scholarships, to enable us to represent our university with pride. Certainly his fight has been anything but a selfish one."

Petitions have been circulated on campus asking that the ouster be rescinded

The track team's statement said a vague and ambiguous charge had been made that Easton was unwilling to follow administrative and financial procedures necessary to the successful functioning of the athletic program.

"It is not humanly possible to run a track team with the budget alloted to Coach Easton and maintain simultaneously his high standards of excellence, standards which all of us hold high as well.

"We have athletes who have been out with injured feet due to inadequate shoes, shoes which must be used because we cannot afford to buy new ones. We are wearing old football running shorts in practice—old hand-me-downs."

UDE REMAINS AS CO-LEADER

St. Paul (AP) — Mike Ward of Morgan, Minn., rolled a 670 series to tie for 10th place in regular singles in the only important change Thursday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Dick Ude of Lincoln and Henry Yager of Aurora, Ill., are tied for first in regular singles with 689.

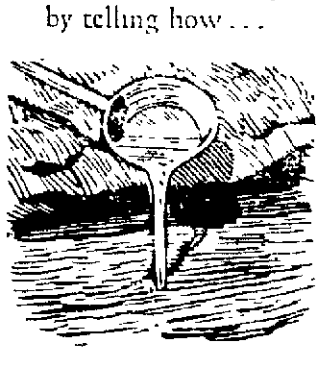
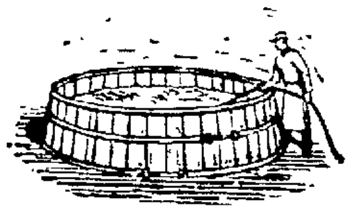
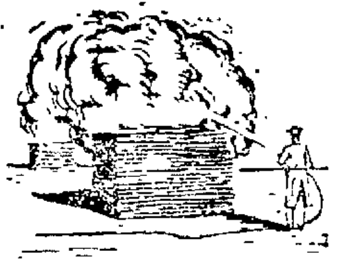
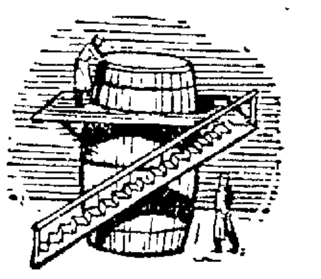
Jack Daniel still guides the making of his Tennessee sippin' whiskey
Old hands in the Hollow never forget the whiskey-making standards laid down by Mr. Jack himself. And we take care to recount them to new generations, step by step. Generally we start by telling how . . .


Jack Daniel found our cool limestone spring nearly a century ago and built our small distillery.


Here he cooked his neighbors' best grains in a mash, let it ferment around 90 hours, and distilled a fine sour-mash whiskey.
Then he gave it an "extra blessing" that made it different from other whiskies. He smoothed it out with Charcoal Mellowing.


That ancient Tennessee process calls for a hard maple tree from high ground. And it has to be rick-burned in the open air.


The special charcoal that results must be ground up fine and packed tightly in vats 10 feet deep. Next, the just-made whiskey is trickled in. What seeps out 10 days later is only the smooth sippin' part, ready for aging.
So you see, Mr. Jack still guides us, for we insist on making our whiskey—and Charcoal Mellowing it—just the way he always did. And after a sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe, you'll agree with our refusal to change.

Kearney Ends GI Streak At Three

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Hastings — Kearney ended Grand Island's three-year domination of the Central Nebraska Invitational Track Meet Thursday as it outscored the Islanders, 77½ to 70, in a tight two-team battle for Class A honors.

Imperial captured the Class B crown, Grant ran away with Class C and Axtell won the Class D championship.

The meet was split into two divisions for the first time in the history of the 52-year-old event. But the small schools performers showed that they could have fared well against the Class A and B entries this year.

Two of the six new records established on the hot, still afternoon were chalked up by the Class C and D competitors.

The first of these was established by Grant's Cliff Colglazier, a sophomore who set all the pace and won by a huge margin as he toured the mile in 4:31.3.

It was nearly three seconds faster than the previous record held by Maywood's Warren Christensen, the state record holder in the mile run.

Culbertson's Edd Case became the first Cornhusker prep to dip under two minutes in the 880 as he posted a 1:59.8 in erasing the 15-year-old record owned by Clayton Scott of Grand Island.

Pushing Case, seeking his fourth trip to the state meet, to the record was Edgar's Dave Shuck, who trailed Case by about a yard at the finish and was clocked in 1:59.9.

Bill Daiss, winner of both dashes in the Class C state meet last year, had times of :10.3 and :22.9 in the sprints Thursday, matching the winning marks in the A and B divisions.

Kearney's top performance came from its mile relay quartet of Randy Schroer, Dick Huffman, Ernie Cary and Tom Heinz. The Bearcat foursome turned in a 3:27.9, fastest time reported in the state this year in defeating Grand Island, clocked at 3:30.3.

Other record breakers included Grand Island's Terry Medjo who broke teammate Dennis Schuyler's pole vault record by soaring 12-7; McCook's Bob Best who won the 440 in a state-leading time of :50.5 and Grand Island's Stan Thorpe who logged a :19.7 flight of low hurdles, the fastest mark around a curve reported this season.

Another state leading effort was produced by Hastings which came up with an 8:22.2 two-mile relay mark.

The Hastings runners were Dennis Oelschlager, John Ochsner, Ron Bockerman and Charles Williams. The Tigers led Kearney (8:29.4) and Grand Island (8:34.6) in one of the better distance relay races run thus far.

Imperial's Mike McNair handled the Class A weight men easily, winning the shot put and discus to boost his team to the Class B championship.

. . . PROTESTS PILE UP

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Kansas University's track team jumped to the defense Thursday of Coach Bill Easton, fired this week after 18 years in the job, as protests also reached Gov. Bill Avery and the State Board of Regents.

In Des Moines, on arriving with the Kansas traveling track squad, Easton said he is willing to negotiate his differences with Wade Stinson, the Kansas athletic director who fired him Tuesday.

"I am here trying to do a job for Kansas at the Drake Relays as I have always tried to do in the past," Easton said. He said he is aware that some Kansas followers plan to make a presentation in his behalf before the regents meeting Friday at Hays.

All 40 members on the track team, including the ones who traveled to Des Moines, signed a statement to news media.

"He was only trying to stand up for us," it said. "We on the inside feel that we are well qualified to make a judgment on this matter. We fear that if Coach Easton goes, so will go the tradition of excellence he has built up..

"He was simply striving to obtain a reasonable budget with which to buy our equipment, pay our scholarships, to enable us to represent our university with pride. Certainly his fight has been anything but a selfish one."

Petitions have been circulated on campus asking that the ouster be rescinded.

The track team's statement said a vague and ambiguous charge had been made that Easton was unwilling to follow administrative and financial procedures necessary to the successful functioning of the athletic program.

"It is not humanly possible to run a track team with the budget alloted to Coach Easton and maintain simultaneously his high standards of excellence, standards which all of us hold high as well.

"We have athletes who have been out with injured feet due to inadequate shoes, shoes which must be used because we cannot afford to buy new ones. We are wearing old football running shorts in practice—old hand-me-downs."

UDE REMAINS AS CO-LEADER

St. Paul (AP) — Mike Ward of Morgan, Minn., rolled a 670 series to tie for 10th place in regular singles in the only important change Thursday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Dick Ude of Lincoln and Henry Yager of Aurora, Ill., are tied for first in regular singles with 689.

Jack Daniel still guides the making of his Tennessee sippin' whiskey

Old hands in the Hollow never forget the whiskey-making standards laid down by Mr. Jack himself. And we take care to recount them to new generations, step by step. Generally we start by telling how . . .

Jack Daniel found our cool limestone spring nearly a century ago and built our small distillery.

Here he cooked his neighbors' best grains in a mash, let it ferment around 90 hours, and distilled a fine sour-mash whiskey.

Then he gave it an "extra blessing" that made it different from other whiskies. He smoothed it out with Charcoal Mellowing.

That ancient Tennessee process calls for a hard maple tree from high ground. And it has to be rick-burned in the open air.

The special charcoal that results must be ground up fine and packed tightly in vats 10 feet deep. Next, the just-made whiskey is trickled in. What seeps out 10 days later is only the smooth sippin' part, ready for aging.

So you see, Mr. Jack still guides us, for we insist on making our whiskey—and Charcoal Mellowing it—just the way he always did. And after a sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe, you'll agree with our refusal to change.

Federal Reserve Aides Evaluate U.S. Economy

An evaluation of the current business situation the 1965 farm picture and a discussion of the United States balance of payments deficit were discussed by three Federal Reserve economists during an economic forum for Lincoln area bankers Thursday.

Billington

Wilbur T Billington said the sustained expansion of the economy since 1961 is important because of its duration. new records and insights gained in understanding economic growth and policy

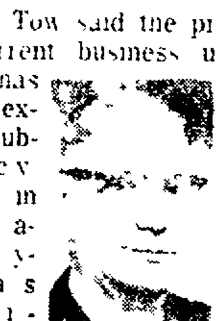
Present price stability is the result of new resourses being combined with production growth. he said. A labor force increasing at 1 5 million new jobs each year during the next year will present a challenge to economic growth and stability Billington said

Doll

Ray Doll said agricultural conditions will remain unchanged with assets and production expenses both reaching new highs while the number of farm and quantity of labor need decline

Thus the number of dollars needed by an individual to finance and operate a farm is increasing at a rapid rate He pointed out that for each dollar needed to finance farm assets and production in 1950 three dollars are needed in 1964

To finance these increasing capital requirements, farmers are using more credit Aggregate farm debt in the United States increased from $10 3 billion in 1950 to $33 3 billion in 1964



Tow

Clarence Tow said the prolonged current business upswing has called for expanding public policy The deficit in international payments has complicated growth-promoting monetary policy Tow explained

The payments deficit can be attributed to this nation's world leadership. The problem arises because the American dollar is a reserve currency in the world as a supplement to gold and an international currency

The Federal Reserve money policy is designed to maintain credit expansion in this country and also bolster short-term interest rates to the level of other countries. thereby cutting the gold outflow.

LASER RAY COULD SEND MAIL, TV

One coast-to-coast laser beam could handle all telephone calls television and radio programs and send all first class mail Dr Herbert Trotter said at the final session of the Nebraska Telephone Association convention Thursday

Trotter, vice president of educational communications of the General Telephone and Electronics Corp. of New York, said a person could could mail a letter in New York City that would be on its way to San Francisco before the sender got out of the Post Office.

In certain atmospheric conditions laser beams used for commercial communications would have to be transmitted through a tube This problem plus cost means the beams won't be used commercially until 1975 or 1980. Trotter said

In outer space. which is free of such conditions the laser beam could be used freely. the physicist said

Laser beams are used to a limited extent now in medicine and a 30-pound unit is also now available that can measure distances.

The convention also adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of the 10% federal excise tax on telephone service which dates back to World War II

The resolution said the tax is discriminatory because other utilities are not taxed More than 500 people attended the three-day convention.

MUD Plan Hit As Water Diversion

Claims that a proposed Omaha Metropolitan Utilities District water well field on the Platte River south of Omaha would result in water diversion Thursday were aired during the second day of a hearing on MUD's application to establish the field.

"There's no doubt this has developed into a water diversion case," said Omaha attorney Charles Reed, representing the Bellevue Rod and Gun Club, one of the objectors to the MUD application.

He contended that since the well field would be recharged by Platte River water, it would, in effect, be water diversion

Vincent H Dreeszen assistant director of the conservation and survey division of the University of Nebraska, disagreed with Reed

In Watershed

He said the proposed well field site and the Omaha area where the water would be pumped are both in the Missouri River watershed.

State law prohibits diversion of water from one watershed to another

Objectors to the MUD application, including 24 land owners, the Sarpy County Board of Commissioners, three businesses and the rod and gun club, also claimed that the field would lower water tables and reduce Platte River flow.

State Water Resources Director Dan Jones, who must give MUD permission before the field can be established, continued the hearing to May 3.

34-Well Field

MUD hopes to establish the 35-well field on a 600-acre site on the north bank of the Platte about seven miles south of the Omaha stockyards

More than $16 million in facilities including a treatment plant, pumping machinery and extensive pipeline, would be constructed in connection with the field, which MUD says would have a capacity of about 60 million gallons of water a day.

EXAMINER OKS MERGER

Washington (AP)— A Power Commission examiner ruled Thursday in favor of a proposed merger of Western Light & Telephone Co, Inc, Great Bend, Kan, and Western Power & Gas Co., Lincoln, Neb The new firm would be known as Western Power & Gas Co, Inc.

Examiner Harry W. Frazee said the proposed merger differs from the usual such proposal since the two utilities have had no operational relationship with each other and their nearest reasonable junction points are about 150 miles apart.

Western Light distributes electric energy in 33 counties in central and southwestern Kansas and wholesales electricity to 13 municipalities and 12 cooperatives It also provides telephone service in Kansas, Iowa and Missouri, and natural gas and water service in Kansas

Westgas distributes electricity in 43 communities and wholesales it to two municipalities and an association of cooperatives in seven Colorado counties. It also operates natural gas distribution properties in Nebraska and South Dakota

State GOP Leadership Hit At Hearing On Open Primary

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska Republican Party leadership was sharply criticized by two state senators Thursday during a legislative hearing on a bill which would create a wide-open presidential primary in the state and provide for election of all delegates of national political conventions.

The measure, LB164, sponsored by Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln and co-signed by six other senators, was heard by the Government and Military Affairs Committee and held for later action.

Opposing the bill were GOP State Chairman Walter Witthoff of Fremont and National Committeeman Don Ross of Omaha.

The bill won endorsement, by letter, from Gov. Frank Morrison who was out of the state.

5-Time Delegate

Attacks on GOP leadership were mounted by Stromer, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Charles Reed of Bellevue, who has been a delegate to five Republican national conventions.

LB14 would provide for:

—placing on the presidential primary ballot the names of all persons nationally recognized as candidates, as determined by the secretary of state. Stromer proposed an amendment to allow withdrawal of persons who sign statements that they do not plan to be a candidate.

—election of all delegates, including three from each congressional district. District delegates are elected now, but at-large delegates are selected at state party conventions.

—inclusion on the primary ballot next to the names of delegate candidates their presidential preference. Elected delegates would be pledged to support their preference until released by him, until he receives less than 35% of the vote cast at the national convention or until two convention nominating ballots have been completed.

Stromer said the bill, patterned after Oregon statutes, would "give Nebraskans a chance to become acquainted with presidential candidates."

Would Correct 'Mistake'

It would also, he said, correct the "mistake" he made in 1963 when he successfully sponsored legislation to permit state party conventions to select at-large delegates.

The result, Stromer said, was "deplorable and ridiculous," referring to the GOP state convention which chose delegates pledged to support Sen. Barry Goldwater despite the fact that Goldwater failed to win half of Nebraska's Republican presidential primary vote

LB164 would "broaden political participation and support . . . and break up the inner sanctum of intrigue within the parties," Stromer argued.

Carpenter said the Nebraska Republican Party "doesn't belong to the people of this state; it belongs to the relatively few"

Whatever the party has been doing in Nebraska, "it ought to change it," Carpenter said, for "it hasn't worked." He cited four successive gubernatorial losses and predicted that another may be forthcoming in 1966 along with a U S. Senate defeat

Morrison's statement said the most important provision is for voter selection of all delegates, permitting "individual voters (to) have the most direct voice possible in the selection of his party's presidential nominee"

Witthoff said the party would like "an opportunity to put our own house in order" through party constitutional changes. If it fails to act, the Legislature can enact such a law in 1967 prior to the next presidential election, he noted.

Ross said the party does not object to an all-star presidential primary, but opposes the election of all delegates because they tend to be chosen on a name-recognition basis instead of for service to the party.

Also heard and held was LB573, proposing a constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to provide for membership on the Board of Pardons and Paroles

The constitution now names the governor, the attorney general and the secretary of state as members

Supporting the bill, sponsored by Sen. John Knight of Lincoln, were Atty. Gen Clarence Meyer, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, the Lancaster County Bar Association, the Nebraska Welfare Association, and a spokesman for the Nebraska State Bar Association There was no opposing testimony.

AG INTERESTS SPLIT ON RESEARCH PLAN

Farm interests split Thursday on a bill that would take control of the state's agriculture research efforts from the State Agriculture Department and place it in the hands of a new Nebraska agricultural and industrial research institute.

Dr. Donald Hanway, chairman of the University of Nebraska's Agronomy Department, said the measure provides for "organization and assignment of responsibilities to insure a sound research program and efficient expenditure of state funds."

On the other hand, Elton Berck, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, contended the bill would establish "a top heavy and unwieldy research mechanism"

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee deferred action on the measure, LB807, introduced by Lincoln Sen. John Knight, after receiving more than two hours of testimony

The bill would establish divisions of agricultural and industrial research under the control of a 19-member council with its work financed through the present one-tenth mill agricultural research levy. The levy annually produces about $350,000.

"Agriculture and industry are going to have to work together more and more in Nebraska," said Sen Knight, "and this bill would go a long way toward accomplishing that end"

He was joined by the Nebraska Bankers Association, the Nebraska Farm Bureau, the Associated Industries of Nebraska, the state and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce, and a number of farmers and ranchers

Lloyd Hoppner, representing the Department of Agriculture, said the bill "would only create more bureaucracy"

"We are still in our infancy" he said "We have problems, but we have accomplished great things with limited funds"

Former State Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, introducer of the bill five years ago that set up the present agriculture research program, said the Legislature would lose control of Nebraska's state research efforts if LB807 were passed.

Several members of the Agriculture Department's Agriculture Products Research Fund Committee which administers the present program, the National Farmers Organization and the Merrick County Agriculture Committee also opposed the measure.

The committee received testimony but took no action on another bill, Norfolk Sen. S H Brauer's LB287, which would remove Madison County land from the state's brand inspection area.

State GOP Leadership Hit At Hearing On Open Primary

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska Republican Party leadership was sharply criticized by two state senators Thursday during a legislative hearing on a bill which would create a wide-open presidential primary in the state and provide for election of all delegates of national political conventions.

The measure, LB164, sponsored by Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln and co-signed by six other senators, was heard by the Government and Military Affairs Committee and held for later action.

Opposing the bill were GOP State Chairman Walter Witthoff of Fremont and National Committeeman Don Ross of Omaha.

5-Time Delegate

Attacks on GOP leadership were mounted by Stromer, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Charles Reed of Bellevue, who has been a delegate to five Republican national conventions.

LB14 would provide for:

—placing on the presidential primary ballot the names of all persons nationally recognized' as candidates, as determined by the secretary of state. Stromer proposed an amendment to allow withdrawal of persons who sign statements that they do not plan to be a candidate.

—election of all delegates, including three from each congressional district. District delegates are elected now, but at-large delegates are selected at state party conventions.

—inclusion on the primary ballot next to the names of delegate candidates their presidential preference. Elected delegates would be pledged to support their preference until released by him, until he receives less than 35% of the vote cast at the national convention or until two convention nominating ballots have been completed.

Stromer said the bill, patterned after Oregon statutes, would "give Nebraskans a chance to become acquainted with presidential candidates."

Would Correct 'Mistake'

It would also, he said, correct the "mistake" he made in 1963 when he successfully sponsored legislation to permit state party conventions to select at-large delegates.

The result, Stromer said, was "deplorable and ridiculous," referring to the GOP state convention which chose delegates pledged to support Sen. Barry Goldwater despite the fact that Goldwater failed to win half of Nebraska's Republican presidential primary vote.

LB164 would "broaden political participation and support . . . and break up the inner sanctum of intrigue within the parties," Stromer argued.

Carpenter said the Nebraska Republican Party "doesn't belong to the people of this state; it belongs to the relatively few."

Whatever the party has been doing in Nebraska, "it ought to change it," Carpenter said, for "it hasn't worked." He cited four successive gubernatorial losses and predicted that another may be forthcoming in 1966 along with a U.S. Senate defeat.

Morrison's statement said the most important provision is for voter selection of all delegates, permitting "individual voters (to) have the most direct voice possible in the selection of his party's presidential nominee."

Witthoff said the party would like "an opportunity to put our own house in order" through party constitutional changes. If it fails to act, the Legislature can enact such a law in 1967 prior to the next presidential election, he noted.

Ross said the party does not object to an all-star presidential primary, but opposes the election of all delegates because they tend to be chosen on a name-recognition basis instead of for service to the party.

Also heard and held was LB573, proposing a constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to provide for membership on the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

The constitution now names the governor, the attorney general and the secretary of state as members.

Supporting the bill, sponsored by Sen. John Knight of Lincoln, were Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, the Lancaster County Bar Association, the Nebraska Welfare Association, and a spokesman for the Nebraska State Bar Association. There was no opposing testimony.

AG INTERESTS SPLIT ON RESEARCH PLAN

Farm interests split Thursday on a bill that would take control of the state's agriculture research efforts from the State Agriculture Department and place it in the hands of a new Nebraska agricultural and industrial research institute.

Dr. Donald Hanway, chairman of the University of Nebraska's Agronomy Department, said the measure provides for "organization and assignment of responsibilities to insure a sound research program and efficient expenditure of state funds."

On the other hand, Elton Berck, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, contended the bill would establish "a top heavy and unwieldy research mechanism."

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee deferred action on the measure, LB807, introduced by Lincoln Sen. John Knight, after receiving more than two hours of testimony.

The bill would establish divisions of agricultural and industrial research under the control of a 19-member council with its work financed through the present one-tenth mill agricultural research levy. The levy annually produces about $350,000.

"Agriculture and industry are going to have to work together more and more in Nebraska," said Sen. Knight, "and this bill would go a long way toward accomplishing that end."

He was joined by the Nebraska Bankers Association, the Nebraska Farm Bureau, the Associated Industries of Nebraska, the state and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce, and a number of farmers and ranchers.

Lloyd Hoppner, representing the Department of Agriculture, said the bill "would only create more bureaucracy."

"We are still in our infancy," he said. "We have problems, but we have accomplished great things with limited funds."

Former State Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, introducer of the bill five years ago that set up the present agriculture research program, said the Legislature would lose control of Nebraska's state research efforts if LB807 were passed.

Several members of the Agriculture Department's Agriculture Products Research Fund Committee which administers the present program, the National Farmers Organization and the Merrick County Agriculture Committee also opposed the measure.

The committee received testimony but took no action on another bill, Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer's LB287, which would remove Madison County land from the state's brand inspection area.

Accused Killers Free; Grand Jury Raps LBJ

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—Three white men indicted on first degree murder charges in the slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker from Detroit, Mich., surrendered to Sheriff Mel Bailey Thursday.

The three—Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala., and Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala.—posted $10,000 bond each and were released.

The Lowndes County Grand Jury returned the indictments Thursday at Hayneville. The cases will go on the docket for the next term of circuit court which begins May 3.

Language Same

The indictments charged that each man "unlawfully and with malice aforethought killed Viola Gregg Liuzzo by shooting her with a pistol." The language was identical in each of the three indictments.

Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, mother of five and the wife of a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death in her car near Lowndesboro, Ala., the night of March 25. She had taken part in the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

She was shot from a passing car on U.S. 80, the same route taken by the civil rights marchers.

Mrs. Liuzzo had driven some marchers from Montgomery back to Selma and was returning to Montgomery for more when a gunshot slammed into her head. Her car careened off the highway into a fence.

Rider Hitchhiked

President Johnson, whom the grand jury criticized, announced the arrest the next day of four white men whom he described as members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The three arrested Thursday also were indicted by a federal grand jury on civil rights charges, but the fourth—Gary Thomas Rowe, 34, of Birmingham—was not indicted. He subsequently appeared as a witness before the county grand jury.

Resentful

The jurors expressed resentment over actions of civil rights groups that came into Lowndes and neighboring counties to dramatize demands for equal rights for Negroes.

The 18 grand jurors are white.

The written report to Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard deplored "the actions and statements of the President and others in high government places in connection with" Mrs. Liuzzo's death.

"We feel that these actions and statements have been unjust and unfair and have created undue and unusual problems in this matter," the report declared.

Newsmen Rapped

The grand jury also criticized news media which, it said, "by their actions and attitudes have also contributed additional problems."

It commended Lowndes County residents "for the fine manner in which they have conducted themselves during these trying days."

During its three-day investigation, the grand jury questioned Rowe, Moton and state and federal agents who worked on the Liuzzo case.

The New York Times said Rowe, former operator of a bar in Birmingham, has been paid as an undercover agent for the FBI since 1959, working inside the KKK. Federal officials have declined comment.

Deposit Insurance Set As Credit Union Topic

Deposit guarantee insurance for credit unions will be discussed at the 31st Nebraska Credit Union League convention Friday afternoon.

Wayne Bornemeier, the association's managing director, said up to now the Nebraska group has been opposed to the insurance but some members now seem to favor it.

Those opposed to the insurance say that the losses, amounting to less than one-fourth of one per cent, are lower than the cost of administering the insurance would be.

May Be Necessary

Proponents argue that recent trends showing bankruptcy increases indicate that the insurance may be necessary.

Dr. Walter Polner, research director for Credit Union National Association, will lead the discussion on the deposit insurance.

Bornemeier said any action the group might take would be in the form of a resolution. He noted that Nebraska records dating back as far as 1939 show credit unions have always paid 100 cents on the dollar.

Last year credit unions in Nebraska had record increases in both assets and members. Assets at the end of 1964 totaled $64,606,698 compared to $49,968,999 for 1963.

Membership increased from 99,397 for 1963 to 104,957 in 1964. Nebraska now has 168 credit unions, according to Bornemeier.

Friday morning Bill McKenzie of CUNA Mutual Insurance will speak and Saturday morning Terrence Weldon of Milwaukee will talk about collections and delinquency controls.

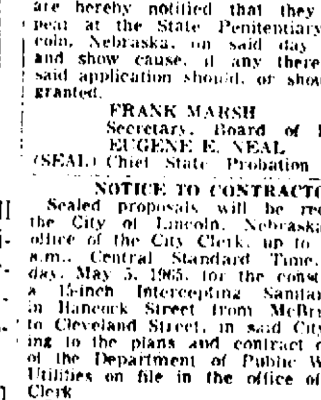
Officers will be elected after the business session Saturday afternoon. Dr. Frank Court of Denver, former St. Paul Methodist Church pastor, will speak at the Saturday night banquet.

Bornemeier said the association expects LB414 which reenacts the Nebraska Credit Union Act of 1943, setting the maximum interest rate at 12%, to be passed by the Legislature.

About 400 credit union directors and officials will be attending the meeting which ends Saturday.

Peterkin Will Give Arbor Day Address Sunday

Nebraska City—Daniel Peterkin Jr., president of Morton Salt Company, Chicago, will be the principal speaker at the 93rd annual Arbor Day observance to be held here Sunday.



Peterkin

The program will be staged at the Sterling Morton Arbor Lodge, beginning at 2:30 p.m. In addition to Peterkin's speech, the program will feature Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, wife of Nebraska's governor, singing "Trees." A parade precedes the formal program.

A reception and luncheon for visiting dignitaries will be held at Steinhart Lodge at noon.

Accused Killers Free; Grand Jury Raps LBJ

Birminghan, Ala. (AP)—Three white men indicted on first degree murder charges in the slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker from Detroit, Mich., surrendered to Sheriff Mel Bailey Thursday.

The three—Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala., and Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala.—posted $10,000 bond each and were released.

The Lowndes County Grand Jury returned the indictments Thursday at Hayneville. The cases will go on the docket for the next term of circuit court which begins May 3.

Language Same

The indictments charged that each man "unlawfully and with malice aforethought killed Viola Gregg Liuzzo by shooting her with a pistol." The language was identical in each of the three indictments.

Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, mother of five and the wife of a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death in her car near Lowndesboro, Ala., the night of March 25. She had taken part in the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

She was shot from a passing car on U.S. 80, the same route taken by the civil rights marchers.

Mrs. Liuzzo had driven some marchers from Montgomery back to Selma and was returning to Montgomery for more when a gunshot slammed into her head. Her car careened off the highway into a fence.

Rider Hitchhiked

A Selma Negro, 19-year-old Leroy Moton, was in the car. He escaped injury and reported the slaying after hitchhiking back to Selma.

President Johnson, whom the grand jury criticized, announced the arrest the next day of four white men whom he described as members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The three arrested Thursday also were indicted by a federal grand jury on civil rights charges, but the fourth—Gary Thomas Rowe, 34, of Birmingham—was not indicted. He subsequently appeared as a witness before the county grand jury.

Resentful

The jurors expressed resentment over actions of civil rights groups that came into Lowndes and neighboring counties to dramatize demands for equal rights for Negroes.

The 18 grand jurors are white.

The written report to Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard deplored "the actions and statements of the President and others in high government places in connection with" Mrs. Liuzzo's death.

"We feel that these actions and statements have been unjust and unfair and have created undue and unusual problems in this matter," the report declared.

Newsmen Rapped

The grand jury also criticized news media which, it said, "by their actions and attitudes have also contributed additional problems."

It commended Lowndes County residents "for the fine manner in which they have conducted themselves during these trying days."

During its three-day investigation, the grand jury questioned Rowe, Moton and state and federal agents who worked on the Liuzzo case.

The New York Times said Rowe, former operator of a bar in Birmingham, has been paid as an undercover agent for the FBI since 1959, working inside the KKK. Federal officials have declined comment.

Deposit Insurance Set As Credit Union Topic

Deposit guarantee insurance for credit unions will be discussed at the 31st Nebraska Credit Union League convention Friday afternoon.

Wayne Bornemeier, the association's managing director, said up to now the Nebraska group has been opposed to the insurance but some members now seem to favor it.

Those opposed to the insurance say that the losses, amounting to less than one-fourth of one per cent, are lower than the cost of administering the insurance would be.

May Be Necessary

Proponents argue that recent trends showing bankruptcy increases indicate that the insurance may be necessary.

Dr. Walter Polner, research director for Credit Union National Association, will lead the discussion on the deposit insurance.

Bornemeier said any action the group might take would be in the form of a resolution. He noted that Nebraska records dating back as far as 1939 show credit unions have always paid 100 cents on the dollar.

Last year credit unions in Nebraska had record increases in both assets and members. Assets at the end of 1964 totaled $64,606,698 compared to $49,968,999 for 1963.

Membership increased from 99,397 for 1963 to 104,957 in 1964. Nebraska now has 168 credit unions, according to Bornemeier.

Friday morning Bill McKenzie of CUNA Mutual Insurance will speak and Saturday morning Terrence Weldon of Milwaukee will talk about collections and delinquency controls.

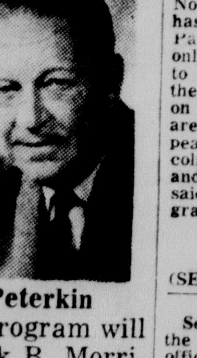
Officers will be elected after the business session Saturday afternoon. Dr. Frank Court of Denver, former St. Paul Methodist Church pastor, will speak at the Saturday night banquet.

Bornemeier said the association expects LB414 which reenacts the Nebraska Credit Union Act of 1943, setting the maximum interest rate at 12%, to be passed by the Legislature.

About 400 credit union directors and officials will be attending the meeting which ends Saturday.

Peterkin Will Give Arbor Day Address Sunday

Nebraska City—Daniel Peterkin Jr., president of Morton Salt Company, Chicago, will be the principal speaker at the 93rd annual Arbor Day observance to be held here Sunday.



Peterkin

The program will be staged at the Sterling Morton Arbor Lodge, beginning at 2:30 p.m. In addition to Peterkin's speech, the program will feature Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, wife of Nebraska's governor, singing "Trees." A parade precedes the formal program.

A reception and luncheon for visiting dignitaries will be held at Steinhart Lodge at noon.

Stocks Climb Despite Steel Strike Threat

New York (AP) — The stock market ignored more ominous rumblings of a steel strike Thursday and again advanced to record highs. Trading was active.

Some major steelmakers yielded fractions but the rest of the list put on a vigorous performance. Although the United Steelworkers Union voted to strike May 1 to back up its demands for an 18-cent-an-hour contract package, the feeling in Wall Street was that President Johnson "would not let it happen."

The market appeared to shrug off intensified fears of Red Chinese intervention in Viet Nam, although selective strength was shown by aerospace defense issues.

Big Three motors advanced. The most outstanding showing was made by the international oils. Record quarterly earnings reported by Texaco a couple of days ago brought new vigor to this group.

The market benefitted in general from a continued parade of higher earnings and dividends.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index advanced .43 to a record closing high of 88.[illegible]

Of 1,380 issues traded, 667 rose and 464 fell. New highs for the year totaled 132 and new lows 16.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was the most active issue for the third straight session. Unlike the previous two sessions when it fell sharply on news of the suit brought by the Securities & Exchange Commission on charges of insider stock transactions, Texas Gulf advanced ½ to 66¼ on 124,000 shares. Reports from the company's annual meeting in Houston not only told of higher sales and earnings but contained official denials of any wrongdoing.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, four fell and two were unchanged.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.12 million shares compared with 2.22 million Wednesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds edged higher.

Grain Market Is Steady To Weak

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market showed very little resistance to light selling pressure Thursday and it closed steady to weak with losses running to 3 cents a bushel in old crop soybeans.

All wheat and rye deliveries traded at or near their season lows without showing any sign of rallying support. However, wheat finished mostly unchanged with the May contract down a major fraction.

Moderate gains boosted most oats contracts to within fractions of their season highs.

Soybeans finished ½-3⅛ cents a bushel lower, May $2.99⅝-¾; wheat unchanged to ⅝ lower, May $1.48⅞; corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $1.33¼; oats ⅜-⅝ higher, May 72⅞ cents; rye ¾-1⅜ lower, May $1.17¾.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Texas Widow Asks About Investing Husband's Estate

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A Texas widow, with three children, writes that her late husband's estate consisted almost entirely of life insurance.

Rukeyser

Under the terms of the policy, the widow and her three children, aged from 11 to 16, will receive monthly payments for 20 years. The remaining two-thirds of the policy proceeds is available in a lump sum.

My correspondent writes: "I would like to live on the monthly payments plus interest on the other two-thirds, if possible. I know a little about the stock market, enough at least, to know that I can't afford to trust my own judgment or be speculative in any way."

Such caution is healthy. It recalls the interpretation which the late Secretary of the Treasury Andrew M. Mellon gave to me immediately after the stock market panic in October 1929. The Pittsburgher said: "People risk what they have and need for what they don't have and don't need."

Obviously this family unit needs the greatest amount of certainty that can be achieved in an uncertain world. Accordingly, a substantial sum should be put in fixed dollar commitments. The reader speaks of insurance interest payments at the annual rate of 2½%. This is, of course, the contractual guaranteed minimum rate. The company will pay more if earnings warrant, and most companies are paying substantially more on participating policies.

The lady asks whether she should put part of the free funds in blue chip stocks, or let a bank set up a trust for her, or take the advice of a stock broker. Prudence suggests dependence on qualified professional counsel. For large funds, this can be obtained on a fee basis from investment counsel firms. For smaller sums, it is feasible to buy mutual fund shares which are sponsored by investment counsel firms. A list has been sent by mail.

Another alternative is to invest in common trust funds operated by banks and trust companies. A list of such funds is published by TRUSTS & ESTATES, 205 East 42 Street, New York, N.Y.

Still another procedure would be to create a living trust with a dynamic fiduciary institution. The instrument for this could be drawn by your attorney in such a way that at the death of the maker it could be transformed into a testamentary trust for the benefit of the woman's children.

Q. A reader in Oakland, Cal.—A reader in his seventies is anxious to protect his wife who has "no sense of handling money."

A. This situation can best be handled by setting up a trust fund, and letting the trustee exercise discretion, with the right to invade principal if necessary to provide for the care and comfort of the spouse. Since the husband is getting older, he might want to start out with a living trust for himself, which could be transformed into a testamentary trust if he should predecease his spouse. It is suggested that the inquirer get background by reading books on estate building, including Rene A. Wormser's "Guide to Estate Planning" and "Your Will and What Not To Do About It."

Q. A reader in Columbia, Mo. writes that he has been buying a fund with an 8% load. He wants to know about "no load" funds.

The load is only one factor to consider. If you are in a good fund and have already paid the load, there is no reason why you should not retain your holdings. The "no load" funds, operated primarily as a sideline by investment counsel firms, enable newcomers to join without paying an entrance fee.

Q. A 72 year old San Francisco reader, with a wife, asks how to minimize estate taxes when the couple has passed on. He states that most of his funds are in fixed dollars. He asks whether to be generous in giving gifts to children while alive.

A. You have no hedge against inflation except your residential real estate. You would appear to be overbalanced in this direction. Certainly it would add to the quality of your fund to sell one of the two residences and put the proceeds in good equities, or mutual funds. You don't state how large your pensions are. My advice is to give youself and your wife a margin of safety in retaining assets to allow for emergencies and financial changes. If you make a joint tax return, you are legally permitted to make a life time tax free gift of $60,000 and annual gifts of $6,000 per recipient.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Klotz Quits Post

Washington (AP) — Herbert W. Klotz, assistant secretary of commerce who profited from a tip on a Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s ore discovery in Canada, has resigned, it was announced Thursday.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor said Klotz's resignation has been accepted by President Johnson.

Klotz was mentioned in an action filed last Monday by the Securities and Exchange Commission against officials of the company.

The SEC charged that the officials covered up the fact that the company had made a rich ore strike in Canada and they then bought stock before the official announcement of the discovery.

Klotz was not named as a defendant.

Klotz said Wednesday he had no contact with Texas Gulf officials and knew nothing about the ore discovery and that he acted on a tip from a secretary in the commerce department. He said he was told only that the company had good prospects.

By buying an option on 2,000 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur stock, Klotz had a prospective profit of about $14,600 some two weeks after the purchase.

Stocks Climb Despite Steel Strike Threat

New York (AP) — The stock market ignored more ominous rumblings of a steel strike Thursday and again advanced to record highs. Trading was active.

Some major steelmakers yielded fractions but the rest of the list put on a vigorous performance. Although the United Steelworkers Union voted to strike May 1 to back up its demands for an 18-cent-an-hour contract package, the feeling in Wall Street was that President Johnson "would not let it happen."

The market appeared to shrug off increased fears of Red Chinese intervention in Viet Nam, although selective strength was shown by aerospace defense issues. All Big Three motors advanced. The most outstanding showing was made by the international oils. Record quarterly earnings reported by Texaco a couple of days ago brought new vigor to this group.

The market benefitted in general from a continued parade of higher earnings and dividends.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 4.35 to a record 915.06, topping its previous closing peak of 912.86 made April 14.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index advanced .48 to a record closing high of 88.78.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained below its previous record as it advanced .8 to 339.0, with industrials up 2.2 to a record high, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

Of 1,380 issues traded, 667 rose and 464 fell. New highs for the year totaled 132 and new lows 16.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was the most active issue for the third straight session. Unlike the previous two sessions when it fell sharply on news of the suit brought by the Securities & Exchange Commission on charges of insider stock transactions, Texas Gulf advanced ½ to 66¼ on 124,000 shares. Reports from the company's annual meeting in Houston not only told of higher sales and earnings but contained official denials of any wrongdoing.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, four fell and two were unchanged.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.42 million shares compared with 2.22 million Wednesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds edged higher.

Grain Market Is Steady To Weak

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market showed very little resistance to light selling pressure Thursday and it closed steady to weak with losses running to 3 cents a bushel in old crop soybeans.

All wheat and rye deliveries traded at or near their season lows without showing any sign of rallying support. However, wheat finished mostly unchanged with the May contract down a major fraction.

Moderate gains boosted most oats contracts to within fractions of their season highs.

Soybeans finished ½-3⅛ cents a bushel lower, May $2.99⅝-¼; wheat unchanged to ⅝ lower, May $1.48⅞; corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $1.33¼; oats ⅜-⅝ higher, May 72⅞ cents; rye ¾-1⅜ lower, May $1.17¾.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Texas Widow Asks About Investing Husband's Estate

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A Texas widow, with three children, writes that her late husband's estate consisted almost entirely of life insurance.

Rukeyser

Under the terms of the policy, the widow and her three children, aged from 11 to 16, will receive monthly payments for 20 years. The remaining two-thirds of the policy proceeds is available in a lump sum.

My correspondent writes: "I would like to live on the monthly payments plus interest on the other two-thirds, if possible. I know a little about the stock market, enough at least, to know that I can't afford to trust my own judgment or be speculative in any way."

Such caution is healthy. It recalls the interpretation which the late Secretary of the Treasury Andrew M. Mellon gave to me immediately after the stock market panic in October 1929. The Pittsburgher said: "People risk what they have and need for what they don't have and don't need."

Obviously this family unit needs the greatest amount of certainty that can be achieved in an uncertain world. Accordingly, a substantial sum should be put in fixed dollar commitments. The reader speaks of insurance interest payments at the annual rate of 2½%. This is, of course, the contractual guaranteed minimum rate. The company will pay more if earnings warrant, and most companies are paying substantially more on participating policies.

The lady asks whether she should put part of the free funds in blue chip stocks, or let a bank set up a trust for her, or take the advice of a stock broker. Prudence suggests dependence on qualified professional counsel. For large funds, this can be obtained on a fee basis from investment counsel firms. For smaller sums, it is feasible to buy mutual fund shares which are sponsored by investment counsel firms. A list has been sent by mail.

Another alternative is to invest in common trust funds operated by banks and trust companies. A list of such funds is published by TRUSTS & ESTATES, 205 East 42 Street, New York, N.Y.

Still another procedure would be to create a living trust with a dynamic fiduciary institution. The instrument for this could be drawn by your attorney in such a way that at the death of the maker it could be transformed into a testamentary trust for the benefit of the woman's children.

Q. A reader in Oakland, Cal.—A reader in his seventies is anxious to protect his wife who has "no sense of handling money."

A. This situation can best be handled by setting up a trust fund, and letting the trustee exercise discretion, with the right to invade principal if necessary to provide for the care and comfort of the spouse. Since the husband is getting older, he might want to start out with a living trust for himself, which could be transformed into a testamentary trust if he should predecease his spouse. It is suggested that the inquirer get background by reading books on estate building, including Rene A. Wormser's "Guide to Estate Planning" and "Your Will and What Not To Do About It."

Q. A reader in Columbia, Mo. writes that he has been buying a fund with an 8% load. He wants to know about "no load" funds.

The load is only one factor to consider. If you are in a good fund and have already paid the load, there is no reason why you should not retain your holdings. The "no load" funds, operated primarily as a sideline by investment counsel firms, enable newcomers to join without paying an entrance fee.

Q. A 72 year old San Francisco reader, with a wife, asks how to minimize estate taxes when the couple has passed on. He states that most of his funds are in fixed dollars. He asks whether to be generous in giving gifts to children while alive.

A. You have no hedge against inflation except your residential real estate. You would appear to be overbalanced in this direction. Certainly it would add to the quality of your fund to sell one of the two residences and put the proceeds in good equities, or mutual funds. You don't state how large your pensions are. My advice is to give youself and your wife a margin of safety in retaining assets to allow for emergencies and financial changes. If you make a joint tax return, you are legally permitted to make a life time tax free gift of $60,000 and annual gifts of $6,000 per recipient.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Klotz Quits Post

Washington (AP) — Herbert W. Klotz, assistant secretary of commerce who profited from a tip on a Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s ore discovery in Canada, has resigned, it was announced Thursday.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor said Klotz's resignation has been accepted by President Johnson.

Klotz was mentioned in an action filed last Monday by the Securities and Exchange Commission against officials of the company.

The SEC charged that the officials covered up the fact that the company had made a rich ore strike in Canada and they then bought stock before the official announcement of the discovery.

Klotz was not named as a defendant.

Klotz said Wednesday he had no contact with Texas Gulf officials and knew nothing about the ore discovery and that he acted on a tip from a secretary in the commerce department. He said he was told only that the company had good prospects.

By buying an option on 2,000 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur stock, Klotz had a prospective profit of about $14,600 some two weeks after the purchase.

Bomb Burns Woman Kneeling In Cathedral

New York (AP)—A man hurled a Molotov cocktail at the main altar of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral Thursday night, and it exploded amid a small group of worshipers kneeling at the altar rail. One woman was burned in the fiery blast.

The man, described as in his late 20s, lit the device and without warning threw it from a fourth row pew. Then he raced out a side door of the church, leaving behind his blue hat and a second, unexploded cocktail in a shopping bag.

The bottled gas bomb exploded in flames at the head of the church's main aisle. It fell 20 feet short of the altar, and damage was confined to the cushioning of the kneeling bench at the rail.

There were about 100 persons quietly at prayer in the church at the time.

Second Incident

It was the second incident within the midtown cathedral in less than a week. On Good Friday, services were disrupted when a former mental patient threw a concrete block through a glass case containing a life-sized statue of Pope Pius XII.

The statue was not damaged, and the man was seized.

St. Patrick's, one of New York's architectural show places, is on the east side of Fifth Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets, across from Rockefeller Center.

Hand, Leg Burns

Injured in the St. Patrick's blast was Mrs. Emma Reyes, 47. She was taken to St. Clare's Hospital in fair condition, with burns of the legs and hands.

Mrs. Reyes was one of five persons kneeling before the altar. Fellow-worshipers used their own coats to try to beat out flames, and ripped her blazing coat from her body.

As fire apparatus and ambulances sped through heavy traffic to the cathedral, the reek of fire and fumes spread through the high, vaulted church. The cathedral was cleared of worshipers and large fans used to clear the air.

Publishers Re-Elect Robb

New York (AP) — Gene Robb, publisher of the Albany, N.Y., Times-Union and Knickerbocker News, was elected Thursday to a second one-year term as president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association at its convention here.

After a panel discussion on newspaper coverage of crime, market data was discussed by Lester A. Walker of the Fremont, Neb., Tribune.

Appointment of parallel committees to strengthen cooperation between newspapers and journalism schools was announced. Among the journalism schools committeemen was Dr. William E. Hall, director of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism.

Senate Okays Raborn As CIA Director

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday confirmed the nomination of William F. (Red) Raborn Jr., the retired admiral who masterminded development of the Polaris missile system, as new director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

The Senate acted by voice vote, without dissent, less than an hour after its armed services committee approved Raborn as successor to retiring John A. McCone.

Also unanimously approved by the committee was Richard M. Helms, 52, a veteran cloak-and-dagger man, to be Raborn's deputy director. Helms is a former newspaperman who began his intelligence career in 1943 in the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The Senate did not act immediately on Helms' nomination.

As CIA director, Raborn also will be chairman of the U.S. Intelligence Board, which evaluates all intelligence reports — from the military as well as the CIA. Thus he will be chief of the entire U.S. intelligence effort upon which the government relies for its highest security decisions.

$40 Loss Reported In Station Break-In

Mall Plan Offered For South Omaha

Omaha (UPI) — A $30,000 plan for a shopping mall in the heart of South Omaha was unfurled here Thursday.

The report was presented by City Planning Director Alden F. Aust, Larry Snail of his staff, and Laex Morrar, Jr., economist.

South Omaha paid $10,000 on the proposal with the city of Omaha paying the balance.

The plan calls for:

—A retail core bounded by L and P, 23rd and 25th streets. Twenty-fourth street would be closed between L and P streets and M, N, O, and P streets would be eliminated between 23rd and 25th streets.

—The central mall would link major retailers between M and O streets. Financial institutions would comprise the north end and an entertainment center, supermarket and apartments the south.

—The mall and shopping buildings would be surrounded by parking. There would be "loops" into the mall for bus service.

—Apartment houses would be built in areas to the north, east and south.

Morrar said if there is no action program in South Omaha there will be a dramatic decline in sales because of competition from other shopping centers; poor traffic circulation and other factors.

He added if the plan is developed, retail sales will increase $2-million.

Marine Patrol Draws First Viet Cong Blood

By EDDIE ADAMS

Binh Thai, Viet Nam (AP)—The roll of drums echoed along the valley.

"The Viet Cong know you are coming," said the Vietnamese officer. "They want the women and children to come in this direction as a human shield. The drums are the alarm."

Lt. Gary Krause of Nanuet, N.Y., grinned broadly.

"We'll show them we're here," he said.

Krause was with a 41-man U.S. Marine Corps reconnaissance group that moved down one of the valleys leading to Marine-occupied Hill 327 outside Da Nang Thursday morning.

The eight-hour patrol penetrated several miles into the countryside. They had contact twice with the Viet Cong. The operation included the first helicopter assault landing of U.S. Marines in South Viet Nam.

"I want to re-enlist for another six months after this," one Marine PFC shouted to his comrades after this village objective was taken.

For Defense

This type of eagerness pervaded the whole operation, an action aimed at further securing the defenses of Da Nang Air Base.

The U.S. Marines along with 30 Vietnamese infantrymen moved south of Da Nang by truck early in the morning on a joint patrol. Then they moved ahead on foot.

Six civilian Vietnamese were with them for civic action work. In reserve at Da Nang were one U.S. Marine infantry company, 10 Marine helicopters, one Marine artillery battalion and two Marine Phantom attack jets.

To Analyze

"Our mission is to analyze the terrain and VC (Viet Cong)," said the reconnaissance company commander, Capt. Pat Collins of Grosse Ile, Mich.

Two hours after starting off at 8:20 a.m., bursts of automatic weapons fire could be heard in the distance and then came the beat of the drums.

At 8:35 a.m., a Marine scout ran back from a forward position and said four men were moving toward the Marines.

Jumps Into Bushes

Sgt. Albert Kihlstrom of Worcester, Mass., saw somebody jump into the bushes ahead. He and three scouts moved up front to check.

Villages in the valley had been saturated with communist leaflets which said "Americans go home" and "The Americans are here to kill you."

At 9:10, a Vietnamese peasant said many Viet Cong guerrillas were only 500 yards ahead behind a mine field and had been there since Wednesday positioning themselves.

Surrounded

Within 30 minutes the Marines were told through interpreters that the Viet Cong apparently were gathered all around them.

At 10:15, the first shooting began as one round of sniper fire came into the forward elements of the Marines. No one was hit.

Ten minutes later machine gun fire opened up from three directions and the Marines were virtually pinned down for 30 minutes. However they inched forward slowly from one rice filled dike to another toward the tree line of Binh Thai village, a Viet Cong-fortified hamlet.

Suggests Assault

Kihlstrom conferred with a Marine lieutenant, Carmine del Grossi of The Bronx, N.Y., and suggested the Marines assault the tree line. Del Grossi concurred, and he leaped to his feet, waving his pistol and 41 Marines charged.

As they reached the ridge line, the Viet Cong were fleeing.

One young Marine shouted to Collins: "Sir, I see them, I see them, let's chase them."

But Collins ordered the Marines to stay with the group at the village objective.

Eagle Flight

At 10:45 a.m. a helicopter eagle flight of U.S. Marine troops was brought into the area in support. It was the first time U.S. Marine troops had been flown into combat in South Viet Nam.

Just two minutes after they landed the Marines took their first casualty when a radioman was hit in the back of the head by a sniper's bullet.

The radioman's platoon commander, Lt. William van Kac of East Patterson, N.J., cradled the radioman in his arms while Kihlstrom gave him water. The wounded Marine was taken out in a helicopter and later was reported in good condition.

Village Occupied

The Marine force occupied the village at 11:55 a.m.

One hour later they had light sniper contact with the Viet Cong, but no further Marines casualties were reported. The U.S. Marines moved back to Da Nang.

Just before they got the order to return, Del Grossi reported back to his command post: "Well, sir, all troops accounted for, and everyone has a big smile on his face."

Lincoln Woman Treated For Cuts

Sharon Neill, 25, of 6042 Adams was treated at Bryan Memorial Hospital Thursday for shock and lacerations to her hands after she accidentally cut herself Thursday noon.

Police said Mrs. Neill was opening a window at her home when her hand slipped and went through the window. She fainted and apparently went into light shock.

Bomb Burns Woman Kneeling In Cathedral

New York (AP)—A man hurled a Molotov cocktail at the main altar of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral Thursday night, and it exploded amid a small group of worshipers kneeling at the altar rail. One woman was burned in the fiery blast.

The man, described as in his late 20s, lit the device and without warning threw it from a fourth row pew. Then he raced out a side door of the church, leaving behind his blue hat and a second, unexploded cocktail in a shopping bag.

The bottled gas bomb exploded in flames at the head of the church's main aisle. It fell 20 feet short of the altar, and damage was confined to the cushioning of the kneeling bench at the rail.

There were about 100 persons quietly at prayer in the church at the time.

Second Incident

It was the second incident within the midtown cathedral in less than a week. On Good Friday, services were disrupted when a former mental patient threw a concrete block through a glass case containing a life-sized statue of Pope Pius XII.

The statue was not damaged, and the man was seized.

St. Patrick's, one of New York's architectural show places, is on the east side of Fifth Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets, across from Rockefeller Center.

Hand, Leg Burns

Injured in the St. Patrick's blast was Mrs. Emma Reyes, 47. She was taken to St. Clare's Hospital in fair condition, with burns of the legs and hands.

Mrs. Reyes was one of five persons kneeling before the altar. Fellow-worshipers used their own coats to try to beat out flames, and ripped her blazing coat from her body.

As fire apparatus and ambulances sped through heavy traffic to the cathedral, the reek of fire and fumes spread through the high, vaulted church. The cathedral was cleared of worshipers and large fans used to clear the air.

Publishers Re-Elect Robb

New York (AP) — Gene Robb, publisher of the Albany, N.Y., Times-Union and Knickerbocker News, was elected Thursday to a second one-year term as president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association at its convention here.

After a panel discussion on newspaper coverage of crime, market data was discussed by Lester A. Walker of the Fremont, Neb., Tribune.

Appointment of parallel committees to strengthen cooperation between newspapers and journalism schools was announced. Among the journalism schools committeemen was Dr. William E. Hall, director of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism.

Senate Okays Raborn As CIA Director

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday confirmed the nomination of William F. (Red) Raborn Jr., the retired admiral who masterminded development of the Polaris missile system, as new director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

The Senate acted by voice vote, without dissent, less than an hour after its armed services committee approved Raborn as successor to retiring John A. McCone.

Also unanimously approved by the committee was Richard M. Helms, 52, a veteran cloak-and-dagger man, to be Raborn's deputy director. Helms is a former newspaperman who began his intelligence career in 1943 in the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The Senate did not act immediately on Helms' nomination.

As CIA director, Raborn also will be chairman of the U.S. Intelligence Board, which evaluates all intelligence reports — from the military as well as the CIA. Thus he will be chief of the entire U.S. intelligence effort upon which the government relies for its highest security decisions.

$40 Loss Reported In Station Break-In

Police report that burglars stole approximately $40 in cash and merchandise from Swede's Standard Service, 2628 Holdrege, Thursday morning.

The intruders broke a window to gain entry. The thieves took some change and a tire, and forced open a vending machine.

By EDDIE ADAMS

Binh Thai, Viet Nam (AP)—The roll of drums echoed along the valley.

"The Viet Cong know you are coming," said the Vietnamese officer. "They want the women and children to come in this direction as a human shield. The drums are the alarm."

Lt. Gary Krause of Nanuet, N.Y., grinned broadly.

"We'll show them we're here," he said.

Krause was with a 41-man U.S. Marine Corps reconnaissance group that moved down one of the valleys leading to Marine-occupied Hill 327 outside Da Nang Thursday morning.

The eight-hour patrol penetrated several miles into the countryside. They had contact twice with the Viet Cong. The operation included the first helicopter assault landing of U.S. Marines in South Viet Nam.

"I want to re-enlist for another six months after this," one Marine PFC shouted to his comrades after this village objective was taken.

For Defense

This type of eagerness pervaded the whole operation, an action aimed at further securing the defenses of Da Nang Air Base.

The U.S. Marines along with 30 Vietnamese infantrymen moved south of Da Nang by truck early in the morning on a joint patrol. Then they moved ahead on foot.

Six civilian Vietnamese were with them for civic action work. In reserve at Da Nang were one U.S. Marine infantry company, 10 Marine helicopters, one Marine artillery battalion and two Marine Phantom attack jets.

To Analyze

"Our mission is to analyze the terrain and VC (Viet Cong)," said the reconnaissance company commander, Capt. Pat Collins of Grosse Ile, Mich.

Two hours after starting off at 8:20 a.m., bursts of automatic weapons fire could be heard in the distance and then came the beat of the drums.

At 8:35 a.m., a Marine scout ran back from a forward position and said four men were moving toward the Marines.

Jumps Into Bushes

Sgt. Albert Kihlstrom of Worcester, Mass., saw somebody jump into the bushes ahead. He and three scouts moved up front to check.

Villages in the valley had been saturated with communist leaflets which said "Americans go home" and "The Americans are here to kill you."

At 9:10, a Vietnamese peasant said many Viet Cong guerrillas were only 500 yards ahead behind a mine field and had been there since Wednesday positioning themselves.

Surrounded

Within 30 minutes the Marines were told through interpreters that the Viet Cong apparently were gathered all around them.

At 10:15, the first shooting began as one round of sniper fire came into the forward elements of the Marines. No one was hit.

Ten minutes later machine gun fire opened up from three directions and the Marines were virtually pinned down for 30 minutes. However they inched forward slowly from one rice filled dike to another toward the tree line of Binh Thai village, a Viet Cong-fortified hamlet.

Suggests Assault

Kihlstrom conferred with a Marine lieutenant, Carmine del Grossi of The Bronx, N.Y., and suggested the Marines assault the tree line. Del Grossi concurred, and he leaped to his feet, waving his pistol and 41 Marines charged.

As they reached the ridge line, the Viet Cong were fleeing.

One young Marine shouted to Collins: "Sir, I see them, I see them, let's chase them."

But Collins ordered the Marines to stay with the group at the village objective.

Eagle Flight

At 10:45 a.m. a helicopter eagle flight of U.S. Marine troops was brought into the area in support. It was the first time U.S. Marine troops had been flown into combat in South Viet Nam.

Just two minutes after they landed the Marines took their first casualty when a radioman was hit in the back of the head by a sniper's bullet.

The radioman's platoon commander, Lt. William van Kac of East Patterson, N.J., cradled the radioman in his arms while Kihlstrom gave him water. The wounded Marine was taken out in a helicopter and later was reported in good condition.

Village Occupied

The Marine force occupied the village at 11:55 a.m.

One hour later they had light sniper contact with the Viet Cong, but no further Marines casualties were reported. The U.S. Marines moved back to Da Nang.

Just before they got the order to return, Del Grossi reported back to his command post; "Well, sir, all troops accounted for, and everyone has a big smile on his face."

Lincoln Woman Treated For Cuts

Sharon Neill, 25, of 6042 Adams was treated at Bryan Memorial Hospital Thursday for shock and lacerations to her hands after she accidentally cut herself Thursday noon.

Police said Mrs. Neill was opening a window at her home when her hand slipped and went through the window. She fainted and apparently went into light shock.

Nebraskans Die In Florida Crash

Crystal River, Fla. (UPI)—Three persons were killed Thursday in a three-car accident on U.S. 19 just south of here.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Barbara Holland, 47, of Crystal River, Lloyd W. Durell, 63, of Fullerton, Neb., and his wife Helen, 62.

Mrs. Holland was a reporter for the Sun Coast Sentinel here.

Mall Plan Offered For South Omaha

Omaha (UPI) — A $30,000 plan for a shopping mall in the heart of South Omaha was unfurled here Thursday.

The report was presented by City Planning Director Alden F. Aust, Larry Snail of his staff, and Laex Morrar, Jr., economist.

South Omaha paid $10,000 on the proposal with the city of Omaha paying the balance.

The plan calls for:

—A retail core bounded by L and P, 23rd and 25th streets. Twenty-fourth street would be closed between L and P streets and M, N, O, and P streets would be eliminated between 23rd and 25th streets.

—The central mall would link major retailers between M and O streets. Financial institutions would comprise the north end and an entertainment center, supermarket and apartments the south.

—The mall and shopping buildings would be surrounded by parking. There would be "loops" into the mall for bus service.

—Apartment houses would be built in areas to the north, east and south.

Morrar said if there is no action program in South Omaha there will be a dramatic decline in sales because of competition from other shopping centers: poor traffic circulation and other factors.

He added if the plan is developed, retail sales will increase $2-million.

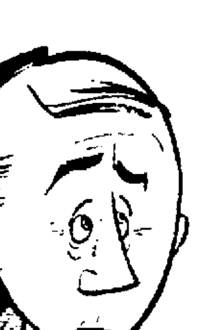
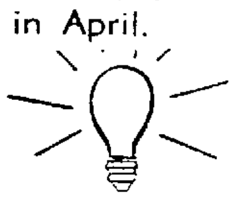
WE . . . thought of having a "Spring Sale." But we didn't have enough "Spring."



WE . . . thought of having a 'Winter Clearance' But that's ridiculous in April.



Then it happened!!

Someone said, "Let's have a 'Spring—Pre-Summer — Clean-up — Wholesale — Clearance — Special Purchase — Ridiculous — Vacation Special . . . Sale'!!"

Well, after we got rid of him, we decided that after 35 years of dependable service this wasn't necessary. So we're just listing some of

CLEAN, RECONDITIONED AND REASONABLY PRICED USED CARS!

LOOK these over, take 'em to a mechanic of your choice, talk to the previous owners. You can't go wrong.

WE . . . thought of having a "Spring Sale." But we didn't have enough "Spring."

WE . . . thought of having a 'Winter Clearance' But that's ridiculous in April.

Then it happened!!

Someone said, "Let's have a 'Spring—Pre-Summer — Clean-up — Wholesale — Clearance — Special Purchase — Ridiculous — Vacation Special . . . Sale'!!"

Well, after we got rid of him, we decided that after 35 years of dependable service this wasn't necessary. So we're just listing some of

CLEAN, RECONDITIONED AND REASONABLY PRICED USED CARS!

LOOK these over, take 'em to a mechanic of your choice, talk to the previous owners. You can't go wrong.
